WAC 388-01-060 How can an individual request a public record? (1) An individual can request a public record orally or in writing. DSHS encourages that all public record requests be in writing on a "request for disclosure of DSHS records" form, DSHS 17-041(X). Individuals may request this form from DSHS, Forms and Records Management Services, P.O. Box 45805, Olympia, WA 98504-5805, (360) 664-6120, or e-mail at DSHSFormsRecordsMgmt@dshs.wa.gov.

(2) If the form is not used, the written public record request should include the following information:

(a) The requester's name, organization, mailing address, telephone number, fax number, and e-mail address;

(b) The date of the request;

(c) A detailed description of the public record being requested;

(d) The address where copies of the record are to be mailed, or if the requester wants to examine the record at DSHS; and

(3) An individual can fill out a record request at a DSHS office, or send it by regular mail, electronic mail, or fax to the public disclosure coordinator at the appropriate DSHS office.

(4) DSHS may ask an individual requesting a public record for personal identification when the law makes a record disclosable to a specific person.

Contact the public disclosure coordinator in the appropriate office to arrange a time to examine the public record.

(2) In order to preserve the record or prevent interference in the performance of departmental duties, DSHS reserves the right to restrict an individual's ability to examine or copy public records. This does not prevent DSHS from providing copies of the public record by mail.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 42.17.250 and 34.05.220. 99-15-065, § 388-01-080, filed 7/19/99, effective 8/19/99.]

(c) Determine whether the information requested is exempt and whether all or part of the public record requested can be released; and/or

(1) Petition the public disclosure coordinator to release the public record before the date indicated on DSHS response (see WAC 388-01-090); or

(2) File a lawsuit in superior court to require DSHS to release the public record.

Contact DSHS to obtain a petition form (DSHS 17-062(X)) at: DSHS Forms and Records Management Services, P.O. Box 45805, Olympia, WA 98504-5805, (360) 664-6120, or e-mail DSHSFormsRecordsMgmt@dshs.wa.gov. DSHS has two business days after receiving the petition to respond. If DSHS upholds the denial, the decision is considered final; or

(2) Ask the office of the attorney general to review the public record request.

(a) Send a copy of the denied public record request and the DSHS written denial to:

Office of Attorney General Public Records Review

(a) DSHS must establish that its denial of a public record is legal.

(b) If the DSHS denial is reversed, the court may require DSHS to pay costs and attorney fees. DSHS may be fined five dollars to one hundred dollars a day for each day they denied the public record.

388-02-0535 Who may ask for a change in a decision? [Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0535, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.] Repealed by 02-21-061, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211.

GENERAL

WAC 388-02-0005 What is the purpose and scope of this chapter? This chapter describes the general procedures that apply to the resolution of disputes between you and the various programs within the department of social and health services (DSHS). The rules of this chapter are intended to supplement for DSHS both the Administrative Procedure Act (APA), chapter 34.05 RCW, and the model rules, chapter 10-08 WAC, adopted by the office of administrative hearings (OAH).

(1) This chapter:

(a) Establishes rules encouraging informal dispute resolution between DSHS and persons or entities who disagree with its actions;

(b) Regulates all hearings involving DSHS; and

(c) Consolidates most DSHS hearing procedural rules into one chapter.

(2) Nothing in this chapter is intended to affect the constitutional rights of any person or to limit or change additional requirements imposed by statute or other rule. Other laws or rules determine if you have a hearing right, including the APA and DSHS program rules or laws.

(3) Specific DSHS program hearing rules prevail over the rules in this chapter.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0005, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

"Final order" means an order that is the final DSHS decision.

(2005 Ed.)

For purposes of this chapter, hearings include administrative hearings, adjudicative proceedings, and any other similar term referenced under chapter 34.05 RCW, the Administrative Procedure Act, Title 388 of the Washington Administrative Code, chapter 10-08 WAC, or other law.

"Mail" means placing the document in the mail with the proper postage.

"OAH" means the office of administrative hearings, a separate state agency from DSHS.

"Party" means a person or entity:

(1) Named in a DSHS action;

(2) To whom a DSHS action is directed; or

(3) Allowed to participate in a hearing to protect an interest as authorized by law or rule.

(4) DSHS is also a party.

"Prehearing conference" means a proceeding scheduled and conducted by an ALJ in preparation for a hearing.

"Prehearing meeting" means an informal voluntary meeting that may be held before any prehearing conference or hearing.

"Program" means a DSHS organizational unit and the services that it provides, including services provided by DSHS staff and through contracts with providers. Organizational units include, but are not limited to, administrations and divisions.

WAC 388-02-0020 What does good cause mean? (1)

Good cause is a substantial reason or legal justification for failing to appear, to act, or respond to an action. To show good cause, the ALJ must find that a party had a good reason for what they did or did not do, using the provisions of Superior Court Civil Rule 60 as a guideline.

(2) Good cause may include, but is not limited to, the following examples.

(a) You ignored a notice because you were in the hospital or were otherwise prevented from responding; or

(b) You could not respond to the notice because it was written in a language that you did not understand.

(b) If the last day of the period ends on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, the deadline is the next business day.

(c) For periods of seven days or less, count only business days. For example, if you have seven days to respond to a review request that was mailed to you on Friday, May 10, the response period ends on Tuesday, May 21.

PROOF

WAC 388-02-0475 What evidence does an ALJ consider? (1) The ALJ may only consider admitted evidence to decide the case.

(2) Admission of evidence is based upon the reasonable person standard. This standard means evidence that a reasonable person would rely on in making a decision.

(3) The ALJ may admit and consider hearsay evidence. Hearsay is a statement made outside of the hearing used to prove the truth of what is in the statement. The ALJ may only base a finding on hearsay evidence if the ALJ finds that the parties had the opportunity to question or contradict it.

(4) The ALJ may reject evidence, if it:

- (a) Is not relevant;

- (b) Repeats evidence already admitted; or
- (c) Is from a privileged communication protected by law.
- (5) The ALJ must reject evidence if required by law.
- (6) The ALJ decides:

- (a) What evidence is more credible if evidence conflicts;
and
- (b) The weight given to the evidence.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0475, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0480 What does burden of proof mean? The party who has the burden of proof is the party who has the responsibility to provide evidence to persuade the ALJ that a position is correct.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0480, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0485 What is the standard of proof? Standard of proof refers to the amount of evidence needed to prove a party's position. Unless the rules or law states otherwise, the standard of proof in a hearing is a preponderance of the evidence. This standard means that it is more likely than not that something happened or exists.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0485, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0490 How is a position proven at hearing? The ALJ decides if a party has met the burden of proof. The ALJ writes a decision based on the evidence presented during the hearing and consistent with the law.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0490, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0495 What is equitable estoppel? (1) Equitable estoppel is a legal doctrine defined in case law that may prevent DSHS from taking some action against you, such as collecting an overpayment.

(2) There are five elements of equitable estoppel. The standard of proof is clear and convincing evidence. You must prove all of the following:

(a) DSHS made a statement or took action or failed to take action, which is inconsistent with a later claim or position by DSHS. For example, DSHS gave you money based on your application, then later tells you that you received an overpayment and wants you to pay the money back based on the same information.

(b) You relied on DSHS' original statement, action or failure to act. For example, you believed DSHS acted correctly when you received money.

(c) You will be injured to your detriment if DSHS is allowed to contradict the original statement, action or failure to act. For example, you did not seek help from health clinics or food banks because you were receiving benefits from DSHS and you would have been eligible for these other benefits.

(d) Equitable estoppel is needed to prevent a manifest injustice. For example, you cannot afford to repay the money to DSHS, and you gave DSHS timely and accurate information when required but did not know that DSHS made a mistake.

(e) The exercise of government functions is not impaired. For example, the overpayment was not your fault and it was caused solely by a DSHS mistake.

(3) If the ALJ concludes that you have proven all of the elements of equitable estoppel in subsection (2) of this section with clear and convincing evidence, DSHS is stopped or prevented from taking action or enforcing a claim against you.

RECORD CLOSURE

WAC 388-02-0500 What may an ALJ do before the record is closed? Before the record is closed, the ALJ may:

- (1) Set another hearing date;
- (2) Enter orders to address limited issues if needed before writing and mailing a hearing decision to resolve all issues in the proceeding; or
- (3) Give the parties more time to send in exhibits or written argument.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0500, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0505 When is the record closed? The record is closed:

- (1) At the end of the hearing if the ALJ does not allow more time to send in evidence or argument; or
- (2) After the deadline for sending in evidence or argument is over.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0505, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0510 What happens when the record is closed? No more evidence may be taken without good cause after the record is closed.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0510, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

HEARING DECISIONS

WAC 388-02-0515 What happens after the record is closed? (1) After the record is closed, the ALJ must write a hearing decision and send copies to the parties.

(2) The maximum time an ALJ has to send a decision is ninety calendar days after the record is closed, but many DSHS programs have earlier deadlines. Specific program rules may set the deadlines.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0515, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0520 What information must the ALJ include in the decision? The ALJ must include the following information in the decision:

- (1) Identify the hearing decision as a DSHS case;
- (2) List the name and docket number of the case and the names of all parties and representatives;
- (3) Find the facts used to resolve the dispute based on the hearing record;
- (4) Explain why evidence is credible when the facts or conduct of a witness is in question;

[Title 388 WAC—p. 165]

- (5) State the law that applies to the dispute;
- (6) Apply the law to the facts of the case in the conclusions of law;
- (7) Discuss the reasons for the decision based on the facts and the law;
- (8) State the result and remedy ordered;
- (9) Explain how to request changes in the decision and the deadlines for requesting them;
- (10) State the date the decision becomes final according to WAC 388-02-0525; and
- (11) Include any other information required by law or DSHS program rules.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, 00-18-059, § 388-02-0520, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0524 In what cases does the ALJ enter the hearing decision as an initial order? The ALJ must enter the hearing decision as an initial order in cases set forth in WAC 388-02-0215(4).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211, 02-21-061, § 388-02-0524, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, 00-18-059, § 388-02-0525, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0525 When do initial orders become final? If no one requests review of the initial order or if a review request is dismissed, the initial order is final twenty-one calendar days after it is mailed.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211, 02-21-061, § 388-02-0525, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, 00-18-059, § 388-02-0525, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0527 In what cases does the ALJ enter the hearing decision as a final order? In cases not covered by WAC 388-02-0215(4), the ALJ must enter the hearing decision as a final order.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211, 02-21-061, § 388-02-0527, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02.]

WAC 388-02-0530 What if a party disagrees with the ALJ's decision? (1) If a party disagrees with an ALJ's initial or final order because of a clerical error, the party may ask for a corrected decision from the ALJ as provided in WAC 388-02-0540 through 388-02-0555.

(2) If a party disagrees with an initial order for a case listed in WAC 388-02-0215(4) and wants it changed, the party must request review by BOA as provided in WAC 388-02-0560 through 388-02-0595.

If a party wants to stay the DSHS action until review of the initial order is completed, the party must request a stay from a review judge.

(3) Final orders may not be reviewed by BOA.

(4) If a party disagrees with an ALJ's final order, the party may request reconsideration as provided in WAC 388-02-0605 through 388-02-0635. You may also petition for judicial review of the final order as stated in WAC 388-02-0640 through 388-02-0650. You do not need to file a request for reconsideration of the final order before petitioning for judicial review. DSHS may not request judicial review.

CLERICAL ERRORS IN ALJ DECISIONS

WAC 388-02-0540 How are clerical errors in ALJ decisions corrected? (1) A clerical error is a mistake that does not change the intent of the decision.

(2) The ALJ corrects clerical errors in hearing decisions by issuing a second decision referred to as a corrected decision or corrected order. Corrections may be made to initial orders and final orders.

(3) Some examples of clerical error are:

(a) Missing or incorrect words or numbers;

(b) Dates inconsistent with the decision or evidence in the record such as using May 3, 1989, instead of May 3, 1998; or

(c) Math errors when adding the total of an overpayment or a child support debt.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211, 02-21-061, § 388-02-0540, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, 00-18-059, § 388-02-0540, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0545 How does a party ask for a corrected ALJ decision? (1) A party may ask for a corrected ALJ decision by calling or writing the OAH office that held the hearing.

(2) When asking for a corrected decision, please identify the clerical error you found.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211, 02-21-061, § 388-02-0545, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, 00-18-059, § 388-02-0545, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0550 How much time do the parties have to ask for a corrected ALJ decision? The parties must ask OAH for a corrected decision on or before the tenth calendar day after the order was mailed.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211, 02-21-061, § 388-02-0550, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, 00-18-059, § 388-02-0550, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0555 What happens when a party requests a corrected ALJ decision? (1) When a party requests a corrected initial or final order, the ALJ must either:

(a) Send all parties a corrected order; or

(b) Deny the request within three business days of receiving it.

(2) If the ALJ corrects an initial order and a party does not request review, the corrected initial order becomes final twenty-one calendar days after the original initial order was mailed.

(3) If the ALJ denies a request for a corrected initial order for a case listed in WAC 388-02-0215(4) and the party still wants the hearing decision changed, the party must request review from BOA.

(4) Requesting a corrected initial order for a case listed in WAC 388-02-0215(4) does not automatically extend the deadline to request review of the initial order by BOA. A party may ask for more time to request review when needed.

(5) If the ALJ denies a request for a corrected final order and you still want the hearing decision changed, you must request judicial review.

REQUESTS FOR BOA REVIEW OF INITIAL ORDERS FOR CASES LISTED IN WAC 388-02-0215(4)

WAC 388-02-0560 What is review? (1) Review occurs when a party disagrees or wants a change in an initial order, other than correcting a clerical error.

(2) A party must request review of an initial order for a case listed in WAC 388-02-0215(4) from the BOA.

(3) The review judge considers the request, the initial order, and record, before deciding if the initial order may be changed.

(4) Review does not include another hearing by the BOA.

(5) BOA may not review final orders.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211. 02-21-061, § 388-02-0560, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0560, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0565 What evidence does the review judge consider in a decision? (1) The review judge, in most cases, only considers evidence given at the original hearing.

(2) The review judge may allow the parties to make oral argument on review.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0565, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0570 Who may request review? (1) Any party may request BOA to review an initial order for a case listed in WAC 388-02-0215(4).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211. 02-21-061, § 388-02-0570, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0570, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0575 What must a party include in the review request? A party must make the review request in writing and clearly identify the:

(1) Parts of the initial order with which the party disagrees; and

(2) Evidence supporting the party's position.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211. 02-21-061, § 388-02-0575, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0575, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

(2005 Ed.)

(2) A review judge may extend the deadline if a party:

(a) Asks for more time before the deadline expires; and

(b) Gives a good reason for more time.

(3) A review judge may accept a review request after the twenty-one calendar day deadline only if:

(a) The BOA receives the review request on or before the thirtieth calendar day after the deadline; and

(b) A party shows good reason for missing the deadline.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211. 02-21-061, § 388-02-0580, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0580, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

(1) A party must send a request to review a case listed in WAC 388-02-0215(4) to BOA at the address given in WAC 388-02-0030. A party should also send a copy of the review request to the other parties.

(2) After receiving a party's review request, BOA sends a copy to the other parties, OAH, and representatives giving them time to respond.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211. 02-21-061, § 388-02-0585, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0585, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0590 How does a party respond to the review request? (1) A party does not have to respond to the review request. A response is optional.

(2) If a party responds, that party must send the response so that BOA receives it on or before the seventh business day after the date the review request was mailed to the party by BOA.

(3) The party must send a copy of the response to any other party or representative.

(4) If a party needs more time to respond, the party must contact BOA by the deadline in subsection (2) of this section and give a good reason.

(5) A review judge may accept and consider a party's response even if it is received after the deadline.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0590, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

(2) A review judge is assigned to the review after the record is closed. To find out which judge is assigned, call BOA.

(3) After the record is closed, the assigned review judge:

(a) Reviews the case; and

(b) Enters a final order that affirms, changes, dismisses or reverses the initial order; or

(c) Remands (returns) the case to OAH for further action.

REVIEW JUDGES

WAC 388-02-0600 What is the authority of the review judge? (1) A review judge may only review the cases listed in WAC 388-02-0215(4). A review judge has the same decision-making authority as an ALJ in the following cases, but must consider the ALJ's opportunity to observe the witnesses:

- (a) Licensing, certification and related civil fines;
- (b) Rate-making proceedings; and
- (c) Parent address disclosure.

(2) In all other cases, a review judge may only change the hearing decision if:

(a) There are irregularities, including misconduct of a party or misconduct of the ALJ or abuse of discretion by the ALJ, that affected the fairness of the hearing;

(b) The findings of fact are not supported by substantial evidence based on the entire record;

(c) The decision includes errors of law;

(d) The decision needs to be clarified before the parties can implement it; or

(e) Findings of fact must be added because the ALJ failed to make an essential factual finding. The additional findings must be supported by substantial evidence in view of the entire record and must be consistent with the ALJ's findings that are supported by substantial evidence based on the entire record.

(3) Review judges have the authority to enter final orders for the cases listed in WAC 388-02-0215(4).

(4) Review judges may remand cases listed in WAC 388-02-0215(4) to the ALJ for further action.

REQUESTS FOR RECONSIDERATION OF FINAL ORDERS ENTERED BY OAH AND BOA

WAC 388-02-0605 What if a party does not agree with a final order entered by OAH or BOA? (1) If a party does not agree with the final order and wants it reconsidered, the party must:

(a) Ask the ALJ to reconsider the decision, if the final order was entered by an ALJ; or

(b) Ask the review judge to reconsider the decision, if the final order was entered by a review judge.

(2) The final order or the reconsideration decision is the final agency decision. If you disagree with that decision, you must petition for judicial review to change it.

(3) You may ask the court to stay or stop the DSHS action after filing the petition for judicial review.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211. 02-21-061, § 388-02-0605, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0605, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0610 What is reconsideration? (1)

Reconsideration is:

(a) Asking an ALJ to reconsider a final order entered by the ALJ because the party believes the ALJ made a mistake; and

(b) Asking a review judge to reconsider a final order entered by a review judge because the party believes the review judge made a mistake.

(2) If a party asks for reconsideration of the final order, the reconsideration process must be completed before you request judicial review. However, you do not need to request reconsideration of a final order before you request judicial review.

WAC 388-02-0615 What must a party include in the reconsideration request? The party must make the request in writing and clearly state why the party wants the final order reconsidered.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020, chapter 34.05 RCW, Parts IV and V, 2002 c 371 § 211. 02-21-061, § 388-02-0615, filed 10/15/02, effective 11/15/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.020. 00-18-059, § 388-02-0615, filed 9/1/00, effective 10/2/00.]

WAC 388-02-0620 What is the deadline for requesting reconsideration? (1) If OAH entered the final order, OAH must receive a written reconsideration request on or before the tenth calendar day after the final order was mailed.

(2) If BOA entered the final order, BOA must receive a written reconsideration request on or before the tenth calendar day after the final order was mailed.

(3) If a reconsideration request is received after the deadline, the final order will not be reconsidered and the deadline to ask for superior court review continues to run.

(4) OAH or BOA may extend its deadline if a party:

- (a) Asks for more time before the deadline expires; and
- (b) Gives a good reason for the extension.

(5) If a party does not request reconsideration or ask for an extension within the deadline, the final order may not be reconsidered and it becomes the final agency decision.

The "code of conduct" is the professional standard established by the department for all interpreters/translators providing language services to department programs and clients. Any violation of this code may disqualify an interpreter or translator from providing those services. Specifically, the code addresses:

- (a) Omit or add nothing;
- (b) Give consideration to linguistic variations in both the source and target languages; and
- (c) Conserve the tone and spirit of the source language.

(2) Cultural sensitivity-courtesy. Interpreters/translators must be culturally knowledgeable, sensitive, and respectful of the individual(s) they serve.

(3) Confidentiality. Interpreters/translators must not divulge any information obtained through their assignments, including, but not limited to, information from documents or other written materials.

(6) Compensation. Interpreters/translators must:

(a) Not accept additional money, consideration, or favors for services reimbursed by the department through language services providers;

(b) Not use the department's time, facilities, equipment or supplies for private gain or other advantage; and

(8) Self-evaluation. Interpreters/translators must accurately and completely represent their certification, training, and experience.

(9) Impartiality-conflict of interest. Interpreters/translators must disclose to the department any real or perceived conflicts of interest that would affect their professional objectivity. Note: Providing interpreting or translating services to family members or friends may violate the family member or friend's right to confidentiality and/or may be a real or perceived conflict of interest.

(10) Professional Demeanor. Interpreters/translators must be punctual, prepared, and dressed appropriately.

(11) Scope of practice. Interpreters/translators must not:

LIST RESPONSIBILITIES FOR CERTIFYING SPOKEN LANGUAGE INTERPRETERS AND TRANSLATORS

WAC 388-03-060 What is the responsibility of the language interpreter services and translations (LIST) section in certifying spoken language interpreters and translators? Language interpreter services and translations (LIST) is the section within DSHS responsible for:

(1) Establishing and publishing systems, methods, and procedures for certifying, screening and/or evaluating the interpretation and/or translation skills of bilingual employees, interpreters and translators who work with department clients, employees, and service providers;

(2) Ensuring that certified or qualified bilingual employees and language service contractors are aware of DSHS's code of professional conduct for interpreters and translators.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-060, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

CERTIFICATION/QUALIFICATION OF INTERPRETERS AND TRANSLATORS

WAC 388-03-110 What certification/qualification requirements apply to interpreters and translators? (1) To be department certified, any department staff member serving in a bilingual capacity or any contracted interpreter/translator providing bilingual services to department clients must pass a bilingual fluency test. No bilingual duties will be assigned to any staff and no contract will be granted to any contractor without proper certification. Once certified:

(a) Department employees in positions requiring bilingual skills are eligible for assignment pay;

(b) Applicants for bilingual positions with the department qualify for those positions if they have also passed the applicable department of personnel employment examination; and

(c) Individuals not employed by the department who wish to interpret and/or translate for department clients can be retained by contracted interpreting agencies.

(2) Interpreters can be certified or qualified as:

(a) Social services interpreters by the department; and/or

(b) Legal interpreters by the office of the administrator for the courts; and/or

(c) Medical interpreters by the department.

(3) Translators can be certified by the department or by the American Translators Association (ATA).

(4) When certified and/or qualified, interpreters and translators providing services to department programs and clients must comply with the department's code of professional conduct for interpreters and translators.

(5) Any violation of the code of professional conduct may disqualify an interpreter or translator from providing services to the department, regardless of whether their contract is directly with the department or indirectly through a language agency serving department clients.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-110, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-112 When do I become a certified or qualified interpreter or translator? (1) For certified languages, you are considered certified once you pass the required tests.

(2) The effective dates of your certifications are the dates shown on your score report letters.

(3) If necessary, you can use your score report letters to verify your certification status.

(4) Your certificates will be mailed to you within a month from the date you pass all examination requirements. It is your responsibility to:

(a) Inform the LIST section of any change of name and address;

(b) Check the accuracy of the information presented on your certificate; and

(c) Contact the LIST section if your certificate is not received within the normal time period.

(5) For screening languages, you are considered qualified once you pass both the written and oral tests. Instead of a certificate, an authorization letter will be issued to qualified interpreters who pass the required screening tests.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-112, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-114 Can I become a department certified interpreter or translator without taking a department examination? There are three ways that you may gain department recognition as an interpreter or translator without taking the department's certification examinations.

(1) If you hold either a state of Washington office of the administrator for the courts interpreter certificate or a federal court interpreter certificate, the department will recognize you as a certified social services interpreter without requiring you to take its examination. However, you must formally submit a written request for recognition and attach a photocopy of your official certificate.

(2) If the American Translators Association (ATA) accredits you as a certified translator, the department will recognize you as a certified translator without requiring you to take its examination. However, you must formally submit a written request for recognition and attach a photocopy of your official certificate.

(3) If you hold either an interpreter or translator certification from another state or U.S. territory or another country that is comparable to DSHS certification and based upon similar requirements, LIST may recognize your certification. In your request for DSHS recognition, you must submit a photocopy of your official certificate and a copy of the official test manual containing evaluation criteria and passing benchmark. Your request should be submitted to LIST. LIST will decide all requests on a case-by-case basis.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-114, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-115 Who determines if my request is "sufficiently documented"? The department determines if your request is sufficiently documented. It may request further proof of your qualification. In all cases, the department's decision regarding the sufficiency of your documentation is final.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-115, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-116 What if the certification documents requested by the language interpreter services and translations section are in a foreign language? (1) All documents submitted to LIST in a foreign language must be accompanied by an accurate translation in English.

(2) Each translated document must bear the affidavit of the translator, sworn to before a notary public, certifying that the:

(a) Translator is competent in both the language of the document and the English language; and

(b) Translation is a true and complete translation of the foreign language original.

(3) Applicants must pay all costs related to translating any documents relevant to their request for department certification.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-116, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-117 What happens to my request for department recognition as an interpreter or translator? When LIST receives your written request for recognition and the required documentation of your qualification, it will:

(1) Process your request as expeditiously as possible; and

(2) Give you written notification of its decision; and

(3) File your request and enter your name, if your request is approved, into its electronic data base of authorized interpreters and translators.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-117, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-118 Does the department maintain lists of certified/qualified interpreters and translators? (1) To enable contracted language agencies and department programs to locate and contact certified and/or qualified interpreters and translators, the department maintains lists of certified interpreters, certified translators, and qualified interpreters.

(2) These lists are published and distributed to department contracted language agencies, local department offices, LEP cluster coordinators and regional LEP coordinators.

(3) Any interpreter or translator who considers some information on the list to be confidential, such as mailing addresses and telephone numbers, can have that information removed by writing the Language Interpreter Services and Translations section at: P.O. Box 45820, Olympia, WA 98504-5820.

(4) These lists are updated quarterly to include newly certified and qualified interpreters/translators.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-118, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

EXAMINATIONS—ELIGIBILITY AND REGISTRATION

WAC 388-03-120 Who can take the department's interpreter/translator certification and screening examinations? (1) You are eligible to take any DSHS interpreter/translator certification or screening examination if you are:

(a) Currently employed by DSHS in a bilingual position; or

(b) Applying for DSHS positions with bilingual requirements; or

(c) Currently working with DSHS programs through contracted language agencies; or

(d) Wishing to work with DSHS programs through contracted language agencies.

(2) There are no education and experience requirements for taking an examination. If you fit into one of the above listed categories, you are eligible to take an examination. However, you must remember that all written and oral tests administered by the department assess language proficiency at a professional interpreter/translator level.

(3) Screening tests will not be substituted for any certificated language tests.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-120, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-122 What type of test is given by the department to certify and qualify interpreters and translators? (1) Certification examinations evaluate bilingual proficiency and interpreting/translation skills by comparing your proficiency and skill to minimum competency standards.

(2) Minimum competency standards are determined by the nature of the work involved and by experienced practicing court interpreters/translators, social services interpreters/translators, bilingual professionals, and language specialists.

(3) Five different types of tests are used to evaluate the bilingual proficiency and interpreting/translation skills of the following categories of people:

(a) Department employees and new recruits with bilingual assignments (employee test);

(b) Contracted interpreters providing oral interpretation services to department social service programs (social services interpreter test);

(c) Contracted translators providing written translation services to department social service programs (translator test);

(d) Medical interpreters providing interpretation services to department clients in medical settings (medical interpreter test); and

(e) Licensed agency personnel whose agency is providing contracted services to the department (licensed agency personnel test or LAP test).

(4) For a list of the specific types of examinations and languages tested (and other important testing information), see the most recent edition of the "professional language certification examination manual" published by the language interpreter services and translations section.

(5) Examinations for interpreters include written and oral components. Interpreters must pass the written test before they take the oral test.

(6) Examinations for DSHS bilingual employees usually include written and oral components and these can be taken on the same day.

(7) Examinations for translators include only a written translation component.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-122, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-123 What is a screening test? (1) A screening test is a test administered by the department to candidates who wish to become "qualified interpreters." Qualified interpreters, also referred to as noncertificated language interpreters, are individuals who speak a language other than the department's seven certificated languages, which are Cambodian, Chinese (either Cantonese or Mandarin), Korean, Laotian, Russian, Spanish and Vietnamese.

(2) The scope of a screening test is narrower than the scope of a certificated language examination. Screening tests assess a candidate's English and target language skills but the broader, more comprehensive type of assessment used in a certificated language examination is not possible because of limited department resources.

(3) Screening tests are only available for social services interpreters and medical interpreters.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-123, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-124 How do I register for a certification or screening examination if I am a department employee or an applicant for a bilingual position with the department? Normally, you can register over the telephone by calling the LIST section at (360) 664-6038. In the Yakima area, you should contact the DSHS Region 2 Personnel Office at:

104 North 3rd Avenue
Yakima, WA 98902
(509) 575-2008

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-124, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-125 How do I register for a certification or screening examination if I am not a department employee or an applicant for a bilingual position with the department? To register for a certification or screening examination you must follow these steps:

(1) Call the LIST office and request a copy of the examination manual, an examination application form and a schedule of upcoming test dates.

(2) Complete and return the examination application form with the required examination fee.

(3) Wait to receive your examination confirmation letter and pretest package from LIST. If you have not received your letter and package within fifteen working days after you mailed your application and payment, it is your responsibility to contact the LIST office. It is also your responsibility to inform LIST if your name, mailing address or telephone number changes.

(4) If you are only registering for the oral test or registering to retake a test, you do not need to call the LIST office. Simply complete the application form enclosed with your test score report letter and return it to LIST with the appropriate fee. A confirmation letter will be mailed to you when LIST receives your application and payment.

(5) Walk-in registration at a test site is not allowed under any circumstances.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 174]

(6) Telephone registration is allowed only for department employees and applicants for department bilingual positions.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-125, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-126 What does my pretest package contain? Your pretest package contains directions to the testing site and a study guide that includes sample test questions, sample oral exercises, a list of important terminology and a copy of the department's code of professional conduct.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-126, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-132 How do I pay my examination fees? (1) You may pay your examination fees with a personal check, certified check, cashier check or money order made out to the "department of social and health services." Do not send cash. LIST will not be responsible for lost cash payments sent through the mail.

(2) If your check or money order is for the wrong amount, LIST will return your payment and your application. You will have to resubmit your application with a correctly prepared check or money order.

(3) If your bank returns your personal check to LIST because of insufficient funds, LIST will not send you a score report letter until your check clears the bank.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-132, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-133 Are my examination fees refundable? (1) All examination fees are nonrefundable except:

(a) If you die before taking the examination, your examination fees are refundable to your estate; or

(b) If you officially move out of Washington state before taking the examination, your examination fees can be refunded to you.

(2) If you fail to attend your confirmed test session(s) because of an emergency, your test session(s) may be rescheduled but your test fee will not be refunded. A rescheduling due to an emergency will be done only once and only if the emergency is properly documented. Examples of proper documentation would be official police reports or signed physician statements.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-133, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

EXAMINATIONS—SCHEDULING

WAC 388-03-135 What requirements apply to the scheduling of interpreter and translator certification and screening examinations? (1) LIST schedules all department interpreter and translator examinations. Normally, testing for all languages is conducted once a month, statewide, from February through November. No testing is offered in December and January due to potential hazardous driving conditions. (See the examination manual for details.)

(2) If you require special arrangements for taking your test due to a disability, you should indicate this special need during your initial contact with LIST.

(3) LIST testing is currently offered at six statewide locations. (See the examination manual for details.) Testing site locations can change because of scheduling factors and varying demand for testing services. To stay informed, you should regularly consult LIST's master test schedule. Also, carefully read your test confirmation letter because it contains specific information on test date, test time, and test location.

(4) You must attend the test session(s) indicated in your registration confirmation letters. Except in bona fide emergency situations (see WAC 388-03-133(2)), you will not be allowed to reschedule your examination if you fail to attend your assigned test session(s). If you miss your scheduled examination for reasons other than an emergency, you may schedule another examination by reapplying to take the test and paying the appropriate testing fee.

(5) All requests for a change in testing schedule must be made within ten calendar days from the date your confirmation letter is sent; otherwise LIST considers your test appointment "confirmed" and your examination fees will not be refunded.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-135, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

EXAMINATIONS—ADMINISTRATION AND SCORING

WAC 388-03-138 What procedural requirements apply to administering certification and screening examinations? (1) The department has a "no-comment, no-return" examination policy. Once an examination is given, it becomes the property of the department and it will not be released to anyone, including test candidates.

(2) The department will not discuss specific examination content, including specific test questions or answers, with test candidates or any other party. Candidates can receive general critiques of their test performance if they submit a written request.

(3) Passing scores for the different examinations are established by the department based on bilingual fluency required by law, testing technicalities and the language needs of the department. Test scores will only be reported to candidates in writing. No score information will be released over the telephone to anyone.

(4) All interpreter and translator candidates must follow the test instructions. A failure to follow the instructions may result in an invalid test. Invalid tests will not be scored and, therefore, no test results will be reported to the candidate.

(5) If a candidate arrives late for the written test but decides to go ahead and take it, they will take the test during the remaining time allowed. The lost time resulting from their late arrival will not be made up.

(6) If a candidate arrives late for an oral test, they may lose their assigned time slot. A lost time slot resulting from a late arrival will not be made up.

(7) Tests will not be rescheduled because a candidate arrives late at a testing site except in the case of a bona fide emergency. If you are too late to take the test for some reason other than an emergency, you may schedule another examination by reapplying for the test and paying the appropriate fee.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-138, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-140 What if a test candidate is suspected of cheating? If a test administrator suspects cheating during an examination with reasonable evidence, the accused candidate may be declared ineligible for all interpreter and translator certification/qualification tests administered by the department.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-140, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-150 How does the department score my bilingual examinations? (1) Depending on the nature of the test or test section, the department uses either an objective or a holistic scoring method to evaluate your examination.

(2) Please consult the examination manual for the evaluation indicators used by the department for each test or sub-test.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-150, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-152 When does the department mail my test scores? Score report letters will be sent to candidates when they finish either portion (written or oral) of the test:

(1) For a written test, your scores should be available within two to four weeks from the date you took the examination.

(2) For oral tests, you should receive your scores within four to six weeks from the date you took the examination.

(3) If you wish your test scores mailed to a specific organization or individual, you must personally notify the department in writing and provide the name and mailing address of the organization or individual to whom your score should be sent.

(4) If you do not receive your score report letters within the suggested time periods, you should contact LIST at (360) 664-6037.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-152, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-154 Can I appeal my test scores? You have two months, from the date your test score letter is sent, to appeal your test score. Note:

(1) Your appeal must be submitted to the department in writing.

(2) Your appeal will not be honored if it is filed beyond the two-month appeal period.

(3) You will not be allowed to reschedule an examination while your score is being appealed.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-154, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-156 How many times can I retake a failed test? You can retake a failed examination until you pass it. However, if you fail a test three times, you must wait six months before taking it a fourth time and wait six months between each subsequent attempt. Each time you retake the test you must pay an examination fee.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-156, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

DECERTIFICATION/DISQUALIFICATION OF INTERPRETERS AND TRANSLATORS

WAC 388-03-170 Can the department deny or revoke my certification or qualification status? The department may deny or revoke either your certification or qualification status if it is proven that you committed one or both of the following acts:

(1) You have not been truthful when dealing with the department; or

(2) You have violated the department's code of professional conduct.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-170, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-172 What procedures must the department follow if it denies or revokes my certification or qualification? If it is alleged that you have not been truthful when dealing with the department or that you have violated the department's code of professional conduct, the department, before denying or revoking your certification or qualification, must:

(1) Immediately investigate the allegations made against you; and

(2) Within sixty days of receiving the allegation, determine if you committed the alleged violations; and

(3) Within five days of reaching its decision, give you written notification of the decision. The department's notification must be delivered to you by certified mail.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-172, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

[Title 388 WAC—p. 176]

WAC 388-03-174 Can I appeal the department's decision to deny or revoke my certification or qualification? If the department denies or revokes your certification or qualification, you have the right to appeal its decision by using the adjudicative proceeding process in chapter 34.05 RCW and chapter 388-08 WAC. However, the department encourages you to first try to resolve your dispute through a less formal process like mediation.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 2.43.010, 74.04.025, and 74.08.090. 00-06-014, § 388-03-174, filed 2/22/00, effective 3/24/00.]

WAC 388-03-176 How do I request an adjudicative hearing? To request an adjudicative hearing, you must:

(1) File a written application with the department's board of appeals within twenty-one days of receiving the department's decision to deny or revoke your certification or qualification.

(2) Your written application must include:

(a) A copy of the department's decision that you are contesting; and

WAC 388-04-010 Purpose. The purpose of this chapter shall be to establish rules implementing the department's policy for the protection of departmental wards, clients, and employees who serve as human subjects in research and related activities. These rules do not supersede or limit the applicability of other state and federal laws and regulations. For example, see Title 45, Part 46 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

[99-15-021, recodified as § 388-04-010, filed 7/12/99, effective 7/12/99. Statutory Authority: RCW 43.20A.550. 81-17-022 (Order 1687), § 388-10-010, filed 8/12/81.]

(2005 Ed.)

WAC 388-04-020 Definitions. (1) "Research" means a systematic investigation designed to develop or contribute to generalizable knowledge. Activities which meet this definition constitute "research" for purposes of these rules, whether or not they are supported or conducted under this label.

(2) "Related activities" means demonstration, service, development, and other projects that contain a research component.

(3) "Human subject" means a person about whom an investigator (whether professional or student) conducting research obtains data (a) through intervention or interaction with the person, (b) through observation of the person's behavior, or (c) from personal records and other private information sources.

WAC 388-04-030 Statement of policy. (1) No service unit or administrative unit within the department's jurisdiction shall allow, or shall participate in, the conduct of research and related activities unless the plans or protocols for such activities have been reviewed and approved by the department of social and health services human research review board or have been specifically exempted from this review requirement by published departmental guidelines.

(2) It is the intent of the department's human subjects protection policy that review of research and related activities by the review board determine that the rights and welfare of clients, wards, and employees are adequately protected; that risks to individuals are minimized, are not unreasonable and are outweighed by the potential benefits to them or by the knowledge to be gained; and that the proposed project design and methods are adequate and appropriate in the light of stated project purposes.

[99-15-021, recodified as § 388-04-030, filed 7/12/99, effective 7/12/99. Statutory Authority: RCW 43.20A.550. 81-17-022 (Order 1687), § 388-10-030, filed 8/12/81.]

WAC 388-04-040 Implementation. (1) The department shall maintain a human research review board which shall have primary responsibility for the ethical and technical review of the use of human subjects in research and related projects conducted within the department's jurisdiction. Unfavorable review dispositions by this review board, including disapproval of proposed research, research restrictions, or special approval conditions, cannot, by federal regulation (45 CFR 46.112) be removed except by the review board. Favorable review decisions by the board shall be subject to review and concurrence by appropriate departmental officials.

(2) To assure continued protection of human subjects in on-going research at the activity site, departmental service units involved in a significant number of research and related activities shall establish their own research oversight committees. These local committees shall function as extensions of the human research review board. They shall be responsible for providing ethical and procedural oversight in accordance with the review board's directions.

(3) Review of proposals requiring professional competencies beyond those represented on the human research review board shall require prior and written review consultation with at least four research experts who are competent to judge the scientific merit, benefits, and risks of the proposed research.

[99-15-021, recodified as § 388-04-040, filed 7/12/99, effective 7/12/99. Statutory Authority: RCW 43.20A.550. 81-17-022 (Order 1687), § 388-10-040, filed 8/12/81.]

WAC 388-04-050 General applicability. The department's human research review rules shall apply to all organizational units of the department. They shall apply to all research and related activities that involve departmental clients, wards, or employees as human subjects or that require disclosure of their personal records, regardless of funding source, and regardless of whether the research is conducted by a departmental employee or by a nondepartmental investigator. The rules shall apply to all research and related activities subcontracted by the department under state and federal grants and contracts to nondepartmental organizations and individuals, regardless of whether the research or related activity involves departmental clients or a nondepartmental subject population.

(2) The director of the departmental unit responsible for human research review policy administration shall document in writing all review dispositions affecting research and related activity proposals submitted to the department. In the case of unfavorable dispositions, such documentation shall contain a statement of the reasons for the negative disposition.

[99-15-021, recodified as § 388-04-060, filed 7/12/99, effective 7/12/99. Statutory Authority: RCW 43.20A.550. 81-17-022 (Order 1687), § 388-10-060, filed 8/12/81.]

(1) The department shall develop and publish a comprehensive set of procedural guidelines for the protection of human research subjects within its jurisdiction. These guidelines shall be at least as restrictive as the minimum requirements set forth in Title 45, Part 46 of the Code of Federal Regulations, but may be more restrictive if necessary to satisfy the protective purposes of the department's human subjects protection policy.

(2) The published guidelines shall speak at least to the following topics:

PURPOSE

WAC 388-06-0010 What is the purpose of this chapter? (1) The purpose of this chapter is to establish rules for background checks conducted by children's administration (CA), and the division of developmental disabilities (DDD) at the department of social and health services (DSHS). The department does background checks on individuals who are licensed, certified, contracted, or authorized to care for or have unsupervised access to children and to individuals with a developmental disability. Background checks are conducted to find and evaluate any history of criminal convictions and child abuse or neglect.

(2) This chapter also defines when the one hundred twenty-day provisional hire is allowed by DSHS. WAC 388-06-0500 through 388-06-0540 apply to all DSHS administrations.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.15.030, 01-18-025, § 388-06-0010, filed 8/27/01, effective 10/1/01.]

(3) Children's administration does not pay for fingerprinting for employees, contractors, or volunteers associated with any other type of home or facility.

(4) The division of developmental disabilities pays for background checks for individuals seeking authorization to provide services to their clients.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.15.030. 01-18-025, § 388-06-0160, filed 8/27/01, effective 10/1/01.]

(2) These services continue until the support enforcement case is closed under WAC 388-14A-2080.

(3) The CP's public assistance application is an assignment of support rights.

(4) WAC 388-14A-2036 describes the assignment of support rights.

(5) If the community services office grants the CP good cause not to cooperate under WAC 388-422-0020, DCS does not provide services. See WAC 388-14A-2065.

WAC 388-14A-2010 Can I apply for support enforcement services if I do not receive public assistance?

(1) If you are not receiving public assistance, you can apply for support enforcement services. Your case is called a non-assistance case. A nonassistance case receives the same level of services as a case that was opened because of the payment of public assistance.

(2) Generally, the person applying for nonassistance support enforcement services is the custodial parent or former custodial parent of a child. However, the noncustodial parent may apply for services as well, as provided in WAC 388-14A-2000 (2)(b) and (e).

(3) A person wishing to apply for nonassistance support enforcement services must submit a written application for support enforcement services except as provided in WAC 388-14A-2000 (2)(c); and

(a) Have or have had physical custody of the child for whom support is sought, or for whom a support debt has accrued, or be the person with whom the child resided the majority of the time for which support is sought; or

(b) Be the noncustodial parent.

(4) The applicant must:

(a) Give consent for the division of child support (DCS) to take an assignment of earnings from the noncustodial parent (NCP) if the parents are still married;

(b) Agree to send to DCS any support payments received directly from the NCP within eight days of receipt;

(c) Agree to direct a payor or forwarding agent to make payments to the Washington state support registry (WSSR);

(d) Agree not to hire an attorney or collection agency, or apply to any other state's IV-D agency to collect the same support obligation or support debt, without notifying DCS;

(e) Complete, sign, date and submit to DCS the application form and any other required documents;

(f) Supply copies of divorce and dissolution decrees, support orders and modification orders, and any related documents affecting a support obligation;

(g) Provide a statement of the amount of support debt owed by the NCP; and

(h) Include or attach a list, by date, of the support payments received from the NCP during the time period for which the CP seeks support.

(5) If someone other than the CP has legal custody of the child under a court order, the CP must affirm that:

(a) The CP has not wrongfully deprived the legal custodian of custody; and

(b) The person with legal custody has not been excused from making support payments by a court or administrative tribunal.

WAC 388-14A-2015 Does DCS accept an application from someone who is not a resident of Washington state?

(1) If you are not a resident of the state of Washington but you are applying for services, you must swear or affirm that there is not an open IV-D case in another state.

(2) The division of child support (DCS) may decline the application for nonassistance support enforcement services if:

(a) DCS already has an open case for you which was opened at the request of another state; or

(b) Neither the custodial parent nor the noncustodial parent reside, work, or own any assets in the state of Washington.

WAC 388-14A-2020 Can the division of child support deny my application for support enforcement services?

(1) The division of child support (DCS) may deny an application which is incomplete, contains unclear or inconsistent statements, is not supported by necessary documents, or requests services DCS cannot or does not provide.

(2) DCS may deny an application from a nonresident as provided in WAC 388-14A-2015(2).

(3) When DCS denies an application, DCS sends the applicant a written notice of denial by regular mail. The notice advises the applicant:

(a) Of the reasons for the denial; and

(b) That the applicant may request an administrative hearing to contest the denial.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2020, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-2025 What services does the division of child support provide for a nonassistance support enforcement case?

(1) The division of child support (DCS) provides full support enforcement services for every IV-D case.

(2) Some cases do not receive full support enforcement services. Nonassistance cases where DCS provides payment processing services are called payment services only (PSO) cases.

(3) In a PSO case, DCS provides only records maintenance and payment processing services if the payee under a support order does not submit an application for support enforcement services and the:

(a) Order directs support payments to DCS or to the Washington state support registry (WSSR); and

(b) The clerk of the court submitted the order under RCW 26.23.050.

(4) DCS continues to provide services without an application after a:

(2005 Ed.)

(a) Public assistance recipient stops receiving cash assistance; or

(b) Recipient of Medicaid-only benefits becomes ineligible for Medicaid-only benefits, unless the recipient declines support enforcement services or requests additional services.

(5) If you receive services as a former recipient of assistance, as described in subsection (4), you must cooperate with DCS in the same way as when you received a grant.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2025, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-2030 Do I assign my rights to support when I apply for child support enforcement services?

(1) A custodial parent applying for or receiving cash assistance on behalf of a minor child assigns the family's rights to support as provided in WAC 388-14A-2035, below.

(2) A person applying for nonassistance support enforcement services does not assign support rights, but agrees to cooperate with the division of child support as provided in WAC 388-14A-2010(3).

WAC 388-14A-2035 Do I assign my rights to support when I receive public assistance?

(1) When you receive public assistance you assign your rights to support to the state. This section applies to all applicants and recipients of cash assistance under the state program funded under Title IV-A of the federal Social Security Act.

(2) As a condition of eligibility for assistance, a family member must assign to the state the right to collect and keep, subject to the limitation in subsection (3), any support owing to the family member or to any other person for whom the family member has applied for or is receiving assistance.

(3) Amounts assigned under this section may not exceed the lesser of the total amount of assistance paid to the family or the total amount of the assigned support obligation.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 26.23.035, 34.05.220(1), 74.20A.270, 74.20A.310, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2035, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-200.]

WAC 388-14A-2036 What does assigning my rights to support mean?

(1) As a condition of eligibility for assistance, a family member must assign to the state the right to collect and keep, subject to the limitation in WAC 388-14A-2035(3), any support owing to the family member or to any other person for whom the family member has applied for or is receiving assistance.

(2) While your family receives assistance, all support collected is retained by the state to reimburse the total amount of assistance which has been paid to your family.

(3) After your family terminates from assistance, certain accrued arrears remain assigned to the state in accordance with the following rules:

(a) For assistance applications dated prior to October 1, 1997, you permanently assign to the state all rights to support which accrued before the application date and which will accrue prior to the date your family terminates from assistance.

(b) For assistance applications dated on or after October 1, 1997, and before October 1, 2000:

(i) You permanently assign to the state all rights to support which accrue while your family receives assistance; and

(ii) You temporarily assign to the state all rights to support which accrued before the application date, until October 1, 2000, or when your family terminates from assistance, whichever date is later. After this date, if any remaining arrears are collected by federal income tax refund offset, the state retains such amounts, up to the amount of unreimbursed assistance.

(c) For assistance applications dated on or after October 1, 2000:

(i) You permanently assign to the state all rights to support which accrue while the family receives assistance; and

(ii) You temporarily assign to the state all rights to support which accrued before the application date, until the date your family terminates from assistance. After this date, if any remaining arrears are collected by federal income tax refund offset, the state retains such amounts, up to the amount of unreimbursed assistance.

WAC 388-14A-2037 What are permanently assigned arrears? Permanently assigned arrears accrue only under the following conditions:

(1) For those periods prior to the family receiving assistance, for assistance applications dated on or before September 30, 1997; and

(2) For those periods while a family receives assistance, for assistance applications dated at any time.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2037, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-2038 What are temporarily assigned arrears? Temporarily assigned arrears are:

(1) Not permanently assigned to the state;

(2) Collected and retained by the state up to the amount of unreimbursed assistance, if these arrears are collected by federal income tax refund offset at any time; and

(3) Collected and kept by the state, up to the cumulative amount of unreimbursed assistance:

(a) Until October 1, 2000 or until the date the family terminates from assistance, whichever date is later; or

(b) Only while the family receives assistance, for assistance periods beginning October 1, 2000 or later.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2038, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-2040 Do I have to cooperate with the division of child support in establishing or enforcing child support? (1) You must cooperate with the division of child support (DCS) when you receive public assistance unless the department determines there is good cause not to cooperate under WAC 388-422-0020. For purposes of this section and WAC 388-14A-2075, cooperating with DCS includes cooperating with those acting on behalf of DCS (its "representatives"), namely the prosecuting attorney, the attorney general, or a private attorney paid per RCW 74.20.350. In cases where paternity is at issue, the custodial parent (CP) of a child who receives assistance must cooperate whether or not the parent receives assistance.

(2) Cooperation means giving information, attending interviews, attending hearings, or taking actions to help DCS establish and collect child support. This information and assistance is necessary for DCS to:

(a) Identify and locate the responsible parent;

(b) Establish the paternity of the child(ren) on assistance in the CP's care; and

(c) Establish or collect support payments or resources such as property due the CP or the child(ren).

(3) The CP must also cooperate by sending to DCS any child support received by the CP while on assistance, as required by RCW 74.20A.275 (3)(c). If the client keeps these payments, known as retained support, the CP must sign an agreement to repay under RCW 74.20A.275, and the CP must honor that agreement.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 34.05.310 (4)(d), 26.23.035, 74.20A.310, 03-20-072, § 388-14A-2040, filed 9/29/03, effective 10/30/03. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 26.23.035, 74.20A.310, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2040, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-201.]

WAC 388-14A-2041 What happens if I don't cooperate with DCS? (1) There may be penalties, called sanctions, for not cooperating with the division of child support (DCS). These sanctions and the noncooperation process are described in WAC 388-14A-2075. You may be sanctioned if:

(a) You do not go to scheduled interviews and answer questions;

(b) There is credible evidence showing that you could have given the information but did not;

(c) You have been giving inconsistent or false information without a good reason; or

(d) You refuse to sign or honor a repayment agreement under WAC 388-14A-2040(3).

(2) You must be given the opportunity to swear you do not have the information.

(3) You cannot be sanctioned because you provided information on a possible parent who was then excluded by genetic testing. In this event you must continue to cooperate in naming other possible parents and taking part in any resulting genetic testing.

(4) You may not be able to help DCS if you do not know, do not possess, or cannot reasonably obtain the requested information. To avoid a sanction, you must, under penalty of perjury, swear or attest to your lack of information in an interview held by DCS or its representative.

(5) If you fear that cooperation may cause harm to you or your children, you may claim good cause not to cooperate.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 26.23.035, 74.20A.310, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2041, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-202.]

WAC 388-14A-2045 What can I do if I am afraid that cooperating with the division of child support will be harmful to me or to my children? (1) If a custodial parent (CP) receiving public assistance fears that the establishment or enforcement of support may result in harm to the CP or the children, the CP may be excused from the cooperation requirements. You can claim good cause not to cooperate under WAC 388-422-0020. Go to the community services office (CSO) to claim good cause.

(2) If a CP who is not receiving public assistance fears that the establishment or enforcement of support may result in harm to the CP or the children, the CP should tell the division of child support (DCS) that family violence is an issue in the case, so that DCS may take appropriate action.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090. 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2045, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-2050 Who decides if I have good cause not to cooperate? (1) The community services office (CSO) decides whether you have good cause not to cooperate with the division of child support (DCS).

(2) When you make a claim of good cause not to cooperate, DCS does not take any action on the case while the CSO is reviewing your good cause claim.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090. 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2050, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-2060 Are there different kinds of good cause for not cooperating with DCS? (1) For custodial parents receiving public assistance, there are two kinds of good cause granted by the community services office (CSO):

(a) When the CSO determines that support establishment or enforcement cannot proceed at all because of a risk of danger to the custodial parent (CP) or children, this is called good cause level A.

(b) When the CSO determines that support establishment or enforcement can proceed without input from the CP, but that good cause exists for the CP not to cooperate with DCS, this is called good cause level B.

(2) See WAC 388-422-0020 for how the CSO grants good cause.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090. 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2060, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-2065 Does the division of child support provide support enforcement services if the CSO decides I have "good cause level A"? If the community services office (CSO) grants you good cause level A:

(1) The division of child support (DCS) closes the case and does not take any action to establish or enforce support for the children covered by the good cause finding.

(2) If the noncustodial parent (NCP) applies for paternity establishment or support enforcement services, DCS denies the NCP's application for services.

(3) If the community services office grants good cause level A after the case has been referred to the county prosecuting attorney or attorney general's office, DCS advises the prosecutor or attorney general's office of the good cause finding.

(4) When DCS advises the prosecutor or attorney general's office that good cause level A applies in a case, DCS requests that the prosecutor or attorney general's office dismiss any action that has been filed and cease all activities to establish or enforce a child support obligation for the children covered by the good cause finding.

WAC 388-14A-2070 Does the division of child support provide support enforcement services if the CSO determines I have "good cause level B"? If the community services office (CSO) grants you good cause level B, the division of child support provides support enforcement services without requiring the custodial parent (CP) to provide information or cooperate with DCS in any way.

WAC 388-14A-2075 What happens if the division of child support determines that I am not cooperating? (1) When the division of child support (DCS) or its representatives believe you are not cooperating as defined in WAC 388-14A-2040, DCS sends a notice to you and to the community service office (CSO) stating the noncooperation and explaining the following:

(a) How the noncooperation was determined, including what actions were required;

(b) What actions you must take to resume cooperation;

(c) That this notice was sent to the CSO;

(d) That you may contact the CSO immediately if you disagree with the notice, need help in order to cooperate, or believe the actions required are unreasonable; and

(e) That the CSO may sanction you by either reducing or terminating the grant.

(2) The CSO sends a notice of planned action to you as provided by WAC 388-472-0005 (1)(i).

(3) Either the notice of alleged noncooperation or the CSO's notice of planned action may serve as the basis for a sanction.

(4) If the noncooperation was due to missing an interview without reasonable excuse, you will be considered to be cooperating when you appear for a rescheduled interview and either provide information or attest to the lack of information. DCS or its representative must reschedule the interview within seven business days from the date you contact them to reschedule an interview.

(5) If the noncooperation was due to not taking a required action, cooperation resumes when you take that action.

(6) There is no hearing right for a notice of noncooperation, but you can request a hearing on the sanction imposed by the CSO.

WAC 388-14A-2080 Once DCS opens a support enforcement case, under what circumstances can it be closed? Once the division of child support (DCS) starts providing support enforcement services under RCW 26.23.045 and chapter 74.20 RCW, the case must remain open, unless DCS determines that:

(1) There is no current support order, and the support debt owed by the noncustodial parent (NCP) is less than five hundred dollars, or cannot be enforced under Washington law;

(2) The NCP or putative (alleged) father is dead with no assets, income or estate available for collection;

(3) The NCP has no assets or income available for collection and is not able to provide support during the child's minority because of being:

(a) Institutionalized in a psychiatric facility;

(b) Incarcerated without possibility of parole; or

(c) Medically verified as totally and permanently disabled with no evidence of ability to provide support.

(4) The applicant, agency or recipient of nonassistance services submits a written request for closure, and there is no current assignment of medical or support rights;

(5) DCS has enough information to use an automated locate system, and has not been able to locate the NCP after three years of diligent efforts;

(6) DCS does not have enough information to use an automated locate system, and has not been able to locate the NCP after one year of diligent efforts;

(7) DCS is unable to contact the applicant, agency or recipient of services for at least sixty days;

(8) DCS documents failure to cooperate by the custodial parent (CP) or the initiating jurisdiction, and that cooperation is essential for the next step in enforcement;

(9) DCS cannot obtain a paternity order because:

(a) The putative father is dead;

(b) Genetic testing has excluded all putative fathers;

(c) The child is at least eighteen years old;

(d) DCS, a court of competent jurisdiction or an administrative hearing determines that establishing paternity would not be in the best interests of the child in a case involving incest, rape, or pending adoption; or

(e) The biological father is unknown and cannot be identified after diligent efforts, including at least one interview by DCS or its representative with the recipient of support enforcement services.

(10) DCS, a court of competent jurisdiction or an administrative hearing determines that the recipient of services has wrongfully deprived the NCP of physical custody of the child as provided in WAC 388-14A-3370(3);

(11) DCS, the department of social and health services, a court of competent jurisdiction or an administrative hearing determines that action to establish or enforce a support obligation cannot occur without a risk of harm to the child or the CP;

(12) DCS has provided locate-only services in response to a request for state parent locator services (SPLS);

(13) The NCP is a citizen and resident of a foreign country, and:

(a) NCP has no assets which can be reached by DCS; and

(b) The country where NCP resides does not provide reciprocity in child support matters.

(14) The child is incarcerated or confined to a juvenile rehabilitation facility for a period of ninety days or more; or

(15) Any other circumstances exist which would allow closure under 45 C.F.R. 303.11 or any other federal statute or regulation.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 26.23.035, 34.05.220(1), 74.20A.310, 45 CFR 303.11, 45 CFR 303.100. 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2080, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-420.]

WAC 388-14A-2085 Under what circumstances may DCS deny a request to close a support enforcement case?

(1) The division of child support (DCS) may deny a request to close a support enforcement case when:

(a) There is a current assignment of support or medical rights on behalf of the children in the case;

(b) There is accrued debt under a support order which has been assigned to the state;

(c) Support or medical rights on behalf of the children have previously been assigned to the state;

(d) The person who requests closure is not the recipient of support enforcement services; or

(e) A superior court order requires payments to the Washington state support registry (WSSR).

(2) If there is no current assignment of support or medical rights, DCS may close the portion of the case which is owed to the custodial parent (CP), but if there is accrued debt under a support order which has been assigned to the state, DCS keeps that portion of the case open.

(3) If a superior court order specifies that the noncustodial parent (NCP) must make payments to the WSSR, but the CP does not want support enforcement services, DCS keeps the case open as a payment services only (PSO) case, which means that:

(a) DCS provides payment processing and records maintenance, and

(b) DCS does not provide enforcement services.

WAC 388-14A-2090 Who is mailed notice of DCS' intent to close a case?

(1) Sixty days before closing a case the division of child support (DCS) sends a notice of intent to close, advising the parties why DCS is closing the case.

(a) DCS does not send a notice when closing a case under WAC 388-14A-2080 (11) or (12).

(b) DCS does not provide sixty days' prior notice when closing a case under WAC 388-14A-2080(4).

(2) DCS mails a notice by regular mail to the last known address of the custodial parent (CP) and the noncustodial parent.

(3) In an interstate case, DCS mails the notice to the CP by regular mail in care of the other state's child support agency.

(4) If DCS is closing an interstate case because of noncooperation by the initiating jurisdiction, DCS also mails the notice to the other state's child support agency.

WAC 388-14A-2095 What if I don't agree with the case closure notice?

(1) Only the person who applied for support enforcement services, also known as the recipient of services, may request a hearing to challenge closure of a case.

(2) If the recipient of services requests a hearing, the other party may participate in the hearing.

(3) The closure of a child support case does not stop the custodial parent or noncustodial parent from filing an application for support enforcement services in the future, but the reason for closure may affect whether the division of child support will open a new case.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 26.23.035, 34.05.220(1), 74.20A.310, 45 CFR 303.11, 45 CFR 303.100. 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2095, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-423.]

WAC 388-14A-2097 What happens to payments that come in after a case is closed? After support enforcement services are terminated, DCS returns support money to the noncustodial parent except if the case remains open as a payment services only (PSO) case as described in WAC 388-14A-2000(1).

WAC 388-14A-2099 When does DCS file a satisfaction of judgment with the superior court? (1) When the division of child support (DCS) determines that a support obligation, established by order of a superior court of this state, has been satisfied or is no longer legally enforceable, DCS sends a notice of its intent to file a satisfaction of judgment to the last known address of the payee under the order and to the noncustodial parent (NCP).

(2) DCS includes the following provisions in the notice:

(a) A statement of the facts DCS relied on in making the determination; and

(b) A statement that the payee has twenty days from the date of the notice, to:

(i) Object and request a conference board under WAC 388-14A-6400; or

(ii) Initiate an action to obtain a judgment from the court that entered the order.

(3) If the conference board or the court determines the support obligation or a support debt still exists, DCS withdraws the notice and makes reasonable efforts to enforce and collect the remaining support debt. If the conference board or court determines that a debt does not exist, DCS files a satisfaction of judgment with the clerk of superior court in which the order was entered.

(4) DCS determines that a support obligation is satisfied or is no longer legally enforceable when the obligation to pay current and future support terminates under the order, and:

(a) The NCP has made all payments owed under the support order;

(b) The support debt is no longer enforceable due to the operation of the statute of limitations;

(c) DCS determines the NCP has a valid defense to payment of the debt under Washington law; or

(d) Under RCW 74.20A.220, DCS determines the debt is uncollectible, grants a total or partial charge-off, or accepts an offer to compromise a disputed debt.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2099, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-2105 Basic confidentiality rules for the division of child support. (1) Under RCW 26.23.120, all information and records, concerning persons who owe a support obligation or for whom the division of child support (DCS) provides support enforcement services, are private and confidential.

(2005 Ed.)

(2) DCS discloses information and records only to a person or entity listed in this section or in RCW 26.23.120, and only for a specific purpose allowed by state or federal law.

(3) DCS may disclose information to:

(a) The person who is the subject of the information or records, unless the information or records are exempt under RCW 42.17.310;

(b) Local, state, and federal government agencies for support enforcement and related purposes;

(c) A party to a judicial proceeding or a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW, if the superior court judge or administrative law judge (ALJ) enters an order to disclose. The judge or presiding officer must base the order on a written finding that the need for the information outweighs any reason for maintaining privacy and confidentiality;

(d) A party under contract with DCS, including a federally recognized Indian tribe, if disclosure is for support enforcement and related purposes;

(e) A person or entity, including a federally recognized Indian tribe, when disclosure is necessary to the administration of the child support program or the performance of DCS functions and duties under state and federal law;

(f) A person, representative, or entity if the person who is the subject of the information and records consents, in writing, to disclosure;

(g) The office of administrative hearings or the office of appeals for administration of the hearing process under chapter 34.05 RCW. The ALJ or review judge must:

(i) Not include the address of either party in an administrative order, or disclose a party's address to the other party;

(ii) State in support orders that the address is known by the Washington state support registry; and

(iii) Inform the parties they may obtain the address by submitting a request for disclosure to DCS under WAC 388-14A-2110(2).

(4) DCS may publish information about a noncustodial parent (NCP) for locate and enforcement purposes.

(5) WAC 388-14A-2114(1) sets out the rules for disclosure of address, employment or other information regarding the custodial parent (CP) or the children.

(6) WAC 388-14A-2114(2) sets out the rules for disclosure of address, employment or other information regarding the NCP.

(7) DCS may disclose the Social Security Number of a dependent child to the noncustodial parent (NCP) to enable the NCP to claim the dependency exemption as authorized by the Internal Revenue Service.

(8) DCS may disclose financial records of an individual obtained from a financial institution only for the purpose of, and to the extent necessary, to establish, modify, or enforce a child support obligation of that individual.

(9) Except as provided elsewhere in chapter 388-14A WAC, chapter 388-01 WAC governs the process of requesting and disclosing information and records.

(10) DCS must take timely action on requests for disclosure. DCS must respond in writing within five working days of receipt of the request.

(11) If a child is receiving foster care services, the parent(s) must contact their local community services office for disclosure of the child's address information.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 197]

(12) The rules of confidentiality and penalties for misuse of information and reports that apply to a IV-D agency employee, also apply to a person who receives information under this section.

(13) Nothing in these rules:

(a) Prevents DCS from disclosing information and records when such disclosure is necessary to the performance of its duties and functions as provided by state and federal law;

(b) Requires DCS to disclose information and records obtained from a confidential source.

(14) DCS cannot provide copies of the confidential information form contained in court orders. You must go to court to get access to the confidential information form. DCS may disclose information contained within the confidential information form if disclosure is authorized under RCW 26.23.120, chapter 388-01 WAC, or chapter 388-14A WAC.

(15) DCS may provide a Support Order Summary to the parties to an administrative support order under WAC 388-14A-2116.

WAC 388-14A-2107 Are there special rules for requests for whereabouts information? (1) Address information is sometimes referred to as whereabouts information, meaning information giving someone's home, work, school or day care location.

(2) The last known address of, or employment information about, a party to a court or administrative order for, or a proceeding involving, child support may be given to another party to the order. The party receiving the information may only use the information to establish, enforce, or modify a support order.

(3) The last known address of the natural or adoptive children may be given to a parent having a court order granting that parent visitation rights with, legal custody of or residential time with, the parent's natural or adoptive children. The parent may only use this information to enforce the terms of the court order.

(4) The last known address of a party to an order for child support may be given to another party to the order. The party receiving the information may only use the information to establish a parenting plan for the children covered by the support order.

(6) Requests from law enforcement agencies are subject to the provisions of RCW 74.04.062.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.23.120, 74.08.090, 02-07-091, § 388-14A-2107, filed 3/19/02, effective 4/19/02.]

WAC 388-14A-2110 How do I make a request for disclosure of DCS public records? (1) You can make a request for disclosure of most DCS records either orally or in writing. If you are requesting whereabouts information, see subsection (2).

(2) You must submit a request for disclosure of a parent or child's address in writing or in person, with satisfactory evidence of identity, at any office of the division of child support (DCS).

(a) If the request is made by your attorney, DCS may waive the provisions regarding submission in person with satisfactory evidence of identity.

(b) If you are unable to appear at a DCS office in person, DCS may waive the provision requiring submission in person if you submit a notarized request for disclosure. DCS can provide a form which contains all the required elements for an address disclosure request.

(c) The person seeking disclosure must attach the following to a request for disclosure of an address:

(i) A copy of the superior court order on which the request is based. DCS waives this provision if DCS has a true copy of the order on file;

(ii) A sworn statement by the individual that the order has not been modified; and

(iii) A statement explaining the purpose of the request and how the requestor intends to use the information.

WAC 388-14A-2112 When I make a public disclosure request, do I get the information or records immediately? (1) The division of child support (DCS) must respond to a public disclosure request within five days, under RCW 26.23.120 and WAC 388-01-090.

(2) "Respond" can mean:

(a) Providing the requested documents;

(b) Acknowledging receipt of the request and giving an estimate of how long it will take to provide copies;

(c) Requesting copy and postage fees;

(d) Requesting that you clarify your request if we are not sure what you are asking for;

(e) Notifying you of any other necessary procedural steps, such as notice to the other party or to a third party; or

(f) Denying your request according to WAC 388-01-090(3).

(3) When someone requests address or other whereabouts information, DCS first gives notice as provided in WAC 388-14A-2114, 388-14A-2120, and 388-14A-2115.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.23.120, 74.08.090, 02-07-091, § 388-14A-2112, filed 3/19/02, effective 4/19/02.]

WAC 388-14A-2114 Does DCS give notice to anyone before releasing information pursuant to a public disclosure request? (1) Prior to disclosing the address of the custodial parent (CP) or a child, DCS mails a notice to the last known address of the CP, except as provided under WAC 388-14A-2115. The notice advises the CP that:

(a) A request for disclosure has been made;

(b) DCS intends to disclose the address after thirty days from the date of the notice, unless:

(i) DCS receives a copy of an order which:

(A) Enjoins disclosure of the address;

(B) Restricts the noncustodial parent's right to contact or visit the CP or a child by imposing conditions to protect the CP or the child from harm, including, but not limited to, temporary orders for protection under chapter 26.50 RCW; or

(C) States that the health, safety, or liberty of the CP or child would be unreasonably put at risk by disclosure of address or other identifying information; or

(ii) The CP requests an administrative hearing which ultimately results in a decision that release of the address is reasonably anticipated to result in harm to the CP or a dependent child.

(c) In any hearing under this section, either party may participate in the proceeding by telephone, from any prearranged location. The administrative law judge (ALJ) must not disclose the location and phone number.

(2) DCS does not provide notice to the noncustodial parent (NCP) before disclosing NCP's address information to the CP unless NCP has requested prior notice under WAC 388-14A-2120.

(3) Before releasing confidential information concerning someone who is not a party to the case, DCS gives notice to that person according to WAC 388-01-140.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.23.120, 74.08.090, 02-07-091, § 388-14A-2114, filed 3/19/02, effective 4/19/02.]

WAC 388-14A-2115 Can the custodial parent waive notice of a request for address? (1) Any party to a support order may authorize the division of child support (DCS) to release his or her address to the other party with no prior notice.

(2) An authorization to release an address must be:

(a) In writing;

(b) Notarized; and

(c) Effective for any period designated by the party up to three years, or until DCS is notified in writing that the party has revoked the authorizations, whichever is sooner.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.23.120, 74.08.090, 02-07-091, § 388-14A-2115, filed 3/19/02, effective 4/19/02; 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2115, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-030, 388-14-035, and 388-14-045.]

WAC 388-14A-2116 How do I request a support order summary from DCS? (1) If you are a party to an administrative support order, you may request a support order summary from the division of child support (DCS). The support order summary includes the following information:

(a) The noncustodial parent's residential address, employer's address, social security number; date of birth, and driver's license number; and

(b) The custodial parent's social security number.

(2) DCS provides the most current information DCS has available in the support order summary.

(3) DCS must provide notice to the noncustodial parent (NCP) prior to releasing his or her residential and employer address information if the NCP has requested that he or she be provided notice before DCS releases the address information, as provided in WAC 388-14A-2120.

(4) Nonaddress information contained in the Support Order Summary may be released without notice to the other party to the support order.

(2005 Ed.)

WAC 388-14A-2120 Can the noncustodial parent request notice before DCS releases address information to the custodial parent? (1) The notice and hearing process in WAC 388-14A-2114 and 388-14A-2140 do not apply to requests for address information of the noncustodial parent (NCP).

(2) The NCP may request notice before whereabouts info is released to the custodial parent by notifying the division of child support (DCS), either orally or in writing.

(3) Once an NCP has submitted a request for notice, DCS follows the notice and hearing provisions in WAC 388-14A-2114 and 388-14A-2140 when it receives a request for address information.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.23.120, 74.08.090, 02-07-091, § 388-14A-2120, filed 3/19/02, effective 4/19/02; 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2120, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-030 and 388-14-050.]

WAC 388-14A-2125 Can DCS ever release address information without notice? (1) The division of child support (DCS) does not follow the notice and hearing process of WAC 388-14A-2114 and 388-14A-2140 if:

(a) Disclosure is denied under WAC 388-14A-2135;

(b) The CP has provided a written release as provided in WAC 388-14A-2115;

(c) The NCP has not filed a written request as provided in WAC 388-14A-2120; or

(d) A court order requires DCS to release the address information.

(2) DCS is not required to mail a notice prior to disclosure if the requesting party presents a facially valid warrant or a judicial finding that:

(a) The other party will likely flee to avoid service of process; or

(b) The other party will likely flee and that:

(i) A court of competent jurisdiction of this state or another state has entered an order giving legal and physical custody of a child whose address is requested to the requesting party; and

(ii) The custody order has not been altered, changed, modified, superseded, or dismissed; and

(iii) A child was taken or enticed from the address requesting party's physical custody without that party's consent; and

(iv) The address requesting party has not subsequently assented to being deprived of physical custody of the children; and

(v) The address requesting party is making reasonable efforts to regain physical custody of the child.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.23.120, 74.08.090, 02-07-091, § 388-14A-2125, filed 3/19/02, effective 4/19/02; 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2125, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-030 and 388-14-040.]

WAC 388-14A-2130 What if I object to the release of my address? When a party objects to a notice mailed under WAC 388-14A-2114, the division of child support may:

(1) Deny disclosure if the objection provides information based on which DCS would have denied disclosure under WAC 388-14A-2135; or

(2) Request that the office of administrative hearings (OAH) set the case for an administrative hearing under WAC 388-14A-2140.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.23.120, 74.08.090, 02-07-091, § 388-14A-2130, filed 3/19/02, effective 4/19/02.]

WAC 388-14A-2135 When might DCS deny a request for address information without going through the notice and hearing process? (1) The division of child support (DCS) denies a request for address information without going through the notice process under WAC 388-14A-2114 if:

(a) The department has determined, under WAC 388-422-0020, that the custodial parent (CP) has good cause for refusing to cooperate;

(b) The order, on which the request is based, restricts or limits the address requesting party's right to contact or visit the other party or the child by imposing conditions to protect the party or the child from harm;

(c) An order has been entered finding that the health, safety, or liberty of a party or child would be unreasonably put at risk by the disclosure of the information; or

(d) DCS has information which gives DCS reason to believe that release of the address may result in physical or emotional harm to the other party or to the children.

(2) Whenever DCS denies a request for disclosure under subsection (1) of this section, DCS notifies the nonrequesting party that disclosure of the address was requested and was denied.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 34.05.310 (4)(d) and 26.23.120, 03-20-072, § 388-14A-2135, filed 9/29/03, effective 10/30/03. Statutory Authority: RCW 26.23.120, 74.08.090, 02-07-091, § 388-14A-2135, filed 3/19/02, effective 4/19/02.]

WAC 388-14A-2140 What happens at a hearing on objection to disclosure of address information? In any administrative hearing requested under WAC 388-14A-2114 (1)(b)(ii):

(1) The parent requesting address disclosure and the other party to the order or action are independent parties in the hearing.

(2) The office of administrative hearings (OAH) sets the hearing as a phone hearing;

(3) Each party must provide OAH with a telephone number where the party can be reached for the hearing, at some time before the scheduled hearing.

(4) The administrative law judge (ALJ) must not disclose the location or phone number from which either party is appearing.

(5) The ALJ may, upon good cause shown, convert the hearing to an in-person hearing for the party requesting disclosure.

(6) The initial burden of proof is on the party requesting address disclosure, to show that the address request is for a purpose for which chapter 388-14A WAC specifically permits disclosure.

(7) If the party requesting address disclosure:

(a) Fails to meet this burden, the ALJ enters an order denying the address request;

(b) Establishes that the address was requested for a purpose for which disclosure is permitted, the other party must then show that it is reasonable to anticipate that physical or emotional harm to the party or a child will result from release of the address. The party objecting to address release:

(i) May show reasonable fear of harm by any form of evidence admissible under chapter 34.05 RCW; and

(ii) Is not required to provide supporting evidence required by WAC 388-422-0020, to establish a reasonable fear of harm.

(8) If either party fails to appear, the ALJ enters an order on default:

(a) If the party objecting to disclosure fails to appear, the order requires DCS to release the address unless the record contains documentary evidence which provides the basis for a finding that physical or emotional harm will likely result from release of the address;

(b) If the address requesting party fails to appear, the default order denies the request for address information.

(9) OAH arranges the attendance of the parties by telephone or other procedure showing due regard for the safety of the parties and the children.

(10) DCS issues a final response to the disclosure request within five working days of the exhaustion of administrative remedies, including any late appeal periods.

(11) If the custodial parent (CP) requests a hearing under this section in response to a department initiated review of the support order for modification, both parties to the support order are independent parties in the address disclosure hearing.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.23.120, 74.08.090, 02-07-091, § 388-14A-2140, filed 3/19/02, effective 4/19/02.]

WAC 388-14A-2150 How much does it cost to get copies of DCS records? (1) WAC 388-01-080 authorizes the division of child support (DCS) to charge copying and postage costs for responses to public disclosure.

(2) DCS charges fifteen cents per page for copies.

(3) DCS may waive copy fees in appropriate circumstances.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 34.05.310 (4)(d), 03-20-072, § 388-14A-2150, filed 9/29/03, effective 10/30/03. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2150, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-030.]

WAC 388-14A-2155 Can I appeal a denial of public disclosure by the division of child support? (1) If the division of child support (DCS) denies a request for public disclosure, you may file an appeal with DCS Public Disclosure Appeals, P.O. Box 9162, Olympia WA 98507-9162.

(2) If DCS denies your appeal, you may pursue the other options listed in WAC 388-01-130.

WAC 388-14A-2160 If my information is confidential, can DCS report me to a credit bureau? (1) When a consumer reporting agency, as defined by 45 C.F.R. 303.105 (a), requests information regarding the amount of overdue support owed by a noncustodial parent (NCP), the division of child support (DCS) provides this information if the amount of the support debt exceeds one thousand dollars.

(2) Before releasing information to the consumer reporting agency, DCS sends a written notice concerning the proposed release of the information to the NCP's last known address.

(3) The notice gives the NCP ten days from the date of the notice to request a conference board to contest the accuracy of the information. If the NCP requests a conference board, DCS does not release the information until a conference board decision has been issued.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-2160, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-030 and 388-14-410.]

PART C - HOW THE DIVISION OF CHILD SUPPORT DECIDES HOW MUCH CHILD SUPPORT SOMEONE SHOULD PAY

WAC 388-14A-3100 How does the division of child support establish a child support obligation when there is no child support order? (1) When there is no order setting the amount of child support a noncustodial parent (NCP) should pay, the division of child support (DCS) serves a support establishment notice on the NCP and the custodial parent. A support establishment notice is an administrative notice that can become an enforceable order for support if nobody requests a hearing on the notice.

(2) DCS may serve a support establishment notice when there is no order that:

(a) Establishes the noncustodial parent's support obligation for the child(ren) named in the notice; or

(b) Specifically relieves the noncustodial parent of a support obligation for the child(ren) named in the notice.

(3) Whether support is based upon an administrative order or a court order, DCS may serve a support establishment notice when the parties to a paternity order subsequently marry each other and then separate, or parties to a decree of dissolution remarry each other and then separate. The remaining provisions of the paternity order or the decree of dissolution, including provisions establishing paternity, remain in effect.

(4) Depending on the legal relationship between the NCP and the child for whom support is being set, DCS serves one of the following support establishment notices:

(a) Notice and finding of financial responsibility (NFFR), see WAC 388-14A-3115. This notice is used when the NCP is either the mother or the legal father of the child. WAC 388-14A-3102 describes when DCS uses a NFFR to set the support obligation of a father who has signed an acknowledgment or affidavit of paternity.

(b) Notice and finding of parental responsibility (NFPR), see WAC 388-14A-3120. This notice is used when the NCP was not married to the mother but has filed an affidavit or acknowledgment of paternity. WAC 388-14A-3102 describes when DCS uses a NFPR to set the support obligation of a father who has signed an acknowledgment or affidavit of paternity.

(c) Notice and finding of medical responsibility (NFMR), see WAC 388-14A-3125. This notice is used when DCS seeks to set only a medical support obligation instead of a monetary child support obligation.

WAC 388-14A-3102 When the parents have signed an acknowledgment or affidavit of paternity, which support establishment notice does the division of child support serve on the noncustodial parent? (1) When the parents of a child are not married, they may sign an affidavit of paternity, also called an acknowledgment of paternity. The legal effect of the affidavit or acknowledgment depends on when it is filed, in what state it is filed, and whether both parents were over age eighteen when the affidavit was signed.

(2) For affidavits or acknowledgments filed on or before August 14, 1997 with the center for health statistics in the state of Washington, the division of child support (DCS) serves a notice and finding of parental responsibility (NFPR). See WAC 388-14A-3120.

(3) For affidavits or acknowledgments filed after August 14, 1997 with the center for health statistics in the state of Washington, DCS serves a notice and finding of financial responsibility (NFFR) under WAC 388-14A-3115, because the affidavit or acknowledgment has become a conclusive presumption of paternity under RCW 26.26.320.

(4) For acknowledgments or affidavits filed with the vital records agency of another state, DCS determines whether to serve a NFFR or NFPR depending on the laws of the state where the affidavit is filed.

(5) DCS relies on the acknowledgment or affidavit, even if the mother or father were not yet eighteen years of age at the time they signed or filed the acknowledgment or affidavit, as provided in RCW 26.26.315(4).

(6) If the mother was married at the time of the child's birth, but not to the man acknowledging paternity, the man to whom she was married must also have signed and filed a denial of paternity within ten days of the child's birth.

(7) If the acknowledgment or affidavit is legally deficient in any way, DCS may refer the case for paternity establishment in the superior court.

(8) If the mother is the noncustodial parent, DCS serves a NFFR.

WAC 388-14A-3105 How does the division of child support serve support establishment notices? The division of child support (DCS) serves a notice and finding of financial responsibility (NFFR), notice and finding of parental responsibility (NFPR), or notice and finding of medical responsibility (NFMR) in the following manner:

(1) On the noncustodial parent:

(a) By certified mail, return receipt requested; or

(b) By personal service.

(2) On the custodial parent:

(a) By first class mail to the last known address, if the custodial parent is the one who applied for services.

(b) In the same manner as on the noncustodial parent, if the custodial parent is not the one who applied for services.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.220(1), 74.08.090, 74.20A.055, 74.20A.056, 00-15-016 and 00-20-022, § 388-14A-3105, filed 7/10/00 and 9/25/00, effective 11/6/00.]

WAC 388-14A-3110 When can a support establishment notice become a final order? (1) The notice and finding of financial responsibility (NFFR), notice and finding of parental responsibility (NFPR), or notice and finding of medical responsibility (NFMFR) becomes a final, enforceable order if neither the custodial parent or the noncustodial parent objects and requests a timely hearing on the notice. An objection is also called a hearing request.

(2) If a timely objection is filed, the division of child support (DCS) cannot enforce the terms of the notice until a final order as defined in this section is entered.

(3) To be timely, the noncustodial parent must object within the following time limits:

(a) Within twenty days of service, if the noncustodial parent was served in Washington state.

(b) Within sixty days of service, if the noncustodial parent was served outside of Washington state.

(4) To be timely, the custodial parent must object within twenty days of service.

(5) An objection to a support establishment notice is a request for hearing on the notice.

(6) The effective date of the hearing request is the date the division of child support (DCS) receives the request for hearing.

(7) When an NFPR is served, the order will not become a final order if either parent requests genetic testing under WAC 388-14A-3120(14) within the following time limits:

(a) The noncustodial parent must request genetic testing within twenty days of service, if the noncustodial parent was served in Washington state.

(b) The noncustodial parent must request genetic testing within sixty days of service, if the noncustodial parent was served outside of Washington state.

(c) The custodial parent must request genetic testing within twenty days of service of the notice.

(8) The noncustodial parent or custodial parent must make the hearing request or request for genetic testing, either in writing or orally, at any DCS office. See WAC 388-14A-6100 regarding oral requests for hearing.

(9) After a timely request for hearing, the final order is one of the following, whichever occurs latest:

(a) An agreed settlement or consent order under WAC 388-14A-3600;

(b) An initial decision as defined in WAC 388-14A-6105 and further described in WAC 388-14A-6110, for which twenty-one days have passed and no party has filed a petition for review (this includes an order of default if neither party appears for hearing); or

(c) A final order as defined in WAC 388-14A-6105 and further described in WAC 388-14A-6115; or

(d) A review decision.

WAC 388-14A-3115 The notice and finding of financial responsibility is used to set child support when paternity is not an issue. (1) A notice and finding of financial responsibility (NFFR) is an administrative notice served by the division of child support (DCS) that can become an enforceable order for support, pursuant to RCW 74.20A.055.

(2) The NFFR:

(a) Advises the noncustodial parent and the custodial parent (who can be either a parent or the physical custodian of the child) of the support obligation for the child or children named in the notice. The NFFR fully and fairly advises the parents of their rights and responsibilities under the NFFR.

(b) Includes the information required by RCW 26.23.050 and 74.20A.055.

(c) Includes the noncustodial parent's health insurance obligation, as required by RCW 26.18.170 and 26.23.050.

(d) May include an obligation to provide support for day care or special child-rearing expenses, pursuant to chapter 26.19 RCW.

(e) Warns the noncustodial parent and the custodial parent that at an administrative hearing, the administrative law judge (ALJ) may set the support obligation in an amount higher or lower than, or different from, the amount stated in the NFFR, if necessary for an accurate support order.

(3) After service of the NFFR, the noncustodial parent and the custodial parent must notify DCS of any change of address, or of any changes that may affect the support obligation.

(4) The noncustodial parent must make all support payments to the Washington state support registry after service of the NFFR. DCS does not give the NCP credit for payments made to any other party after service of a NFFR, except as provided by WAC 388-14A-3375.

(5) DCS may take immediate wage withholding action and enforcement action without further notice under chapters 26.18, 26.23, and 74.20A RCW when the NFFR is a final order. WAC 388-14A-3110 describes when the notice becomes a final order.

(6) In most cases, a child support obligation continues until the child reaches the age of eighteen. WAC 388-14A-3810 describes when the obligation under the NFFR can end sooner or later than age eighteen.

(7) If paternity has been established by an affidavit or acknowledgment of paternity, DCS attaches a copy of the acknowledgment, affidavit, or certificate of birth record information to the notice. A party wishing to challenge the acknowledgment or denial of paternity may only bring an action in court to rescind or challenge the acknowledgment or denial of paternity under RCW 26.26.330 and 26.26.335.

(8) If the parents filed a paternity affidavit or acknowledgment of paternity in another state, and by that state's law paternity is therefore conclusively established, DCS may serve a NFFR to establish a support obligation.

(9) A hearing on a NFFR is for the limited purpose of resolving the NCP's accrued support debt and current support obligation. The NCP has the burden of proving any defenses to liability.

WAC 388-14A-3120 The notice and finding of parental responsibility is used to set child support when the father's duty of support is based upon an affidavit of paternity which is not a conclusive presumption of paternity. (1) A notice and finding of parental responsibility (NFPR) is an administrative notice served by the division of child support (DCS) that can become an enforceable order for support, pursuant to RCW 74.20A.056.

(2) The NFPR differs from a notice and finding of financial responsibility (NFFR) (see WAC 388-14A-3115) because the parties may request genetic testing to contest paternity after being served with a NFPR.

(3) DCS serves a NFPR when:

(a) An affidavit acknowledging paternity is on file with the center for health statistics and was filed before August 14, 1997; or

(b) An affidavit acknowledging paternity is on file with the vital records agency of another state and the laws of that state allow the parents to withdraw the affidavit or challenge paternity.

(4) DCS attaches a copy of the acknowledgment of paternity or certification of birth record information to the NFPR.

(5) The NFPR advises the noncustodial parent and the custodial parent (who is either the mother or the physical custodian of the child) of the support obligation for the child or children named in the notice. The NFPR fully and fairly advises the parents of their rights and responsibilities under the NFPR. The NFPR warns the noncustodial parent and the custodial parent that at an administrative hearing on the notice, the administrative law judge (ALJ) may set the support obligation in an amount higher or lower than, or different from, the amount stated in the NFPR, if necessary for an accurate support order.

(6) The NFPR includes the information required by RCW 26.23.050, 74.20A.055, and 74.20A.056.

(7) The NFPR includes the noncustodial parent's health insurance obligation, pursuant to RCW 26.18.170 and 26.23.050.

(8) The NFPR may include an obligation to provide support for day care expenses or special child-rearing expenses, pursuant to chapter 26.19 RCW.

(9) DCS may not assess an accrued support debt for a period longer than five years before the NFPR is served. This limitation does not apply to the extent that the noncustodial parent hid or left the state of Washington for the purpose of avoiding service.

(10) After service of the NFPR, the noncustodial parent and the custodial parent must notify DCS of any change of address, or of any changes that may affect the support obligation.

(11) The noncustodial parent must make all support payments to the Washington state support registry after service of the NFPR. DCS does not give the NCP credit for payments made to any other party after service of the NFPR, except as provided by 388-14A-3375.

(12) DCS may take immediate wage withholding action and enforcement action without further notice under chapters

26.18, 26.23, and 74.20A RCW when the NFPR is a final order. See WAC 388-14A-3110 for when the notice becomes a final order.

(13) In most cases, a child support obligation continues until the child reaches the age of eighteen. WAC 388-14A-3810 describes when the obligation under the NFPR can end sooner or later than age eighteen.

(14) Either the noncustodial parent, or the mother, if she is also the custodial parent, may request genetic tests. A mother who is not the custodial parent may at any time request that DCS refer the case for paternity establishment in the superior court.

(15) DCS does not stop enforcement of the order unless DCS receives a timely request for hearing or a timely request for genetic tests. See WAC 388-14A-3110 for time limits. DCS does not refund any money collected under the notice if the noncustodial parent is later:

(a) Excluded from being the father by genetic tests; or

(b) Found not to be the father by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(16) If the noncustodial parent requested genetic tests and was not excluded as the father, he may request within twenty days from the date of service of the genetic tests in Washington, or sixty days from the date of service of the genetic tests outside of Washington:

(a) A hearing on the NFPR.

(b) That DCS initiate a parentage action in superior court under chapter 26.26 RCW.

(17) If the noncustodial parent was not excluded as the father, the mother, if she is also the custodial parent, may within twenty days of the date of service of the genetic tests request:

(a) A hearing on the NFPR; or

(b) That DCS initiate a parentage action in superior court under chapter 26.26 RCW.

(18) If the NCP is excluded by genetic testing, DCS may refer the case for paternity establishment in the superior court.

(19) A hearing on a NFPR is for the limited purpose of resolving the accrued support debt, current support obligation and reimbursement to DCS for paternity-related costs. The NCP has the burden of proving any defenses to liability.

WAC 388-14A-3125 The notice and finding of medical responsibility is used to set a medical support obligation when the custodial parent receiving medical assistance declines full child support enforcement services. (1) A notice and finding of medical responsibility (NFMR) is an administrative notice served by the division of child support (DCS) that can become an enforceable order for support pursuant to chapter 74.20A RCW to establish and enforce a health insurance obligation.

(2) DCS may serve a NFMR when:

(a) The custodial parent (who is either a parent or the physical custodian of the child) or a dependent child receives or is certified eligible to receive medical assistance and is not receiving cash grant public assistance under 74.12 RCW; and

(b) The custodial parent has requested medical support enforcement services only and has asked DCS in writing not to collect monetary child support.

(3) The NFMR advises the NCP and the CP of the medical support obligation for the children named in the notice. The NFMR fully and fairly advises the parties of their rights and responsibilities under the NFMR.

(4) The NFMR warns the noncustodial parent and the custodial parent that at an administrative hearing on the notice, the administrative law judge (ALJ) may set the support obligation in an amount higher or lower than, or different from, the amount stated in the NFMR, if necessary for an accurate support order.

(5) The NFMR includes:

(a) The information required by RCW 26.23.050;

(b) The noncustodial parent's health insurance obligation, pursuant to RCW 26.18.170;

(c) The maximum premium amount the noncustodial parent must pay; and

(d) The income basis used to calculate the maximum premium amount, pursuant to WAC 388-14A-3200.

(6) The income basis for an obligation established by DCS for a NFMR is not binding on any party in any later action to establish a cash child support obligation.

(7) After service of the NFMR, the noncustodial parent (NCP) and the custodial parent must notify DCS of any change of address, or of any changes that may affect the support obligation.

(8) DCS may take enforcement action under RCW 26.18.170 and chapter 388-14A WAC without further notice when the NFMR is a final order. See WAC 388-14A-3110 for how a notice becomes a final order.

(9) In most cases, a child support obligation continues until the child reaches the age of eighteen. WAC 388-14A-3810 describes when the obligation under the NFMR can end sooner or later than age eighteen.

(10) If the custodial parent applies for full enforcement services while a hearing on a NFMR is pending, DCS may, at any time before the hearing record is closed, convert the hearing to a hearing on a notice and finding of financial responsibility (NFFR) under WAC 388-14A-3115 or a notice and finding of parental responsibility (NFPR) under WAC 388-14A-3120. To convert the hearing, DCS serves a NFFR or NFPR on the parents and files a copy with the administrative law judge (ALJ). The ALJ may grant a continuance if a party requests additional time to respond to the claim for monetary child support.

(11) In a NFMR hearing, the ALJ must determine the:

(a) Basic support obligation, without deviations; and

(b) Maximum premium amount under chapter 26.19 RCW.

(12) A hearing on a NFMR is for the limited purpose of resolving the NCP's medical support responsibility. The NCP has the burden of proving defenses to liability.

WAC 388-14A-3130 What happens if a parent makes a timely request for hearing on a support establishment notice? (1) A timely request for hearing is an objection made within the time limits of WAC 388-14A-3110. For late (or untimely) hearing requests, see WAC 388-14A-3135.

(2) If either parent makes a timely request for hearing, the division of child support (DCS) submits the hearing request to the office of administrative hearings (OAH) for scheduling.

(3) OAH sends a notice of hearing by first class mail to all parties at their address last known to DCS, notifying each party of the date, time and place of the hearing. DCS, the non-custodial parent, and the custodial parent are all parties to the hearing.

(4) A timely request for hearing stops the support establishment notice from becoming a final order, so DCS cannot collect on the notice. However, in appropriate circumstances, the administrative law judge (ALJ) may enter a temporary support order under WAC 388-14A-3850.

(5) A hearing on an objection to a support establishment notice is for the limited purpose of resolving the NCP's accrued support debt and current support obligation. The NCP has the burden of proving any defenses to liability.

WAC 388-14A-3131 What happens if neither parent appears for the hearing? (1) If neither parent appears at the scheduled hearing after being sent a notice of hearing, the administrative law judge (ALJ) enters an order on default, declaring the support establishment notice's claim for support to be final and subject to collection action. See WAC 388-14A-6110 and 388-14A-6115 to determine whether the ALJ issues an initial order or a final order.

(2) As provided in WAC 388-14A-6125, an initial order on default is subject to collection action on the twenty-second day after the order was mailed by the office of administrative hearings, and a final default order is enforceable immediately upon entry.

(3) A parent that did not appear may petition to vacate the default order pursuant to WAC 388-14A-6150.

(a) If the ALJ vacates the order of default, the ALJ then conducts a full hearing on the merits of the NFFR, NFPR or NFMR. All parties may participate in the hearing.

(b) If the parent who did not appear at the hearing is unsuccessful in the motion to vacate the default order, the ALJ may treat the petition as a petition to modify the support order.

WAC 388-14A-3132 What happens if only one parent appears for the hearing? (1) If one parent appears at the hearing, but the other parent fails to appear after being sent a notice of hearing, the administrative law judge (ALJ) enters an order of default against the parent that did not appear. The hearing proceeds as described in WAC 388-14A-3140. See WAC 388-14A-6110 and 388-14A-6115 to determine whether the ALJ issues an initial order or a final order.

(2) The division of child support (DCS) and the parent that did appear may enter a consent order, but not an agreed settlement. The obligation in the consent order may be higher or lower, or different from, the terms set forth in the notice, without further notice to the nonappearing parent, if necessary for an accurate support order. The terms of the consent order become final when the order of default to the parent that did not appear becomes final, as provided in WAC 388-14A-6125.

(3) DCS and the parent that did appear may proceed to hearing. The ALJ may enter an initial decision setting an obligation which is higher or lower, or different from, the terms set forth in the notice, without further notice to the nonappearing parent, if necessary for an accurate support order. See WAC 388-14A-6110 and 388-14A-6115 to determine whether the ALJ issues an initial order or a final order.

(4) The parent that did not appear may petition to vacate the order of default pursuant to WAC 388-14A-6150.

(5) If the ALJ vacates the order of default, the ALJ then conducts a full hearing on the merits of the notice and finding of financial responsibility (NFFR), notice and finding of parental responsibility (NFPR) or notice and finding of medical responsibility (NFMR). All parties may participate in the hearing.

(6) If the parent who did not appear at the hearing is unsuccessful in the motion to vacate the default order, the ALJ may treat the petition as a petition to modify the support order.

WAC 388-14A-3133 What happens when the non-custodial parent and the custodial parent both appear for the hearing? If both parents appear at the hearing:

(1) All parties may enter an agreed settlement or consent order. WAC 388-14A-3600 describes when an agreed settlement or consent order is a final order.

(2) All parties may proceed to hearing, after which the ALJ issues an order. The ALJ may enter an order setting an obligation which is higher or lower, or different from, the terms set forth in the notice, if necessary for an accurate support order. See WAC 388-14A-6110 and 388-14A-6115 to determine whether the ALJ issues an initial order or a final order.

(3) In a hearing under this section, the division of child support (DCS) proceeds first to document the support amount that DCS believes to be correct. Following DCS' presentation, the custodial parent (CP) and the noncustodial parent (NCP) may proceed in turn to show why the DCS position is wrong.

WAC 388-14A-3135 Late hearings, or hearing on untimely objections to support establishment notices. (1)

For orders established before August 30, 1997, if the noncustodial parent did not timely object to the notice and finding of financial responsibility (NFFR), notice and finding of parental responsibility (NFPR), or notice and finding of medical responsibility (NFMR), only the noncustodial parent may petition for a late hearing, pursuant to WAC 388-14A-3500.

(2) For orders established after August 30, 1997, if neither parent timely objected to the NFFR, NFPR, or NFMR, either the noncustodial parent or the custodial parent may petition for a late hearing, pursuant to WAC 388-14A-3500. See WAC 388-14A-3110 for the time limits for a timely hearing request.

(3) The division of child support (DCS) continues to enforce the order even if a late request for hearing is filed.

(4) If DCS receives the late hearing request within one year of the date of service of the notice, the parent requesting the hearing is not required to show good cause to have a hearing on the merits of the notice.

(5) If DCS receives the late hearing request more than a year after the date of service of the notice, the parent requesting the hearing must show good cause why the hearing request was not timely. WAC 388-14A-1020 contains the definition of good cause.

WAC 388-14A-3140 What can happen at a hearing on a support establishment notice? (1)

When a parent requests a hearing on a notice and finding of financial responsibility (NFFR), notice and finding of parental responsibility (NFPR), or notice and finding of medical responsibility (NFMR), the hearing is limited to resolving the accrued support debt, current support and future support obligation.

(2) The noncustodial parent has the burden of proving any defenses to liability. See WAC 388-14A-3370.

(3) Both the NCP and the custodial parent (CP) must show cause why the terms in the NFFR, NFPR, or NFMR are incorrect.

(4) The administrative law judge (ALJ) or review judge has authority to enter a support obligation that may be higher or lower than the amounts set forth in the NFFR, NFPR, or NFMR, including the support debt, current support, and the future support obligation. The ALJ or review judge may enter an order that differs from the terms stated in the notice, including different debt periods, if the obligation is supported by credible evidence presented by any party at the hearing, without further notice to any nonappearing party, if the ALJ or review judge finds that due process requirements have been met.

(5) The ALJ has no authority to determine custody or visitation issues.

(6) When a party has advised the ALJ that they will participate by telephone, the ALJ attempts to contact that party on the record before beginning the proceeding or rules on a motion. The ALJ may not disclose to the other parties the telephone number or the location of the party appearing by phone.

(7) In certain cases, there is no "custodial parent" because the child or children are in foster care.

(a) If the NCP fails to appear for hearing, see WAC 388-14A-3131.

(b) If the NCP appears for hearing, see WAC 388-14A-3133.

(8) In certain cases, there can be two NCPs, called "joint NCPs." This happens when a husband and wife are jointly served a support establishment notice for a common child who is not residing in their home.

(a) If both NCPs fail to appear for hearing, see WAC 388-14A-3131;

(b) If both NCPs appear for hearing, see WAC 388-14A-3133; or

(c) One joint NCP may appear and represent the other joint NCP.

(9) When the CP asserts good cause level B (see WAC 388-422-0020), DCS notifies the CP that they will continue to receive documents, notices and orders. The CP may choose to participate at any time. Failure to appear at hearing results in a default order but does not result in a sanction for noncooperation under WAC 388-14A-2041.

(10) If any party appears for the hearing and elects to proceed, absent the granting of a continuance the ALJ hears the matter and enters an initial decision and order based on the evidence presented. The ALJ includes a party's failure to appear in the initial decision and order as an order of default against that party. The direct appeal rights of the party who failed to appear shall be limited to an appeal on the record made at the hearing.

WAC 388-14A-3275 The division of child support may amend an administrative notice at any time before a final administrative order is entered. (1) The division of child support (DCS) may orally amend a notice issued under this chapter at the hearing to conform to the evidence. When DCS amends a notice at the hearing:

(a) The administrative law judge (ALJ) may grant a continuance when necessary to give the parties additional time to present evidence and argument as to the amendment; and

(b) DCS must put the terms of the amendment in writing and provide a copy, in person or by regular mail to the last known address of the parties, and to the ALJ within a reasonable time after amending the notice.

(2) The amended notice does not generate a new hearing right.

(3) When DCS has obtained reliable information that the income basis of the notice is inaccurate, DCS amends a notice issued under WAC 388-14A-3115, 388-14A-3120, or 388-14A-3125 prior to seeking a default order for failure to appear. An amendment under this subsection must be made according to the terms of subsection (1) above.

(4) Subsection (3) of this section does not apply:

(a) To cases in which no one has requested a hearing; or

(b) After the ALJ has closed the hearing record.

(5) If DCS has amended the notice under this section and either the noncustodial parent or the custodial parent fail to appear at a rescheduled hearing date, the ALJ must enter a default order on the terms of the amended notice.

WAC 388-14A-3300 How does the division of child support require me to make my support payments to the Washington state support registry when my support order says to pay someone else? (1) If a support order requires the noncustodial parent (NCP) to pay support to anywhere other than the Washington state support registry (WSSR), the division of child support (DCS) may serve a notice on the NCP telling the NCP to make all future payments to the WSSR.

(2) DCS may serve a notice of support debt on a noncustodial parent (NCP) as provided in RCW 74.20A.040. See WAC 388-14A-3304.

(3) DCS may serve a notice of support owed on an NCP as provided in RCW 26.23.110. See WAC 388-14A-3310.

WAC 388-14A-3304 The division of child support serves a notice of support debt when it is enforcing a foreign court order or administrative order for support. (1)

The division of child support (DCS) may serve a notice of support debt on a noncustodial parent (NCP) under RCW 74.20A.040 to provide notice that DCS is enforcing a foreign court order or foreign administrative order for support.

(2) DCS serves a notice of support debt like a summons in a civil action or by certified mail, return receipt requested.

(3) In a notice of support debt, DCS includes the information required by RCW 74.20A.040, the amount of current and future support, accrued support debt, any health insurance coverage obligation, and any day care costs under the court or administrative order.

(4) After service of a notice of support debt, the NCP must make all support payments to the Washington state support registry. DCS does not credit payments made to any other party after service of a notice of support debt except as provided in WAC 388-14A-3375.

(5) A notice of support debt becomes final and subject to immediate wage withholding and enforcement without further notice under chapters 26.18, 26.23, and 74.20A RCW, subject to the terms of the order, unless, within twenty days of service of the notice in Washington, the NCP:

(a) Files a request with DCS for a conference board under WAC 388-14A-6400. The effective date of a conference board request is the date DCS receives the request; or

(b) Obtains a stay from the superior court.

(6) A notice of support debt served in another state becomes final according to WAC 388-14A-7200.

(7) Enforcement of the following are not stayed by a request for a conference board or hearing under this section or WAC 388-14A-6400:

(a) Current and future support stated in the order; and

(b) Any portion of the support debt that the NCP and custodial parent (CP) fail to claim is not owed.

(8) Following service of the notice of support debt on the NCP, DCS mails to the last known address of the CP and/or the payee under the order:

(a) A copy of the notice of support debt; and

(b) A notice to payee under WAC 388-14A-3315 regarding the payee's rights to contest the notice of support debt. The CP who is not the payee under the order has the same rights to contest the notice of support debt.

(9) If the NCP requests a conference board under subsection (5)(a) of this section, DCS mails a copy of the notice of conference board to the CP informing the CP of the CP's right to:

(a) Participate in the conference board; or

(b) Request a hearing under WAC 388-14A-3320 within twenty days of the date of a notice of conference board that was mailed to a Washington address. If the notice of conference board was mailed to an out-of-state address, the CP may request a hearing within sixty days of the date of the notice of conference board. The effective date of a hearing request is the date DCS receives the request.

(10) If the CP requests a hearing under subsection (9) of this section, DCS must:

(a) Stay enforcement of the notice of support debt except as required under subsection (6) of this section; and

(b) Notify the NCP of the hearing.

(11) If a CP requests a late hearing under subsection (8) of this section, the CP must show good cause for filing the late request.

(12) The NCP is limited to a conference board to contest the notice and may not request a hearing on a notice of support debt. However, if the CP requests a hearing, the NCP may participate in the hearing.

(13) A notice of support debt must fully and fairly inform the NCP of the rights and responsibilities in this section.

WAC 388-14A-3310 The division of child support serves a notice of support owed to establish a fixed dollar amount under an existing child support order. (1)

The division of child support (DCS) may serve a notice of support owed on a noncustodial parent (NCP) under RCW 26.23.110 to establish a fixed dollar amount of monthly support and accrued support debt:

(a) If a support obligation under a court order is not a fixed dollar amount; or

(b) To implement an adjustment or escalation provision of the court order.

(2) The notice of support owed includes day care costs and medical support if the court order provides for such costs.

(3) DCS serves a notice of support owed on an NCP like a summons in a civil action or by certified mail, return receipt requested.

(4) Following service on the NCP, DCS mails a notice to payee under WAC 388-14A-3315.

(5) In a notice of support owed, DCS includes the information required by RCW 26.23.110, and:

(a) The factors stated in the order to calculate monthly support;

(b) Any other information not contained in the order that was used to calculate monthly support and the support debt; and

(c) Notice of the right to request a review of the order once yearly or on the date, if any, given in the order for an annual review.

(6) The NCP must make all support payments after service of a notice of support owed to the Washington state support registry. DCS does not credit payments made to any other party after service of a notice of support owed except as provided in WAC 388-14A-3375.

(7) A notice of support owed becomes final and subject to immediate wage withholding and enforcement without further notice under chapters 26.18, 26.23, and 74.20A RCW unless the NCP, within twenty days of service of the notice in Washington:

(a) Contacts DCS, and signs an agreed settlement;

(i) Files a request with DCS for a hearing under subsection (9) of this section; or

(ii) Obtains a stay from the superior court.

(b) A notice of support owed served in another state becomes final according to WAC 388-14A-7200.

(8) DCS may enforce at any time:

(a) A fixed or minimum dollar amount for monthly support stated in the court order or by prior administrative order entered under this section;

(b) Any part of a support debt that has been reduced to a fixed dollar amount by a court or administrative order; and

(c) Any part of a support debt that neither party claims is incorrect.

(9) A hearing on a notice of support owed is only for interpreting the court order for support and any modifying orders and not for changing or deferring the support provisions of the order. The hearing is only to determine:

(a) The amount of monthly support as a fixed dollar amount;

(b) Any accrued arrears through the date of hearing; and

(c) If a condition precedent in the court order to begin or modify the support obligation was met.

(10) If the NCP requested the hearing, he or she has the burden of proving any defenses to liability that apply under WAC 388-14A-3370 or that the amounts stated in the notice of support owed are incorrect.

(11) A notice of support owed or an initial or review decision issued under subsection (9) of this section must inform the parties of the right to request a review of the order once yearly or on the date, if any, given in the order for an annual review.

(12) If an NCP requests a late hearing, the NCP must show good cause for filing the late hearing request if it is filed more than one year after service of the notice of support owed.

(13) A notice of support owed fully and fairly informs the NCP of the rights and responsibilities in this section.

(a) A notice of support owed under WAC 388-14A-3310; or

(b) A notice of support debt under WAC 388-14A-3304.

(2) DCS sends the notice to payee by first class mail to the last known address of the payee and encloses a copy of the notice served on the NCP.

(3) In a notice to payee, DCS informs the payee of the right to file a request with DCS for a hearing on a notice of support owed under WAC 388-14A-3310 or a notice of support debt under WAC 388-14A-3304 within twenty days of the date of a notice to payee that was mailed to a Washington address.

WAC 388-14A-3320 What happens at a hearing on a notice of support debt or notice of support owed? (1) A hearing on a notice of support debt or a notice of support owed is for the limited purpose of determining the support debt through the date of the hearing under the order.

(2) The office of administrative hearings (OAH) sends a notice of hearing on a notice of support debt to the noncustodial parent (NCP), to the division of child support (DCS), and to the payee. The NCP and the payee each may participate in the hearing as an independent party.

(3) If only one party appears and wishes to proceed with the hearing, the administrative law judge (ALJ) holds a hearing and issues an initial decision based on the evidence presented or continues the hearing.

(a) An initial decision issued under this subsection includes an order of default against the nonappearing party and limits the appeal rights of the nonappearing party to the record made at the hearing.

(b) If neither the NCP nor the payee appears or wishes to proceed with the hearing, the ALJ issues an order of default against both parties.

(4) If the payee requests a late hearing on a notice of support owed or a notice of support debt, the payee must show good cause for filing the late hearing request.

WAC 388-14A-3350 Are there any limits on how much back support the division of child support can seek to establish? (1) When no public assistance is being paid to the custodial parent (CP) and the children, the division of child support (DCS) starts the claim for support as of the date DCS receives the application for nonassistance services.

(2) When another state or an Indian tribe is paying public assistance to the CP and children, DCS starts the claim for support as of the date specified by the other state or tribe.

(3) For the notice and finding of parental responsibility, WAC 388-14A-3120(9) limits the back support obligation.

(4) When the state of Washington is paying public assistance to the CP and/or the children, the following rules apply:

(a) For support obligations owed for months on or after September 1, 1979, DCS must exercise reasonable efforts to locate the noncustodial parent (NCP);

(b) DCS serves a notice and finding of financial or parental responsibility within sixty days of the date the state assumes responsibility for the support of a dependent child on whose behalf support is sought;

(c) If DCS does not serve the notice within sixty days, DCS loses the right to reimbursement of public assistance payments made after the sixtieth day and before the notice is served;

(d) DCS does not lose the right to reimbursement of public assistance payments for any period of time:

(i) During which DCS exercised reasonable efforts to locate the NCP; or

(ii) For sixty days after the date on which DCS received an acknowledgment of paternity for the child for whom the state has assumed responsibility, and paternity has not been established.

(5) The limitation in subsection (4) does not apply to:

(a) Cases in which the physical custodian is claiming good cause for not cooperating with the department; and

(b) Cases where parentage is an issue and:

(i) Has not been established by superior court order; or

(ii) Is not the subject of a presumption under RCW 26.26.320.

(6) DCS considers a prorated share of each monthly public assistance payment as paid on each day of the month.

WAC 388-14A-3370 What legal defenses are available to a noncustodial parent when DCS seeks to enforce a support obligation? (1) A noncustodial parent (NCP) who objects to a notice and finding of financial, parental, or medical responsibility has the burden of establishing defenses to liability. Defenses include, but are not limited to:

(a) Proof of payment;

(b) The existence of a superior court order, tribal court order, or administrative order that sets the NCP's support obligation or specifically relieves the NCP of a support obligation for the child(ren) named in the notice;

(c) The party is not a responsible parent as defined by RCW 74.20A.020(7);

(d) The amount requested in the notice is inconsistent with the Washington state child support schedule, chapter 26.19 RCW;

(e) Equitable estoppel, subject to WAC 388-14A-6500; or

(f) Any other matter constituting an avoidance or affirmative defense.

(2) A dependent child's or a custodial parent's ineligibility to receive public assistance is not a defense to the assessment of a support obligation.

(3) An NCP may be excused from providing support for a dependent child if the NCP is the legal custodian of the child and has been wrongfully deprived of physical custody of the child. The NCP may be excused only for any period during which the NCP was wrongfully deprived of custody. The NCP must establish that:

(a) A court of competent jurisdiction of any state has entered an order giving legal and physical custody of the child to the NCP;

(b) The custody order has not been modified, superseded, or dismissed;

(c) The child was taken or enticed from the NCP's physical custody and the NCP has not subsequently assented to deprivation. Proof of enticement requires more than a showing that the child is allowed to live without certain restrictions the NCP would impose; and

(d) Within a reasonable time after deprivation, the NCP exerted and continues to exert reasonable efforts to regain physical custody of the child.

WAC 388-14A-3375 What kinds of credits does the division of child support give when establishing or enforcing an administrative support order? (1) After the noncustodial parent (NCP) has been advised of the requirement to make payments to the Washington state support registry (WSSR) by service of a support establishment notice, or by entry of a support order requiring payments to WSSR, the NCP may obtain credit against the support obligation only:

(a) By cash, check, electronic funds transfer, or money order payments through WSSR or payment of health insurance premiums; or

(b) As provided under subsections (3) and (6) of this section.

(2) The division of child support (DCS) allows credit against a NCP's support debt for family needs provided directly to a custodial parent (CP), a child, or provided through a vendor or third party only when the:

(a) Items are provided before service of the notice on the NCP;

(b) NCP proves the items provided were intended to satisfy the NCP's support obligation; and

(c) Items are food, clothing, shelter, or medical attendance directly related to the care, support, and maintenance of a child.

(3) After service of the notice, an NCP may obtain credit against the parent's current support obligation only when the NCP proves that the payments were made and:

(a) DCS determines there:

(i) Is no prejudice to:

(A) The CP, a child, or other person; or

(B) An agency entitled to receive the support payments.

(ii) Are special circumstances of an equitable nature justifying credit for payments.

(b) A court of competent jurisdiction determines credit should be granted after a hearing where all interested parties were given an opportunity to be heard.

(4) DCS does not allow credit for shelter payments made before service of the notice in an amount more than the greater of the:

(a) Shelter allocation in the public assistance standards for the period when payments were made; or

(b) One-half of the actual shelter payment.

(5) DCS does not allow credit for shelter payments made after service of the notice.

(6) DCS applies credits for dependent benefits allowed under RCW 26.18.190 as required by WAC 388-14A-4200.

WAC 388-14A-3400 Are there limitations on how much of my income is available for child support? (1) There are two kinds of limitations based on your income when we set your child support obligation:

(a) The monthly support amount cannot exceed forty-five percent of your monthly net income, unless there are special circumstances as provided in chapter 26.19 RCW; and

(b) The monthly support amount cannot reduce your net monthly income below the one person need standard (WAC 388-478-0015), unless there are special circumstances as provided in chapter 26.19 RCW.

(2) RCW 74.20A.090 limits the amount that can be withheld from your wages for child support to fifty percent of your net monthly earnings.

WAC 388-14A-3500 A person must show good cause for filing a late request for hearing. (1) A person with a right to a hearing under this chapter may file a request for a late hearing after the period for requesting a timely hearing has passed. The effective date of a hearing request is the date the division of child support (DCS) receives the request.

(2) Filing a request for a late hearing does not stop:

(a) Collection and enforcement under chapters 26.18, 26.23, or 74.20A RCW;

(b) The effect of any qualified domestic relations order;

(c) Certification of the support debt to the Internal Revenue Service for an income tax refund offset; or

(d) Distribution upon receipt of moneys collected.

(3)(a) A person who files a late hearing request must show good cause for not filing a timely hearing request unless good cause is not required by the rule governing the notice that is objected to.

(b) If the administrative law judge (ALJ) finds good cause for filing a late hearing request, the ALJ:

(i) Issues a decision on the merits of the objection to the notice; and

(ii) Considers whether to order a stay of collection activities until such time as an initial decision or a temporary order under WAC 388-14A-3850(ff) is issued. Upon request, the ALJ must, based on the evidence presented at hearing, issue an order under WAC 388-14A-3850(ff), setting or denying temporary support pending the initial decision.

(c) If the ALJ does not find good cause for filing a late hearing request, the ALJ may issue a decision on modification of the current and future support obligation, if applicable, without a showing of a change of circumstances.

(4) If the ALJ finds good cause for filing a late hearing request, the division of child support (DCS) does not refund any excess amounts collected before the finding of good cause. The ALJ may issue a decision which gives credit against future support in the amount of the excess collections, so long as this does not:

(a) Create hardship to the children for whom support is sought; and

(b) Offset an overpayment of the obligation to the custodial parent (CP) against a debt owed to the department; or

(c) Offset an overpayment of the obligation to the department against a debt owed to the CP.

WAC 388-14A-3600 The parties may resolve any child support case by entering a consent order or an agreed settlement. (1) The division of child support (DCS) may enter a consent order or agreed settlement to finalize any dispute in which a party requests a hearing. DCS attempts to settle matters through agreement when possible.

(a) An agreed settlement is signed only by the parties (DCS, the custodial parent and the noncustodial parent).

(b) A consent order must be signed by the parties and by an administrative law judge (ALJ) provided that:

(i) In a telephone hearing, the ALJ may sign on behalf of any party if that party gives their consent on the record; and

(ii) The ALJ approves a consent order without requiring testimony or a hearing, unless entry of the order would be unlawful.

(2) An agreed settlement or consent order is final and enforceable on:

(a) The date the last party signs the agreed settlement, if all parties signed the agreed settlement;

(b) The date the ALJ signs the consent order; or

(c) If the ALJ defaults one of the parties to the proceeding, the latest of the following dates:

(i) The date the ALJ signed the consent order;

(ii) The date the last party signed the agreed settlement; or

(iii) The date the order of default is final. See WAC 388-14A-6110 and 388-14A-6115 to determine whether the ALJ issues an initial order or a final order.

(3) A party to a consent order or an agreed settlement may:

(a) Not petition for review of the settlement or order under WAC 388-02-0560;

(b) Petition for modification under WAC 388-14A-3925; and

(c) Petition to vacate the settlement or consent order under WAC 388-14A-3700. However, the ALJ may only vacate a settlement or consent order after making a finding of fraud by a party, or on any other basis that would result in manifest injustice.

(4) If a hearing has been scheduled, DCS files a copy of the agreed settlement or consent order with the office of administrative hearings (OAH), and OAH issues an order dismissing the hearing. There are no hearing rights on the order dismissing the hearing.

WAC 388-14A-3700 When is it appropriate to vacate a default order? (1) If a party fails to appear at a hearing, the administrative law judge (ALJ) must, upon a showing of valid service, enter an initial decision and default order or proceed in the absence of the defaulting party as provided in WAC 388-14A-3131, 388-14A-3132, or 388-14A-3140.

(2) The ALJ must state in the decision that the:

(a) Support debt and the current support obligation stated in the notice are assessed, determined, and subject to collection action;

(b) Health insurance provisions of the notice are subject to direct enforcement action; and,

(c) Relief sought in the notice served by the division of child support is granted.

(3) Decisions and orders on default become final twenty-one days from the date of mailing under WAC 388-08-464 or chapter 388-02 WAC.

(4) Any party against whom the ALJ has entered an initial decision and order on default may petition the secretary or the secretary's designee for vacation of the default order, subject to the provisions, including time limits, of civil rule 60.

(5) DCS must:

(a) Request that the office of administrative hearings (OAH) schedule a hearing to determine whether or not the petitioner has good cause for vacating the default order; and

(b) Give any other parties to the hearing notice of the time and date of the hearing. OAH must send the notice to the last known address of the party.

(6) If, in a hearing under this section, the ALJ finds that the petitioner has good cause for vacating the default order, the ALJ:

(a) Must conduct a hearing on the merits of the petitioner's objection to the notice that was the basis for the hearing at which the petitioner failed to appear; and

(b) May stay any further collection to the extent provided for under the regulations authorizing the notice the parent originally objected to.

(7) The ALJ must apply civil rule 60 to determine whether the petitioner has good cause. Before vacating an order of default at the request of the NCP or CP, the ALJ must consider the prejudice to the non-DCS party that did appear for hearing.

WAC 388-14A-3800 Once a support order is entered, can it be changed? (1) Only the court that entered the order can modify a support order entered by a superior court or tribal court. If the order specifically states how the amount of support may be adjusted, the division of child support (DCS) may bring an administrative action under RCW 26.23.110 and WAC 388-14A-3310.

(2) As provided in WAC 388-14A-3900, DCS may review any support order to determine whether DCS should petition to modify the support provisions of the order.

(3) Either DCS, the CP or the NCP may petition to modify an administrative order under WAC 388-14A-3925.

(4) Under appropriate circumstances, an administrative support order may be vacated. See WAC 388-14A-3700.

WAC 388-14A-3810 Once a child support order is entered how long does the support obligation last? (1) A noncustodial parent's obligation to pay support under an administrative order continues until:

(a) A superior or tribal court order supersedes the order;

(b) The order is modified under WAC 388-14A-3925;

(c) The child reaches eighteen years of age;

(d) The child is emancipated;

(e) The child marries;

(f) The child becomes a member of the United States armed forces;

(g) The child or the responsible parent die;

(h) A responsible stepparent's marriage is dissolved;

(i) The parties to the order marry or remarry, as provided in WAC 388-14A-3100(3); or

(j) A superior court order terminates the responsible parent's liability as provided under RCW 26.16.205.

(2) As an exception to the above rule, a noncustodial parent's obligation to pay support under an administrative order continues and/or may be established for a dependent child who is:

(a) Under nineteen years of age; and

(b) A full-time student reasonably expected to complete a program of secondary school or the equivalent level of vocational or technical training before the end of the month in which the student becomes nineteen years of age.

(3) A noncustodial parent's obligation to pay support under an administrative order may be temporarily suspended when the:

(a) Noncustodial parent (NCP) resides with the child for whom support is sought for purposes other than visitation;

(b) NCP reconciles with the child and the custodial parent; or

(c) Child returns to the residence of the NCP from a foster care placement, for purposes other than visitation.

(4) When the NCP's obligation to pay current support on a case is suspended under subsection (3) of this section, the division of child support (DCS) informs the NCP that the obligation is suspended, in writing, sent by regular mail to the NCP's last known address.

(5) If circumstances causing an NCP's support obligation to be temporarily suspended change, the support obligation resumes. DCS sends the NCP a notice that the obligation to make current support payments has resumed.

WAC 388-14A-3850 When may someone ask for a temporary support order? (1) There are two times when a temporary support order is appropriate in the course of an administrative hearing:

(a) If in a hearing to establish a support obligation or to determine the amount due under an existing order, the administrative law judge (ALJ) postpones the hearing. A postponement is also called a continuance (see WAC 388-14A-3855); or

(b) If any party files a petition for review of an initial decision which establishes or determines a current support obligation (see WAC 388-14A-3860).

(2) For the purposes of this section and WAC 388-14A-3855 through 388-14A-3875, "a party" means the division of child support (DCS), the noncustodial parent, or the physical custodian of the child.

WAC 388-14A-3855 How does a party request a temporary order when the hearing is continued? (1) A party may make a request that a scheduled hearing be postponed either prior to the date of the hearing, or on the date of the hearing.

(2) When the administrative law judge (ALJ) grants a continuance prior to the day of hearing, a party must request entry of a temporary support order at the time the ALJ rules on the request for continuance.

(3) When the ALJ grants a continuance on the day of hearing, a party must request entry of a temporary support order before the hearing is adjourned.

(4) When a party requests a temporary support order due to a continuance, the ALJ must either:

(a) Conduct a temporary order hearing at the same time the ALJ hears the motion for continuance; or

(b) Set a time and date within ten business days when the ALJ will hear testimony on the need for and amount of a temporary order.

(5) The ALJ may hear testimony by telephone conference call.

(a) The date that party files the petition for review; or

(b) The date that party receives notice that another party has filed a petition for review.

(2) The request must be made to the office of administrative hearings (OAH) office that entered the initial decision.

(3) The administrative law judge (ALJ) who entered the initial decision must hear the motion for temporary order. If that ALJ is not available, the chief ALJ must designate a substitute ALJ.

(4) The ALJ may enter a temporary order based on the record that was created at the hearing, or may set a telephone conference call hearing within ten working days.

(i) Determines the responsible parent's current and future support obligation beginning no later than the month following the hearing; or

(ii) Denies the request for a temporary support order.

(b) Include in the temporary order:

(i) A statement that any amounts collected under the temporary order will be credited and will be offset against any debt established in the initial decision;

WAC 388-14A-3875 What if a party does not agree with a temporary support order?

(1) A temporary support order or the denial of a TSO is not an initial decision subject to review under WAC 388-02-0560. This means that no party has the right to file a petition for review of a temporary support order.

(2) The terms of a temporary order are not binding on the administrative law judge (ALJ) who later enters the initial decision in the matter.

(3) The issuance of a temporary support order does not affect any party's right to ask for review of the initial decision subsequently entered in the matter.

WAC 388-14A-3903 How does DCS decide whether to petition for modification of a support order? (1) The division of child support (DCS) petitions to modify a support order when DCS finds during the review that each of the following conditions are present:

(a) The proposed change in child support based on the Washington state child support schedule:

(i) Is at least twenty-five percent above or below the current support obligation;

(ii) Is at least one hundred dollars per month above or below the current support obligation; and

(iii) Is at least a two thousand four hundred dollar change over the remaining life of the support order; or

(iv) Will provide enough income to:

(A) Make the family ineligible for public assistance if the noncustodial parent (NCP) pays the full amount due under the proposed order; or

(B) Allow a family, otherwise eligible for public assistance, to remain off of assistance.

(b) The case meets the legal requirements for modification under RCW 26.09.170, 74.20A.059, or WAC 388-14A-3925.

(2) DCS may petition to modify the order without regard to subsection (1)(a) of this section when:

(a) The order does not require the NCP to provide health insurance coverage for the children; and

(b) Health insurance coverage is available through the NCP's employer or union at a reasonable cost; or

(c) Both parties agree to an order modifying the support amount.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 45 CFR 302.70, 45 CFR 303.7, 45 CFR 303.8, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-3903, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-11-143.]

WAC 388-14A-3904 How do I find out the results of DCS' review for modification? After reviewing a case under WAC 388-14A-3903, the division of child support (DCS) notifies the parties of:

(1) The findings of the review by regular mail at the parties' last known address;

(2) The parties' right to challenge the review findings; and

(3) The appropriate forum and procedure for challenging the review findings.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 45 CFR 302.70, 45 CFR 303.7, 45 CFR 303.8, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-3904, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-11-143.]

WAC 388-14A-3905 What if I don't agree with DCS' findings after review? (1) Except as provided under subsection (3) of this section, a party to the review process may contest DCS's review findings by requesting a modification conference within thirty days of the date of the notice of review findings.

(2) The modification conference is conducted by:

(a) DCS when the review findings indicate that the case is not appropriate for DCS to petition for modification under WAC 388-14A-3903;

(b) The county prosecutor, or the attorney general's office when DCS has referred the case to the prosecutor or attorney general's office as a result of a review conducted under this section.

(3) When DCS has petitioned for modification of:

(a) A superior court order, the prosecutor or attorney general's office may, in their discretion, allow the parties to contest the review findings in the modification proceeding, rather than a modification conference. The modification proceeding is the sole means to contest the review findings.

(b) An administrative order, the parties may contest the review findings in the modification proceeding. In this case, the modification proceeding is the sole means to contest the review findings.

(4) In a modification conference, DCS the prosecutor, or the attorney general's office:

(a) Review all available income and asset information to determine if the review findings are correct; and

(b) Advise the parties of the results of the modification conference.

(5) A modification conference is not an adjudicative proceeding under the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW.

(6) This section does not limit the right of any party to petition for a modification of the support order independent from the review and modification process.

(7) The CP's refusal to accept a proposed agreed order modifying support does not constitute noncooperation for the purpose of WAC 388-14A-2075.

WAC 388-14A-3906 Are there times when DCS does not review an order which would otherwise qualify for review? The division of child support (DCS) does not review an order under this section when the community services office (CSO) has notified DCS that the custodial parent (CP) has claimed good cause under WAC 388-422-0020, unless the CP requests the review.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 45 CFR 302.70, 45 CFR 303.7, 45 CFR 303.8. 01-03-089, § 388-14A-3906, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-11-143.]

WAC 388-14A-3907 DCS uses the Washington state child support schedule for reviewing orders for modification. (1) DCS applies the Washington state child support schedule when reviewing support orders under this section. All deviations available under chapter 26.19 RCW are available in the review and modification process under this section.

(2) For the purpose of this section and WAC 388-14A-3900 through 388-14A-3906, the term "party" means a party to a superior court order, or a noncustodial parent or a custodial parent entitled to petition for modification under RCW 74.20A.059.

WAC 388-14A-3925 Who can ask to modify an administrative support order? (1) The division of child support (DCS), the custodial parent (CP) or the noncustodial parent (NCP) may request a hearing to prospectively modify the NCP's obligation under a support establishment notice. The request must be in writing and must state:

(a) Any circumstances that have changed; and

(b) The proposed new support amount.

(2) The petitioning party must file the request for modification with DCS.

(3) DCS serves a copy of the request for modification and notice of hearing on all other parties by first class mail at their address last known to DCS.

(4) DCS, the administrative law judge (ALJ), or the department review judge:

(a) Prospectively modifies orders according to the terms of chapter 26.19 RCW and RCW 74.20A.059; and

(b) May only modify an order issued by a tribunal in another state according to the terms of RCW 26.21.580.

(5) If the nonpetitioning party fails to appear at the hearing, the ALJ issues a default order based on the Washington state child support schedule and the worksheets submitted by the parties, considering the terms set out in the request for modification.

(6) If the petitioning party fails to appear at the hearing, the ALJ enters an order dismissing the petition for modification.

(7) If the petition for modification does not comply with the requirements of subsection (1)(a) and (b) of this section, the ALJ may:

(a) Dismiss the petition; or

(b) Continue the hearing to give the petitioning party time to amend according to WAC 388-14A-3275 or to complete the petition.

(8) The ALJ may set the effective date of modification as the date the order is issued, the date the request was made, or any time in between. If an effective date is not set in the order, the effective date is the date the modification order is entered.

PART D - HOW WE ENFORCE CHILD SUPPORT OBLIGATIONS

WAC 388-14A-4000 When may the division of child support take collection action against a noncustodial parent? (1) Chapters 26.18, 26.23, 74.20 and 74.20A RCW authorize the division of child support (DCS) to take actions enforcing and collecting support obligations.

(2) DCS may take collection action against the noncustodial parent's income and assets to collect a support debt even if the NCP is making payments under a support order, unless DCS agrees in writing to limit collection action.

(2005 Ed.)

(3) If the NCP fails to make the total support payment under an administrative order when it is due:

- (a) The entire support debt becomes due in full; and
- (b) The portion of the administrative order requiring periodic payments on the support debt is automatically vacated without modifying the order.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 45 CFR 302.33 (a)(5). 01-03-089, § 388-14A-4000, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-11-170.]

WAC 388-14A-4010 Can I make the division of child support stop collection action against me? (1) Once a non-custodial parent (NCP) fails to make payments when due, an administrative law judge may not stop collection action by DCS.

(2) The NCP may contest collection action by:

- (a) Filing an action in superior court under RCW 74.20A.200 or other applicable statutes; or
- (b) Requesting a conference board under WAC 388-14A-6400.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-4010, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-4020 What collection tools does the division of child support use? The division of child support (DCS) uses any remedies available under state and federal law to enforce support obligations. These include, but are not limited to:

- (1) Payroll deduction notice under RCW 26.23.060;
- (2) Order to withhold and deliver under RCW 74.20A.080;
- (3) Wage assignment;
- (4) License suspension (see WAC 388-14A-4500);
- (5) The DCS most wanted internet site (see WAC 388-14A-4600);
- (6) Federal income tax offset;
- (7) Asset seizure;
- (8) Liens;
- (9) Medical insurance enrollment; and
- (10) Contempt referral.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-4020, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-4030 How can the division of child support collect child support from my wages or other income source? (1) The division of child support (DCS) uses a payroll deduction, order to withhold and deliver or wage assignment to collect support when the noncustodial parent (NCP) has a source of income.

(2) When an NCP does not have an identifiable employer or source of income, DCS uses any or all of the collection remedies available under chapters 26.23, 74.20 and 74.20A RCW.

(3) If the NCP's source of income is an Indian tribe or tribal enterprise, DCS may seek collection remedies through tribal court.

(2005 Ed.)

WAC 388-14A-4040 DCS can serve some collection actions by electronic service. (1) An employer, or any other person, firm, corporation or political subdivision, or any department of the state or federal government may agree with the division of child support (DCS) to accept electronic data transmission (EDT) as service of the following documents:

- (a) Notice of payroll deduction under RCW 26.23.060;
- (b) Order to withhold and deliver under RCW 74.20A.080;
- (c) Assignment of earnings under RCW 74.20A.240;
- (d) Notice of enrollment or National Medical Support Notice (NMSN) under RCW 26.18.170 (2)(a)(iv);
- (e) Releases of any of these collection documents; and
- (f) Amendments in the amount to be withheld under any of these collection documents.

(2) Agreements for service by EDT must be in writing. The employer, person, firm, corporation, political subdivision or department must agree to accept EDT as:

- (a) Personal service of the withholding documents; and
- (b) A written document for the purposes of chapters 26.23 and 74.20A RCW.

(3) DCS provides the party accepting EDT with copies of the current forms listed in subsection (2) above, as well as any updates to those forms. If DCS fails to provide an updated form, this does not excuse noncompliance with withholding documents served under the EDT agreement.

(4) An agreement to accept service by EDT does not alter the rights, duties and responsibilities related to income withholding action under chapters 26.23, 74.20 or 74.20A.

WAC 388-14A-4100 How does the division of child support enforce my obligation to provide health insurance for my children? (1) If a child support order requires the noncustodial parent (NCP) to provide health insurance for the children, the division of child support (DCS) attempts to enforce that requirement according to the terms of the order. The following subsections describe the different types of premium limitations that could apply to a support order.

(2) When DCS is enforcing a support order which contains a specific dollar limit for the cost of health insurance premiums or provides for coverage which is available at no cost to the NCP, DCS does not require the NCP to provide health insurance if coverage is not available within the limitations of the order.

(3) When DCS is enforcing a support order entered on or after May 13, 1989, unless the support order specifies differently, the NCP must provide health insurance for dependent children if coverage is:

- (a) Available or becomes available through the NCP's employment or union; and
- (b) Available at a cost of not greater than twenty-five per cent of the NCP's basic support obligation.

(4) When DCS is enforcing a support order entered prior to May 13, 1989, unless the support order specifies differently, the NCP must provide health insurance for dependent children if coverage is available or becomes available through the NCP's employment or union:

(a) For a maximum of twenty-five dollars per month, if the order specifies that the NCP must provide coverage only if it is available at a reasonable cost; or

(b) For any premium amount whatsoever, if the order does not specify reasonable cost.

(5) DCS serves a notice of intent to enforce a health insurance obligation if the support order:

(a) Requires the NCP either to provide health insurance coverage or prove that coverage is not available; and

(b) Does not inform the NCP that failure to provide health insurance or prove it is not available may result in enforcement of the order without notice to the NCP.

(6) DCS serves the notice of intent to enforce a health insurance obligation on the NCP by certified mail, return receipt requested, or by personal service.

(7) The notice advises the NCP that the NCP must submit proof of coverage, proof that coverage is not available, or proof that the NCP has applied for coverage, within twenty days of the date of service of the notice.

(8) The notice advises the NCP that, if health insurance is not yet available, the NCP must immediately notify DCS if health insurance coverage becomes available through the NCP's employer or union.

(9) When DCS enforces an NCP's health insurance obligation, such enforcement may include asking the employer and the plan administrator to enroll the NCP in a health insurance plan available through the employer.

WAC 388-14A-4110 If my support order requires me to provide health insurance for my children, what do I have to do? (1) Once a support order is entered requiring health insurance, the noncustodial parent (NCP) must take the following actions within twenty days:

(a) Provide health insurance coverage; and

(b) Provide proof of coverage to the division of child support (DCS), such as:

(i) The name of the insurer providing the health insurance coverage;

(ii) The names of the beneficiaries covered;

(iii) The policy number;

(iv) That coverage is current; and

(v) The name and address of the NCP's employer.

(2) If health insurance coverage that is accessible to the children named in the order is available, the NCP must:

(a) Provide for coverage for the children without waiting for an open enrollment period, as provided under RCW 48.01.235 (4)(a); and

(b) Submit proof of coverage as outlined in subsection (1)(b) above.

(3) If health insurance is not immediately available to the NCP, as soon as health insurance becomes available, the NCP must:

(a) Provide for coverage for the children named in the order; and

(b) Submit proof of coverage as outlined in subsection (1)(b) above.

(4) Medical assistance provided by the department under chapter 74.09 RCW does not substitute for health insurance.

(5) A child's enrollment in Indian health services satisfies the requirements of this section.

(6) See WAC 388-14A-4165 for a description of what happens when the combined total of NCP's current support obligation, arrears payment and health insurance premiums to be withheld by the employer exceeds the fifty per cent limitation for withholding.

WAC 388-14A-4115 Can my support order reduce my support obligation if I pay for health insurance? (1)

Some support orders reduce the noncustodial parent's support obligation based on health insurance premiums paid by the NCP.

(2) An NCP is entitled to the reduction for premiums paid only if:

(a) NCP submits proof of coverage as provided in WAC 388-14A-4110 (1)(b); and

(b) NCP actually pays the required premium.

(3) If the NCP fails to submit proof or pay the premium, the division of child support (DCS) collects the NCP's adjusted basic support obligation without a reduction for health insurance premium payments.

WAC 388-14A-4120 DCS uses the National Medical Support Notice to enforce an obligation to provide health insurance coverage. (1) The division of child support (DCS) uses a notice of enrollment called the National Medical Support Notice (NMSN) to enforce a noncustodial parent's obligation to provide health insurance coverage under chapter 26.18 RCW.

(2) DCS sends the NMSN to the noncustodial parent's employer in one of the following ways:

(a) In the same manner as a summons in a civil action,

(b) By certified mail, return receipt requested,

(c) By regular mail, or

(d) By electronic means as provided in WAC 388-14A-4040 (1)(d).

(3) DCS sends the NMSN without notice to the noncustodial parent (NCP) when:

(a) A court or administrative order requires the NCP to provide insurance coverage for a dependent child;

(b) The NCP fails to provide health insurance (either by not covering the child or by letting the coverage lapse) or fails to provide proof of coverage;

(c) The requirements of RCW 26.23.050 are met; and

(d) DCS has reason to believe that coverage is available through the NCP's employer or union.

WAC 388-14A-4121 Can a Washington employer assume that every National Medical Support Notice that the employer receives is from the division of child support? (1) The National Medical Support Notice (NMSN) is a federally mandated form which is used by child support enforcement agencies all over the United States, not just the division of child support (DCS).

(2) Each NMSN form contains information advising the employer which child support enforcement agency sent the NMSN.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.20A.310, and 26.18.170, 42 U.S.C. 666 (a)(19), Child Support Performance and Incentives Act of 1998, 45 C.F.R. 303.31, and 45 C.F.R. 303.32. 04-17-119, § 388-14A-4121, filed 8/17/04, effective 9/17/04.]

WAC 388-14A-4122 What kind of information is included in the National Medical Support Notice? The National Medical Support Notice (NMSN) and its cover letter advise the noncustodial parent's employer and the plan administrator that:

(1) The noncustodial parent (NCP) is required to provide health insurance coverage for the children named in the notice;

(2) Information regarding the custodial parent and children, especially address information, is confidential and may not be released to anyone, including the NCP;

(3) Within twenty business days of the date on the notice, the employer must either:

(a) Respond to the NMSN by completing the response form and returning it to DCS; or

(b) Forward Part B of the NMSN to the plan administrator.

(4) The employer or plan administrator is required to enroll the children in a health insurance plan offered by the employer or the union if insurance the children can use is or will become available as provided in WAC 388-14A-4130;

(5) The employer or plan administrator must provide:

(a) Information about the health insurance plan and policy as requested in the notice; and

(b) Any necessary claim forms or membership cards as soon as they are available.

(6) The employer or union must withhold premiums from the NCP's net earnings if the NCP is required to pay part or all of the premiums for coverage under the health insurance plan.

(7) Noncompliance with the NMSN subjects the employer or union to a fine of up to one thousand dollars under RCW 74.20A.350. See WAC 388-14A-4123 for a description of noncompliance penalties.

WAC 388-14A-4123 What can happen if the employer fails to comply with the terms of the National Medical Support Notice? (1) If an employer fails to comply with the terms of a National Medical Support Notice (NMSN) sent by the division of child support (DCS), the employer may be liable for a fine of up to one thousand dollars under RCW 74.20A.350.

(2) DCS may take action under RCW 74.20A.350 to impose fines if the employer fails to comply with the terms of the NMSN. For each failure to comply, DCS may assess a fine of:

(a) Two hundred dollars for the first month in which the employer or union fails to comply;

(b) Three hundred dollars for the second month of non-compliance; and

(c) Five hundred dollars for the third month of noncompliance.

(d) The maximum fine based on a single notice of enrollment is one thousand dollars.

WAC 388-14A-4124 Who are the parties involved with the National Medical Support Notice? (1) The National Medical Support Notice (NMSN) is a federally mandated form used by child support enforcement agencies to enforce a noncustodial parent's medical support obligation. The division of child support (DCS) uses the NMSN as provided in WAC 388-14A-4120.

(2) DCS sends an NMSN when there is a support order requiring the noncustodial parent (NCP) to provide health insurance coverage for the children.

(3) DCS sends the NMSN to the NCP's employer.

(4) If the employer provides health insurance coverage, the employer forwards the NMSN to the appropriate plan administrator.

(5) The plan administrator is the entity which handles the ministerial functions for the group health plan maintained by the employer or a group health plan to which the employer contributes.

(6) In some cases, the employer performs the duties of the plan administrator.

(7) In some cases, the NCP's union either acts as or contracts with the plan administrator.

(8) The plan administrator sends coverage information to both DCS and the custodial parent (CP).

WAC 388-14A-4125 What must an employer do after receiving a National Medical Support Notice? (1) Within twenty business days after the date on the National Medical Support Notice (NMSN), the employer must either send Part B to the plan administrator or send the employer response to the division of child support (DCS).

(2) The employer need take no action beyond responding to the NMSN if:

(a) The employer does not maintain or contribute to plans providing dependent or family health care coverage;

(b) The employee is among a class of employees (for example, part-time or nonunion) that are not eligible for family health coverage under any group health plan maintained by the employer or to which the employer contributes; or

(c) The employee either is no longer, or never has been, employed by this employer.

(3) If subsection (2) of this section does not apply, the employer must respond to the NMSN and must:

(a) Forward Part B of the NMSN to the plan administrator of each group health plan identified by the employer to enroll the noncustodial parent's eligible children (see WAC 388-14A-4130 for what the plan administrator must do after receiving an NMSN); and

(b) When notified by the plan administrator that the children are enrolled:

(i) Withhold any employee contributions required for health insurance premiums and transfer those premiums to the appropriate plan; or

(ii) Notify DCS that enrollment cannot be completed because the noncustodial parent's net earnings are not high enough to allow withholding of child support and health insurance premiums; in this situation, the employer must notify DCS of the amount of the premium required to cover the children.

(c) When notified by the plan administrator that the noncustodial parent NCP is subject to a waiting period, notify the plan administrator when the NCP is eligible to enroll in the plan, and that the NMSN requires the enrollment of the children named in the NMSN.

(1) Visit the DCS internet website at <http://www.dshs.wa.gov/dcs/employers.shtml>;

(2) Call the DCS Employer Hotline at 1-800-591-2760; or (3) Contact the DCS field office which issued the NMSN.

WAC 388-14A-4130 What must a plan administrator do after receiving a National Medical Support Notice from the division of child support? (1) A plan administrator who receives a National Medical Support Notice (NMSN) must respond to the NMSN within forty business days after the date on the NMSN.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 218]

(2) If the noncustodial parent (NCP) and the children are to be enrolled in a health insurance plan, the plan administrator must:

(a) Notify the NCP, each child, and the custodial parent (CP) that coverage of the children is or will become available (notifying the CP is considered the same as notifying the child if they live at the same address); and

(b) If not previously provided, send the CP a description of the coverage available, including the effective date of coverage, a summary plan description and any forms or information necessary to start coverage, and information on how to submit claims for benefits.

(3) If there is more than one option available under the plan and the NCP is not yet enrolled, the plan administrator must:

(a) Provide to the division of child support (DCS) copies of applicable summary plan descriptions for available coverage, including the additional participant contribution necessary to obtain coverage for the children under each option and whether any option has a limited service area; and

(b) If the plan has a default option, enroll the children in the plan's default option if the plan administrator has not received DCS' election within twenty business days of the date the plan administrator returned the response to DCS; or

(c) If the plan does not have a default option, enroll the children in the option selected by DCS.

(4) If the NCP is subject to a waiting period that expires within ninety days from the date the plan administrator receives the NMSN, the plan administrator must enroll the children named in the NMSN immediately.

(5) If the NCP is subject to a waiting period that expires more than ninety days from the date the plan administrator receives the NMSN, the plan administrator must notify the employer, DCS, the NCP and the CP of the waiting period. When the waiting period has expired, the plan administrator must:

(a) Enroll the NCP and the children named in the NMSN, as provided in subsection (2) or (3) above; and

(b) Notify the employer of enrollment so that the employer may determine if the NCP's income is sufficient to withhold health insurance premiums, and then either withhold accordingly or notify DCS, as provided in WAC 388-14A-4125 (3)(b).

(6) If the NCP is subject to a waiting period whose duration is determined by a measure other than the passage of time (for example, the completion of a certain number of hours worked), the plan administrator must notify the employer, DCS, the NCP and the CP of the waiting period. When the waiting period has expired, the plan administrator must:

(a) Enroll the NCP and the children named in the NMSN, as provided in subsection (2) or (3) above; and

(b) Notify the employer of enrollment so that the employer may determine if the NCP's income is sufficient to withhold health insurance premiums, and then either withhold accordingly or notify DCS, as provided in WAC 388-14A-4125 (3)(b).

(7) If the plan administrator determines that the NMSN does not constitute a qualified medical child support order as defined by ERISA, the plan administrator must:

(2005 Ed.)

(a) Notify DCS using the part of the NMSN called the plan administrator response; and

(b) Notify the NCP, the CP and the children of the specific reasons for the determination. A copy of the plan administrator response is considered sufficient notice under this section.

WAC 388-14A-4135 What must the plan administrator do when the noncustodial parent has health insurance but the children are not included in the coverage? (1) If the noncustodial parent (NCP) is enrolled in a health insurance plan through the employer but has not enrolled the children named in the National Medical Support Notice (NMSN), the plan administrator must follow the steps outlined in WAC 388-14A-4130(2) and:

(a) Enroll the child(ren) named in the NMSN under the NCP's health insurance plan; and

(b) Notify the employer and the division of child support (DCS) that the child(ren) have been enrolled.

(2) Under RCW 48.01.235 (4)(a), the plan administrator must enroll a child who is otherwise eligible for the coverage without regard to any enrollment season restrictions.

(3) WAC 388-14A-4145 discusses what the plan administrator must do if the NCP's health insurance plan is not accessible to the children.

WAC 388-14A-4140 What must the plan administrator do when the noncustodial parent is eligible for health insurance but is not yet enrolled? (1) If the noncustodial parent (NCP) is eligible for health insurance through the employer but has not enrolled on his or her own, the plan administrator must proceed under WAC 388-14A-4130(3) and:

(a) Enroll the NCP and the children in the least expensive plan which provides accessible coverage for the children named in the National Medical Support Notice (NMSN); and

(b) Notify the employer and the division of child support (DCS) that the NCP and the children have been enrolled.

(2) The plan administrator notifies DCS of all health insurance plans for which the NCP is eligible, and notifies DCS which plan is the default option.

(3) If DCS does not specify otherwise within twenty business days of the date the plan administrator responds to DCS, the plan administrator must enroll the NCP and the children in the default plan.

(4) Under RCW 48.01.235 (4)(a), the plan administrator must enroll, under the family coverage, a child who is otherwise eligible for the coverage without regard to any enrollment season restrictions. In order to obtain coverage for the children, the plan administrator must enroll an otherwise eligible NCP without regard to any enrollment season restrictions.

WAC 388-14A-4143 What must the plan administrator do when the employer provides health insurance but the noncustodial parent is not yet eligible for coverage? If the noncustodial parent is subject to a waiting period before being eligible for coverage under a health insurance plan provided by the employer, the plan administrator must proceed as follows:

(1) If the NCP is subject to a waiting period that expires ninety days or less from the date of receipt of the National Medical Support Notice (NMSN), see WAC 388-14A-4130(4);

(2) If the NCP is subject to a waiting period that expires more than ninety days from the date of receipt of the NMSN, see WAC 388-14A-4130(5); and

(3) If the NCP is subject to a waiting period whose duration is determined by a measure other than the passage of time, see WAC 388-14A-4130(6).

WAC 388-14A-4145 What must the plan administrator do when the insurance plan in which the noncustodial parent is enrolled does not provide coverage which is accessible to the children? (1) If more than one insurance plan is offered by the employer or union, and each plan may be extended to cover the child, then the plan administrator must enroll the children named in the national medical support notice (NMSN) in the plan in which the noncustodial parent (NCP) is enrolled.

(2) If the NCP's plan does not provide coverage which is accessible to the child, the plan administrator:

(a) May give the NCP the opportunity to change plans so that NCP and the children may be enrolled in a plan which provides accessible coverage for the children; but

(b) Is not required to change the NCP's plan to one which provides accessible coverage for the children.

WAC 388-14A-4150 What must the plan administrator do when the noncustodial parent has more than one family? (1) When a noncustodial parent (NCP) has a health insurance obligation for more than one family, the division of child support (DCS) sends one national medical support notice (NMSN) for each family to the NCP's employer.

(2) If the NCP is already enrolled in a health insurance plan, the plan administrator must attempt to enroll all children named in all of the NMSNs in the NCP's plan.

(3) If the NCP is not already enrolled in a health insurance plan, and the employer offers a health insurance plan which would cover all children named in all of the NMSNs, the plan administrator must enroll the children in that plan. See WAC 388-14A-4140.

(4) If the employer offers only one health insurance plan, or multiple plans which would cover some, but not all of the children named in the NMSNs, the plan administrator must so notify DCS.

(5) DCS chooses the appropriate health insurance plan by considering the following factors:

- (a) The wishes of the custodial parent of each family;
 - (b) The premium limits set by the support orders;
 - (c) The relative ages of all the children;
 - (d) How many of NCP's children live in Washington and how many live elsewhere;
 - (e) How many of NCP's children receive Medicaid;
 - (f) How many of NCP's children are already covered by private health insurance;
 - (g) Which plan covers the most children; and
 - (h) Other factors as may be developed in DCS policy.
- (6) The factors listed in subsection (5) are not exclusive, nor are they equally weighted.

(7) Nothing in this section requires the plan administrator to take action to change the NCP's plan unless the NCP requests a change.

WAC 388-14A-4160 Are there any limits on the amount a noncustodial parent may be required to pay for health insurance premiums? (1) The National Medical Support Notice (NMSN) advises the employer of any limitations on the amount a noncustodial parent (NCP) may be required to pay for health insurance premiums to cover the children.

(2) Often the support order which contains the health insurance obligation determines the limitation on premium amounts, or states that there is no limitation. See WAC 388-14A-4100 for a discussion of premium limitation amounts.

(3) The premium limitation amount stated in the NMSN:

- (a) Describes the premium amount required to cover the children named in the notice; and
- (b) Does not include any amounts required to cover the NCP.

(4) Even if the medical insurance premium is within the limits set by the order or by WAC 388-14A-4100, the fifty percent limitation on withholding found in RCW 26.23.060 (3) still applies. See WAC 388-14A-4165 for a description of what happens when the fifty percent limitation is exceeded.

(5) When calculating the fifty percent limitation for withholding purposes:

- (a) The premium attributable to coverage for the children is always included in this calculation; but
- (b) The premium attributable to coverage for the NCP is included only when DCS requires the employer or plan administrator to enroll the NCP in a health insurance plan in order to obtain coverage for the NCP's children. See also WAC 388-14A-4165(3).

WAC 388-14A-4165 What happens when a noncustodial parent does not earn enough to pay child support plus the health insurance premium? (1) Under RCW 26.23.060(3), a payroll deduction may not exceed fifty percent of the noncustodial parent's disposable earnings in each pay period.

(2) When the division of child support (DCS) enforces a child support obligation through an income withholding action and also enforces a health insurance obligation, the noncustodial parent's employer often must withhold amounts for:

- (a) Current child support;
- (b) Child support arrears; and
- (c) Health insurance premiums.

(3) When the employer or plan administrator must enroll the noncustodial parent (NCP) in a health insurance plan in order to enroll the children (see WAC 388-14A-4140), the premium amount for the NCP's coverage is included in the amounts to withhold under subsection (2) above. If the NCP is already enrolled in a plan, the premium amount for the NCP's coverage is not included the amounts to withhold under that subsection.

(4) If the combined amounts for current support, support arrears and health insurance premiums are more than fifty percent of the noncustodial parent's disposable earnings, the employer must notify DCS immediately.

(5) In certain circumstances, DCS may adjust the amount to be withheld for support arrears so that the total amount withheld does not exceed fifty percent of the noncustodial parent's disposable earnings.

(6) If the noncustodial parent's current support obligation plus health insurance premiums exceeds fifty percent of the noncustodial parent's disposable earnings, DCS:

- (a) Enforces the child support obligation through income withholding; but
- (b) Is not able to enforce the noncustodial parent's health insurance obligation at that time.

WAC 388-14A-4170 How long does a National Medical Support Notice or other notice of enrollment remain in effect? (1) The National Medical Support Notice (NMSN) is a Qualified Medical Child Support Order.

(2) The NMSN or earlier notice of enrollment served by the division of child support (DCS) remains in effect until:

- (a) DCS withdraws the notice in writing; or
- (b) Health insurance coverage is no longer available through the employer or union.

WAC 388-14A-4175 Is an employer obligated to notify the division of child support when insurance coverage for the children ends? (1) Once the division of child support (DCS) has notified an employer that the noncustodial parent (NCP) is obligated by a support order to provide health insurance coverage for the children named in the order, the national medical support notice (NMSN) or other notice of enrollment remains in effect as specified in WAC 388-14A-4170.

(2) If coverage for the children is terminated, the employer must notify DCS within thirty days of the date coverage ends.

WAC 388-14A-4200 Do I get credit for dependent disability payments paid on my behalf to my children? (1) When the department of labor and industries or a self-insurer pays compensation under chapter 51.32 RCW on behalf of or on account of the child or children of a noncustodial parent (NCP), the division of child support (DCS) treats the amount of compensation the department or self-insurer pays on behalf of the child or children as if the NCP paid the compensation toward the NCP's child support obligations.

(2) When the social security administration pays social security disability dependency benefits, retirement benefits, or survivors insurance benefits on behalf of or on account of the child or children of an NCP who is a disabled person, a retired person, or a deceased person, DCS treats the amount of benefits paid for the child or children as if the NCP paid the benefits toward the NCP's child support obligation for the period for which benefits are paid.

(3) Under no circumstances does the NCP have a right to reimbursement of any compensation paid under subsection (1) or (2) of this section.

(4) The NCP gets credit only for payments made to the custodial parent or the state. The NCP does not get credit for dependent payments made to the NCP.

WAC 388-14A-4300 What can I do if I think I'm paying more than the custodial parent is spending for day care or other special expenses for my child? (1) A noncustodial parent (NCP) who has paid child support under a court or administrative order and believes that day care or special child rearing expenses were not actually incurred in the amount of the order may file an application for an administrative hearing to determine if an overpayment of at least twenty per cent has occurred and how the overpayment should be reimbursed.

(a) A petition for reimbursement may cover a twelve-month period; and

(b) The twelve-month period may be:

(i) A calendar year; or

(ii) The twelve-month period following the anniversary date of the support order; or

(iii) The twelve-month period following an adjudication under this section.

(c) Twelve-month periods under this section may not overlap.

(2) The application must be in writing and at a minimum state:

(a) The twelve-month time period to be considered;

(2005 Ed.)

(b) The date of the order requiring the payment of day care or special child rearing expenses;

(c) The amounts required by the court or administrative order for day care or special child rearing expenses for that time period;

(d) The amounts actually paid by the NCP for that time period;

(e) The total amount of day care or special child rearing expenses which the NCP claims the custodial parent (CP) actually incurred for that time period;

(f) The NCP's proportionate share of the expenses actually incurred; and

(g) The amount of reimbursement for overpayment to which the NCP claims to be entitled for that time period.

(3) The effective date of a hearing request is the date DCS receives the written request.

(4) WAC 388-14A-4300 through 388-14A-4304 apply only to amounts paid during the twelve-month period ending May 31, 1996 or later.

WAC 388-14A-4301 Can I file a petition for reimbursement if I do not receive full support enforcement services? The division of child support (DCS) considers a petition for reimbursement or an application for hearing under WAC 388-14A-4300 to be an application for full support enforcement services if there is not already an open support enforcement case.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 34.05.220, 26.23.035, 74.20A.310, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-4301, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-376.]

WAC 388-14A-4302 Who participates in a hearing on petition for reimbursement? (1) The division of child support (DCS) sends notice of a hearing under this subsection to the noncustodial (NCP) and to the custodial parent (CP).

(2) The NCP and the CP participate in the hearing as independent parties with the same procedural rights.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 34.05.220, 26.23.035, 74.20A.310, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-4302, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-376.]

WAC 388-14A-4303 What happens at a hearing on petition for reimbursement? (1) The noncustodial parent (NCP) has the burden of proving the amounts actually paid by the NCP under the order.

(2) The custodial parent (CP) has the burden of proving the amounts actually incurred for day care and special child rearing expenses.

(3) The CP is not required to provide the address of the day care provider unless the administrative law judge (ALJ) finds that the information may be disclosed under the standards set forth in WAC 388-14A-2105 for the disclosure of the address of the CP.

(4) If the NCP fails to appear for the hearing, upon proof of service of the notice of hearing the ALJ issues an order of default against the NCP and dismisses the petition for reimbursement.

(5) If the CP fails to appear for the hearing, upon proof of service of the notice of hearing the ALJ issues an order of default against the CP and holds a hearing on the merits of the petition for reimbursement.

(6) A hearing under this subsection is for the limited purpose of determining whether the amount paid by the NCP exceeds the NCP's proportionate share of the amount actually incurred for day care and special child rearing expenses.

(a) If the ALJ determines that the overpayment amounts to twenty percent or more of the NCP's share of annual day care and special child rearing expenses, the ALJ enters an order stating:

- (i) The twelve-month time period in question;
- (ii) The amount of the overpayment; and
- (iii) The method by which the overpayment shall be reimbursed by the CP.

(b) If the ALJ determines that the overpayment amounts to less than twenty percent of the NCP's share of annual day care and child rearing expenses, the ALJ enters an order stating:

- (i) Whether the NCP has overpaid or underpaid the day care and special child rearing expenses;
- (ii) If an overpayment has occurred, by what percentage of the annual proportionate share; and
- (iii) That reimbursement under this section is denied for that twelve-month period.

WAC 388-14A-4304 What happens if the judge determines that I have paid too much for day care and special expenses? (1) If at a hearing under WAC 388-14A-4303, the administrative lay judge (ALJ) decides that the custodial parent (CP) has not incurred costs in the amount paid by the noncustodial parent (NCP), any ordered overpayment reimbursement may be applied as an offset to any nonassistance child support arrears owed by the NCP on that case only. If there is no nonassistance debt owed on the case, the reimbursement must be in the form of a credit against the NCP's future child support obligation:

- (a) Spread equally over a twelve-month period starting the month after the administrative order becomes final; or
- (b) When the future support obligation will end under the terms of the order in less than twelve months, spread equally over the life of the order; or
- (c) With the consent of the CP, in the form of a direct reimbursement by the CP to the NCP.

(2) The NCP may not pay more than his or her proportionate share of day care or other special child rearing expenses in advance and then deduct the overpayment from future support transfer payments unless:

- (a) Specifically agreed to by the CP; and
- (b) Specifically agreed to in writing by DCS for periods when the CP or the dependent child receives public assistance.

WAC 388-14A-4500 What is the division of child support's license suspension program? (1) RCW 74.20A.-320 provides that, in some circumstances, the division of child support (DCS) may certify for license suspension a noncustodial parent (NCP) who is not in compliance with a child support order. The statute calls the NCP the responsible parent.

(a) "Certify" means to notify the department of licensing or other state licensing entities that the NCP is not in compliance with a child support order and to ask them to take appropriate action against licenses held by the NCP. Before DCS can certify an NCP, DCS serves a notice on the NCP as described in WAC 388-14A-4505 and 388-14A-4510. This notice is called the notice of noncompliance and intent to suspend licenses, and is sometimes called the notice of noncompliance.

(b) "Responsible parent" is defined in 388-14A-1020. The responsible parent is also called the "noncustodial parent."

(2) "Noncompliance with a child support order" is defined in RCW 74.20A.020(18) and in WAC 388-14A-4510.

(3) When DCS certifies the NCP, the department of licensing or other licensing entities take action to deny, suspend, or refuse to renew the NCP's license, according to the terms of RCW 74.20A.320 (8) and (12).

(4) This section and sections WAC 388-14A-4505 through 388-14A-4530 cover the DCS license suspension program.

(5) DCS may certify an NCP who is not in compliance with a child support order to the department of licensing or any appropriate licensing entity. In determining which licensing entity receives the certification, DCS considers:

- (a) The number and kind of licenses held by the parent; and
- (b) The effect that suspension of a particular license will have in motivating the parent to pay support or to contact DCS to make appropriate arrangements for other relief.

(6) DCS may certify a parent to any licensing agency through which it believes the parent has obtained a license. DCS may certify a parent to as many licensing agencies as DCS feels necessary to accomplish the goals of the license suspension program.

(7) In certain circumstances spelled out in WAC 388-14A-4510 (2) and (3), DCS may serve the notice of noncompliance on a noncustodial parent but may stay the commencement of the twenty-day objection period in WAC 388-14A-4505 (4)(b).

WAC 388-14A-4505 The notice of noncompliance and intent to suspend licenses. (1) Before certifying a noncustodial parent (NCP) for noncompliance, the division of child support (DCS) must serve the NCP with a notice of noncompliance and intent to suspend licenses. This notice tells the NCP that DCS intends to submit the NCP's name to the department of licensing and any other appropriate licensing entity as a licensee who is not in compliance with a child support order.

(2) DCS must serve the notice by certified mail, return receipt requested. If DCS is unable to serve the notice by certified mail, DCS must serve the notice by personal service, as provided in RCW 4.28.080.

(3) The notice must include a copy of the NCP's child support order and must contain the address and phone number of the DCS office which issued the notice.

(4) The notice must contain the information required by RCW 74.20A.320(2), telling the NCP that:

(a) The NCP may request an administrative hearing, but that the hearing is limited in scope (see WAC 388-14A-4530);

(b) DCS will certify the NCP unless the NCP makes a request for hearing within twenty calendar days of the date of service of the notice, except when a longer period of time is given, as provided in WAC 388-14A-4510 (2) or (3);

(c) The NCP may avoid certification by agreeing to make timely payments of current support and agreeing to a reasonable payment schedule on the support debt;

(d) Certification by DCS will result in suspension or nonrenewal of the NCP's license by the licensing entity until DCS issues a release stating that the NCP is in compliance with the child support order;

(e) Suspension of a license may affect the NCP's insurance coverage, depending on the terms of any policy;

(f) Filing a petition to modify the support obligation may stay (or put a hold on) the certification process; and

(g) Even after certification, the NCP may obtain a release from certification by complying with the support order.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.20A.320. 03-18-114, § 388-14A-4505, filed 9/2/03, effective 10/15/03. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090. 01-03-089, § 388-14A-4505, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-520.]

WAC 388-14A-4510 Who is subject to the DCS license suspension program? (1) The division of child support (DCS) may serve a notice of noncompliance on a non-custodial parent (NCP) who is not in compliance with a child support order when:

(a) The NCP is required to pay child support under a court order or administrative order;

(b) The NCP is at least six months in arrears; and

(c) The NCP is not currently making payments to the Washington state support registry under a wage withholding action issued by DCS.

(2) DCS may serve a notice of noncompliance on an NCP who meets the criteria of subsection (1) above, even if the NCP is in jail or prison. Unless the NCP has other resources available while in jail or prison, DCS stays the commencement of the twenty-day objection period in WAC 388-14A-4505 (4)(b) until the NCP has been out of jail or prison for thirty days.

(3) DCS may serve a notice of noncompliance on an NCP who meets the criteria of subsection (1) above, even if the NCP is a public assistance recipient. DCS stays the commencement of the twenty-day objection period in WAC 388-14A-4505 (4)(b) until the thirty days after the NCP's cash assistance grant is terminated.

(4) "Noncompliance with a child support order" for the purposes of the license suspension program means a NCP has:

(a) Accumulated a support debt, also called an arrearage or arrears, totaling more than six months of child support payments;

(b) Failed to make payments under a written agreement with DCS towards a support debt in an amount that is more than six months' worth of payments; or

(c) Failed to make payments required by a court order or administrative order towards a support debt in an amount that is more than six months' worth of payments.

(5) There is no minimum dollar amount for the six months of arrears. The following are examples of when a NCP is at least six months in arrears:

(a) The child support order requires monthly payments of five hundred dollars. The NCP has not made a single payment since the order was entered seven months ago. This NCP is at least six months in arrears;

(b) The child support order requires monthly payments of one hundred dollars. The NCP has paid for the last few months, but owes a back debt of over six hundred dollars. This NCP is at least six months in arrears;

(c) The NCP owes a support debt according to a judgment, which requires payments of one hundred dollars per month. The NCP has not made payment for eight months. This NCP is at least six months in arrears; or

(d) The child support order required monthly payments of two hundred dollars, but the child is over eighteen so no current support is owed. However, the NCP has a debt of over twelve hundred dollars. This NCP is at least six months in arrears.

(6) For the purposes of the license suspension program, a NCP is in compliance with the child support order when the amount owed in arrears is less than six months' worth of support.

WAC 388-14A-4515 How do I avoid having my license suspended for failure to pay child support? (1) After service of the notice of noncompliance, DCS stays certification action if the noncustodial parent (NCP) takes the following action within twenty days of service of the notice:

(a) Requests an administrative hearing under WAC 388-14A-4530; or

(b) Contacts DCS to negotiate a reasonable payment schedule on the arrears and agrees to make timely payments of current support.

(i) The stay for negotiation may last a maximum of thirty calendar days after the NCP contacts DCS; and

(ii) If no payment schedule has been agreed to in writing after thirty calendar days have passed, DCS may proceed with certification of noncompliance;

(iii) A reasonable payment schedule is described in WAC 388-14A-4520, below; and

(iv) The NCP may request a conference board review under WAC 388-14A-6400 if the NCP feels that DCS has not negotiated in good faith.

(2) If the NCP files a court or administrative action to modify the child support obligation, DCS stays the certification action.

(3) The stay for modification action may not exceed six months unless DCS finds good cause to extend the stay.

(4) The NCP must notify DCS that a modification proceeding is pending and must provide a copy of the motion or request for modification to DCS.

(5) A stay of certification does not require DCS to withdraw the notice of noncompliance.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.20A.320. 03-18-114, § 388-14A-4515, filed 9/2/03, effective 10/15/03. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.20A.320. 01-03-089, § 388-14A-4515, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-540.]

WAC 388-14A-4520 Signing a repayment agreement may avoid certification for noncompliance. (1) If a noncustodial parent (NCP) signs a repayment agreement, DCS stays the certification action. The NCP must agree to pay current support in a timely manner and make regular payments on the support debt.

(2) The repayment agreement must state that if the NCP fails to make payments under the terms of the agreement, DCS may resume certification action.

(3) The signing of a repayment agreement does not require DCS to withdraw the notice of noncompliance.

(4) In setting the repayment amount, DCS must take into account the financial situation of the NCP and the needs of all children who rely on the NCP for support. The NCP must supply sufficient financial information to allow DCS to analyze and document the NCP's financial situation and requirements, including normal living expenses and emergencies.

(5) A reasonable monthly arrears payment is defined as a percentage of the NCP's "adjusted net income," which is the NCP's net monthly income minus any current support obligation. The following table sets forth the suggested monthly payments on arrears:

| Monthly adjusted net income (ANI) | Monthly arrears payment = Percentage of ANI |
|-----------------------------------|---|
| $1,000 or less | 2% |
| $1,001 to $1,200 | 3% |
| $1,201 to $1,500 | 4% |
| $1,501 to $1,900 | 5% |
| $1,901 to $2,400 | 6% |
| $2,401 to $3,000 | 7% |
| $3,001 or more | 8% |

(6) Examples of how to calculate the arrears payment are as follows:

| | | |
|---------------------------------------|---|---------|
| (a) Monthly net income | = | $1,500 |
| Current support | = | $300 |
| Adjusted net income | = | $1,200 |
| Arrears payment = 3% of ANI ($1,200) | = | $36 |
| (b) Monthly net income | = | $3,100 |
| Current support | = | $-0- |
| Adjusted net income | = | $3,100 |
| Arrears payment = 8% of ANI ($3,100) | = | $248 |

(7) The NCP must document any factors which make the NCP eligible for an arrears payment less than the amount shown in the table in subsection (5). Such factors include, but are not limited to:

(a) Special needs children, or

(b) Uninsured medical expenses.

(8) The custodial parent and/or DCS must document any factors which make the NCP eligible for an arrears payment higher than the amount shown in the table in subsection (5). Such factors include, but are not limited to the factors listed in RCW 26.19.075 for deviation from the standard calculation for child support obligations.

(9) If the NCP signs a repayment agreement under this section under the circumstances spelled out in WAC 388-14A-4510 (2) or (3), the NCP may make voluntary payments but DCS does not resume certification action until thirty days after NCP is released or stops receiving public assistance.

WAC 388-14A-4525 How to obtain a release of certification for noncompliance. (1) After DCS has certified a noncustodial parent (NCP) to a licensing entity, the NCP may obtain a release from DCS by taking the following actions:

(a) Paying the support debt in full; or

(b) Signing a repayment agreement under WAC 388-14A-4520 and paying the first installment due under the agreement. Signing a repayment agreement does not require DCS to withdraw the notice of noncompliance.

(2) DCS must provide a copy of the release to any licensing entity to which DCS has certified the NCP.

(3) The NCP must comply with any requirements of the licensing entity to get the license reinstated or reissued.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.20A.320. 03-18-114, § 388-14A-4525, filed 9/2/03, effective 10/15/03. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.20A.320. 01-03-089, § 388-14A-4525, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-560.]

WAC 388-14A-4530 Administrative hearings regarding license suspension are limited in scope. (1) An administrative hearing on a notice of noncompliance under WAC 388-14A-4505 is limited to the following issues:

(a) Whether the person named in the child support order is the noncustodial parent (NCP);

(b) Whether the NCP is required to pay child support under a child support order; and

(c) Whether the NCP is at least six months in arrears.

(2) The administrative law judge (ALJ) is not required to calculate the outstanding support debt beyond determining whether the NCP is at least six months in arrears. Any debt calculation shall not be binding on the department or the NCP beyond the determination that there is at least six months of arrears.

(3) If the NCP requests a hearing on the notice, DCS stays the certification process until the hearing results in a finding that the NCP is not in compliance with the order, or that DCS is authorized to certify the NCP.

(4) If the NCP requests a hearing on the notice of noncompliance under the circumstances spelled out in WAC 388-14A-4510 (2) and (3), DCS asks the office of administrative hearings to schedule a hearing. If the hearing results in a finding that the NCP is not in compliance with the order, or that DCS is authorized to certify the NCP, DCS stays the certification process until thirty days after the NCP is released or stops receiving cash public assistance.

(b) Collect unpaid child support from noncustodial parents who have a support obligation.

(2) Anyone who has information concerning a noncustodial parent (NCP) is encouraged to provide that information to DCS.

WAC 388-14A-4605 Whose picture can go on the division of child support's DCS most wanted internet site? (1) If the child's custodial parent (CP) requests DCS to post the NCP to the DCS most wanted internet site (also called the "site"), the CP must:

(a) Give written permission to DCS to post the NCP on the site; and

(b) Provide a photograph of the NCP.

(2) Only the NCP's photograph appears on the site. If the CP submits a group photograph, DCS edits out everyone except the NCP.

(3) DCS may post an NCP to the site when:

(a) The NCP:

(i) Has made no payments in at least six months (intercepted IRS refunds are not considered to be payments for purposes of this section); and

(ii) Owes at least five thousand dollars in back child support; or

(b) DCS has been unable to locate the NCP after trying other means for at least twelve months, and:

(i) There is a valid support order; or

(ii) There is a valid paternity affidavit filed for a child on the case, or

(iii) The NCP is:

(A) The mother of the child(ren) on the case; or

(B) The presumed father under RCW 26.26.320.

WAC 388-14A-4610 How does a noncustodial parent avoid being posted on the DCS most wanted internet site?

(1) DCS mails a letter to the noncustodial parent's last known mailing address by first class mail before posting a noncustodial parent (NCP) on the site. The letter advises the NCP:

(2005 Ed.)

(a) Who cannot be located, to provide DCS with a current address and employer information.

(b) Who owes back support, to:

(i) Pay the back support debt in full; or

(ii) Sign a repayment agreement with DCS and make the first payment under that agreement.

(2) If the NCP does not comply within twenty days of the date on the letter, DCS may post the NCP to the site.

(3) If the NCP wishes to dispute the amount of the support debt, the NCP may request a conference board review under WAC 388-14A-6400. Such a request does not stay (stop) DCS from posting the NCP to the site.

(4) If the NCP files a court or administrative action to vacate or modify the support obligation, DCS stays the posting of the NCP to the site for up to six months. If DCS finds good cause, DCS may extend the stay.

(5) If the NCP enters into a repayment agreement, but then misses a payment under the agreement, DCS may post the NCP to the site without further notice to the NCP.

WAC 388-14A-4615 When does DCS remove a non-custodial parent from the DCS most wanted internet site?

(1) DCS must remove the noncustodial parent (NCP) from the site if:

(a) The NCP pays the back support debt in full;

(b) The NCP files a court or administrative action to modify or vacate the support obligation (subject to the limitations in WAC 388-14A-3700);

(c) The NCP enters into a repayment agreement and makes the first payment under that agreement (subject to the limitations in WAC 388-14A-4520);

(d) The CP withdraws permission for the posting.

(2) DCS may remove an NCP from the site even if the NCP has not complied with the requirements of this section.

(3) If an NCP receives a warning letter for locate purposes only, DCS must remove the NCP who provides a current address and employment information.

WAC 388-14A-4620 What information does the division of child support post to the DCS most wanted internet site?

(1) DCS may post to the site any information about the noncustodial parent (NCP) which may aid in locating the NCP or collecting child support from the NCP, such as:

(a) Full name and aliases;

(b) Photograph;

(d) Birth date;

(e) Last known address;

PART E - DISTRIBUTION ISSUES

WAC 388-14A-5000 How does the division of child support distribute support payments? (1) Under state and federal law, the division of child support (DCS) distributes support money it collects or receives to the:

(a) Department when the department provides or has provided public assistance payments for the support of the family;

(b) Payee under the order, or to the custodial parent (CP) of the child according to WAC 388-14A-5050;

(c) Child support enforcement agency in another state or foreign country which submitted a request for support enforcement services;

(d) Indian tribe which has a TANF program and/or a cooperative agreement regarding the delivery of child support services; or

(e) Person or entity making the payment when DCS is unable to identify the person to whom the support money is payable after making reasonable efforts to obtain identification information.

(2) If DCS is unable to distribute support money because the location of the family or person is unknown, it must exercise reasonable efforts to locate the family or person. When the family or person cannot be located, DCS handles the money in accordance with chapter 63.29 RCW, the uniform unclaimed property act.

(3) WAC 388-14A-5000 and sections WAC 388-14A-5001 through 388-14A-5008 contain the rules for distribution of support money by DCS.

(4) DCS changes the distribution rules based on changes in federal statutes and regulations.

WAC 388-14A-5001 What procedures does DCS follow to distribute support payments? When distributing support money, the division of child support (DCS) does the following:

(1) Records payments in exact amounts of dollars and cents;

(2) Distributes support money within two days of the date DCS receives the money, unless DCS is unable to distribute the payment for one or more of the following reasons:

(a) The location of the payee is unknown;

(b) DCS does not have sufficient information to identify the accounts against which or to which it should apply the money;

(c) An action is pending before a court or agency which has jurisdiction over the issue to determine whether support money is owed or how DCS should distribute the money.

(d) DCS receives prepaid support money and is holding for distribution in future months under subsection (2)(e) of this section;

(e) DCS mails a notice of intent to distribute support money to the custodial parent (CP) under WAC 388-14A-5050;

(f) DCS may hold funds and not issue a check to the family for amounts under one dollar. DCS must give credit for the payment, but may delay disbursement of that amount until a future payment is received which increases the amount of the payment to the family to at least one dollar. If no future payments are received which increase the payment to the family of at least one dollar, DCS transfers the amount to the department of revenue under RCW 63.29.130. This subsection does not apply to disbursements which can be made by electronic funds transfer (EFT), or to refunds of intercepted federal income tax refunds; or

(g) Other circumstances exist which make a proper and timely distribution of the money impossible through no fault or lack of diligence of DCS.

(3) Distribute support money based on the date DCS receives the money, except as provided under WAC 388-14A-5005.

WAC 388-14A-5007 If the paying parent has more than one case, can DCS apply support money to only one specific case? (1) The division of child support (DCS) applies amounts to a support debt owed for one family or household and distributes the amounts accordingly, rather than make a proportionate distribution between support debts owed to different families, when:

(a) Proportionate distribution is administratively inefficient; or

(b) The collection resulted from the sale or disposition of a specific piece of property against which a court awarded the custodial parent (CP) a judgment lien for child support; or

(c) The collection is the result of a contempt order which provides that DCS must distribute the amounts to a particular case.

(2) If the collection is the result of an automated enforcement of interstate (AEI) transaction under RCW 74.20A.188, DCS applies the payment as provided in WAC 388-14A-5006, even if the requesting state wants the payment applied to a specific case.

(1) Apply the support money to future months when the support debt is paid in full;

(2) Distribute the support money on a monthly basis when payments become due in the future; and

(3) Mail a notice to the last known address of the person entitled to receive support money. The notice informs the person that:

(a) DCS received prepaid support money;

(b) DCS intends to distribute the prepaid money as support payments become due in the future; and

(c) The person may request a conference board under WAC 388-14A-6400 to determine if DCS should immediately distribute the prepaid support money.

(d) DCS does not mail the notice referred to in subsection (3) of this section if the prepaid support is equal to or less than one month's support obligation.

WAC 388-14A-5050 When does DCS send a notice of intent to distribute support money? (1) The division of child support (DCS) may distribute support money to a custodial parent (CP) who is not the payee under the support order if the CP signs a sworn statement that:

(a) The CP has physical custody of and is caring for the child; and

(b) The CP is not wrongfully depriving the payee of physical custody.

(2) Before DCS begins distributing support money to a CP who is not the payee under the support order, DCS sends the payee under the support order and the noncustodial parent (NCP) a notice of intent to distribute support money and a copy of the sworn statement of the CP to their last known addresses by first class mail. The notice states:

(a) DCS intends to distribute support money collected under the support order to the CP; and

(b) The name of the CP.

(3) DCS distributes support money to the CP when the notice of intent to distribute support money becomes final.

(a) A notice of intent to distribute support money served in the state of Washington becomes final unless the payee under the support order, within twenty days of the date of mailing of the notice, files a request with DCS for a hearing under subsection (4) of this section. The effective date of a hearing request is the date DCS receives the request.

(b) A notice of intent to distribute support money served in another state becomes final according to WAC 388-14A-7200.

(4) A hearing on a notice of intent to distribute support money is for the limited purpose of resolving who is entitled to receive the support money.

(5) A copy of the notice of any hearing scheduled under this section must be mailed to the alleged CP at the CP's last known address. The notice advises the CP of the right to participate in the proceeding as a witness or observer.

(6) The payee under the support order may file a late hearing request on a notice of intent to distribute support money.

(a) The payee under the support order does not need to show good cause for filing a late hearing request.

(b) DCS may not reimburse the payee under the support order for amounts DCS sent to the CP before the administrative order on a late hearing request becomes final.

(7) The payee under the support order must give DCS and the CP notice of any judicial proceeding to contest a notice of intent to distribute support money.

(8) If the support order is a court order, DCS files a copy of the notice of intent to distribute support money or the final administrative order entered on a notice of intent to distribute support money with the clerk of the court where the support order was entered.

WAC 388-14A-5100 What kind of distribution notice does the division of child support send? (1) The division of child support (DCS) mails a distribution notice once each month, or more often, to the last known address of a person for whom it received support during the month, except as provided under subsection (6) of this section.

(2) DCS includes the following information in the notice:

(a) The amount of support money DCS received and the date of collection;

(b) A description of how DCS allocated the support money between current support and the support debt; and

(c) The amount DCS claims as reimbursement for public assistance paid, if applicable.

(3) The person to whom a distribution notice is sent may file a request for a hearing under subsection (4) of this section within ninety days of the date of the notice to contest how DCS distributed the support money, and must make specific objections to the distribution notice. The effective date of a hearing request is the date DCS receives the request.

(4) A hearing under this section is for the limited purpose of determining if DCS correctly distributed the support money described in the contested notice.

(5) A person who requests a late hearing must show good cause for being late.

(6) This section does not require DCS to send a notice to a recipient of payment services only.

WAC 388-14A-5200 What is a "total versus total" notice? (1) The division of child support (DCS) identifies cases needing a "total versus total" calculation, which compares amounts of public assistance paid to the family with amounts of support collected and uncollected support debt. DCS performs a total versus total calculation upon the request of the custodial parent (CP) or a DCS field office, usually only after the assistance grant has ended.

(a) The total versus total calculation allocates the uncollected support debt between the state and the CP, based on the amounts of public assistance paid to the family.

(b) The total versus total calculation indicates the amounts of support paid by each noncustodial parent (NCP) and how DCS distributed the support.

(c) DCS may at any time review a case to determine if a total versus total calculation is appropriate.

(2) When DCS completes a total versus total calculation at the request of the CP, DCS mails a total versus total notice to the last known address of the former assistance recipient.

(3) The person to whom DCS sends a total versus total notice may, within ninety days of the date of the notice, file a request for a conference board under WAC 388-14A-6400 to contest the distribution of support money and the allocation of uncollected support debt. The person must state specific objections to the total versus total notice. The effective date of a request conference board is the date DCS receives the request.

WAC 388-14A-5300 How does the division of child support recover a support payment which has already been distributed? (1) The division of child support (DCS)

may serve a notice to recover a support payment on the person who received the payment when DCS:

- (a) Distributed the money in error;
- (b) Distributed the money based on a check that is later dishonored;
- (c) Is required to refund or return the money to the person or entity that made the payment; or
- (d) Distributed money under a support order that was later modified so as to create an overpayment.

(2) DCS serves a notice to recover a support payment like a summons in a civil action or by certified mail, return receipt requested.

(3) In the notice, DCS must identify the support payment DCS seeks to recover.

(4) DCS may take action to enforce the notice to recover a support payment without further notice once the notice becomes final.

(a) A notice to recover a support payment becomes final unless the person who received the payment requests a hearing under subsection (5) of this section within twenty days of service of the notice to recover a support payment in Washington. The effective date of a hearing request is the date DCS receives the request.

(b) A notice to recover a support payment may be served in another state to recover a payment disbursed by DCS under RCW 26.21.385. A notice to recover a support payment served in another state becomes final according to WAC 388-14A-7200.

(5) A hearing on a notice to recover a support payment is for the limited purpose of resolving the existence and amount of the debt DCS is entitled to recover.

(6) A person who files a late request for a hearing on a notice to recover a support payment must show good cause for being late.

(7) In nonassistance cases and payment services only cases, DCS may recover a support payment under a final administrative order on a notice to recover a support payment by retaining ten percent of current support and one hundred percent of amounts collected on arrears in addition to any other remedy authorized by law.

(8) If a public assistance recipient receives a support payment directly from a noncustodial parent (NCP) and fails to remit it to DCS as required, DCS recovers the money as retained support under WAC 388-14A-5500.

(9) DCS may enforce the notice to recover a support payment as provided in subsection (7), or may act according to RCW 74.20A.270 as deemed appropriate.

WAC 388-14A-5400 How does the division of child support tell the custodial parent when DCS adjusts the amount of debt owed on the case? (1) The division of child support (DCS) mails a debt adjustment notice to the payee under a court order within thirty days of the date DCS reduces the amount of the court-ordered support debt it intends to collect if that reduction was due to:

- (a) A mathematical error in the debt calculation;
- (b) A typographical error in the stated debt;

(c) Proof that DCS should have suspended the support obligation for all or part of the time period involved in the calculation; or

(d) Proof the noncustodial parent (NCP) made payments that DCS had not previously credited against the support debt.

(2) The debt adjustment notice must contain the following information:

- (a) The amount of the reduction;
- (b) The reason DCS reduced the support debt, as provided under subsection (1) of this section;

(c) The name of the NCP and a statement that the NCP may attend and participate as an independent party in any hearing requested by the payee under this section; and

(d) A statement that DCS continues to provide support enforcement services whether or not the payee objects to the debt adjustment notice.

(3) A debt adjustment notice served in Washington becomes final unless the payee, within twenty days of service of the notice in Washington, files a request with DCS for a hearing under subsection (4) of this section. The effective date of a hearing request is the date DCS receives the request.

(4) A debt adjustment notice served in another state becomes final according to WAC 388-14A-7200.

(5) A hearing under this section is for the limited purpose of determining if DCS correctly reduced the support debt as stated in the notice of debt adjustment.

(6) A payee who requests a late hearing must show good cause for filing a late hearing request if it is filed more than one year after the date of the notice of debt adjustment.

WAC 388-14A-5500 How does the division of child support collect support debts owed by someone other than a noncustodial parent? (1) Sections 17 and 18, chapter 171, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. (RCW 74.20.320 and 74.20A.-270), provide that a custodian of children or other person who receives support money which money was paid, in whole or in part, toward a support obligation under 42 U.S.C. 602 (a)(26)(A), sections 17 and 22, chapter 171, Laws of 1979 ex. sess., or RCW 74.20A.030 must remit that money to the division of child support (DCS) within eight days of receipt, and is indebted to the department for this amount of money.

(2) By not remitting support money described in subsection (1) of this section, a custodial parent (CP) or other person makes, without the necessity of signing any document, an irrevocable assignment to the department of an equal amount of any support debt not already assigned to the department, but owing to the CP or other person, or an equal amount of any support debt which may accrue in the future. DCS may use the collection procedures of chapter 74.20A RCW to collect this assigned delinquency, to satisfy a debt owed under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) DCS may also make a set-off to pay the debt under subsection (1) of this section from support money in DCS' possession or in the possession of a county clerk or other forwarding agent if that money was paid to satisfy a support delinquency.

(4) DCS may take action alternatively or simultaneously under subsections (1), (2) and (3) of this section but the department may not collect and retain more money than the debt described under subsection (1) of this section, refunding the excess, without deducting fees, to the CP.

(5) DCS must give the CP or other person an account of actions taken under subsections (2) or (3) of this section.

(5) A statement that the notice must be answered, under oath and in writing, within twenty days of the date of service of the notice;

(6) A statement that the answer to the notice must include true answers to the questions in the notice and must either acknowledge the department's right to the money or request an administrative hearing to determine ownership of the money;

(7) A statement that the burden of proof in a hearing on a notice of retained support debt under this section is on the department to establish ownership of the support money claimed;

(8) A statement that, if the person, firm, corporation, association, or political subdivision or officer or agent thereof does not answer or make a request for hearing in a timely manner, the department's claim will be assessed and determined and subject to collection action as a support debt according to chapter 74.20A RCW; and

(9) A statement that the department may collect a support debt, as assessed and determined, and that the property of the debtor, without further advance notice or hearing, is subject to lien and foreclosure, distraint, seizure and sale, or order to withhold and deliver to satisfy the debt. The department may not take collection action against a recipient of public assistance during the period of time the recipient remains on assistance except as provided in RCW 74.20A.-270 and WAC 388-14A-2040.

debtor who objects to all or any part of a notice of retained support may, within twenty days from the date of service of the notice, file an application for an administrative hearing. An objection under this section is the same thing as a general denial of liability to the department.

(2) The notice of retained support does not become final until there is a final administrative order.

(3) If the objection is timely, the department serves the notice of hearing on the appellant or the appellant's representative by first class mail.

(4) The department must notify the appellant that it is the appellant's responsibility to notify the department of the appellant's mailing address at the time the application is filed and also of any change of address after filing the application. (3) The administrative law judge (ALJ) must allow the division of child support (DCS) to orally amend the notice of retained support at the hearing to conform to the evidence. The ALJ may grant a continuance, if necessary, to allow the debtor additional time to present evidence or argument in response to the amendment.

(4) The ALJ serves a copy of the initial decision on DCS and the debtor or the debtor's representative by first class mail to the last address provided by each party.

(5) If the debtor fails to appear at the hearing, the ALJ, upon a showing of valid service of the notice of retained support, enters an initial decision and order declaring that the amount of the support money claimed in the notice, is subject to collection action under chapter 74.20A RCW.

WAC 388-14A-5530 Can I request a late hearing on a notice of retained support? (1) Within one year from the date the division of child support (DCS) serves a notice of retained support, the person, firm, corporation, association, political subdivision or any officer or agent thereof may petition DCS for a hearing, upon a showing of any of the grounds listed in RCW 4.72.010 or CR 60.

(2) A copy of the objection must be served by first class mail on the district field office of DCS.

(3) The filing of the petition does not stay any collection action that DCS has taken, but the debtor may petition the secretary or the secretary's designee for an order staying collection action pending final decision of the secretary or the secretary's designee or the courts on an appeal made under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(4) Any money held or taken by collection action before any such stay and any support money claimed by the department, including amounts to be received in the future, to which the department may have a claim, must be held in trust pending the final decision and appeal, if any, to be disbursed in accordance with the final decision.

(5) If someone files a petition for a hearing, the department serves the notice of hearing on the appellant, the appellant's attorney, or other designated representative by first class mail.

(6) The department notifies the appellant that the appellant must notify the department of the appellant's mailing address at the time the petition is filed and also of any change of address after filing the petition. Mailing by first class mail to the last address provided by the appellant constitutes service under chapters 74.20A and 34.05 RCW.

PART F - HEARINGS AND CONFERENCE BOARDS

WAC 388-14A-6000 Which statutes and regulations govern the division of child support's hearing process? (1) Hearings under this chapter are governed by:

(a) The Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.05 RCW, RCW 74.20A.055; and

(b) Chapter 388-02 WAC.

(2) If any provision in this chapter conflicts with or is inconsistent with chapter 388-02 WAC, the provision in this chapter governs.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 34.05.220, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-6000, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-11-180 and 388-13-120.]

WAC 388-14A-6100 The division of child support accepts oral requests for hearing or conference board. (1) Except for the instances listed in subsection (8), the division of child support (DCS) accepts either a written or an oral request for hearing or conference board, even though other sections of this chapter or the relevant statutes may provide that objections and hearing requests should be in writing.

(2) The subject matter of the objection determines whether the matter is set as a conference board or hearing, unless there is a specific request for an administrative hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(3) DCS processes oral and written requests for hearing in the same manner.

(4) An oral request for hearing is complete if it contains enough information to identify the person making the request, the DCS action, and the case or cases involved in the hearing request.

(5) The effective date of an oral request for hearing is the date that someone makes a complete oral request for hearing, to any DCS representative in person or by leaving a message on the automated voice mail system of any DCS field office.

(6) When making an oral request, you do not need to specify whether you want a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW or a conference board under WAC 388-14A-6400.

(7) You can make an oral request for hearing or conference board on behalf of another person, if you have written authorization to act on their behalf. The effective date of an oral request for hearing or conference board made on behalf of another person is the date that DCS receives the written authorization.

(8) There are two types of hearing requests which must be in writing:

(a) A petition for prospective modification under WAC 388-14A-3925; and

(b) A petition for reimbursement for day care expenses under WAC 388-14A-4300.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 34.05.220, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-6100, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-500.]

WAC 388-14A-6105 What is the difference between an initial order and a final order in a hearing involving the division of child support? (1) In an administrative hearing involving the DSHS division of child support (DCS), the administrative law judge (ALJ) enters either an initial order, which is subject to review, or a final order, which is not subject to review.

(2) The terms "initial order," "final order" and "review" are defined in WAC 388-02-0010, and those definitions are repeated here for ease of reference:

(a) "Initial order" is a hearing decision made by an ALJ that may be reviewed by a review judge pursuant to WAC 388-02-0215(4). An initial order is sometimes called an "initial decision."

(b) "Final order" means an order that is the final DSHS decision.

(c) "Review" means the act of reviewing initial orders and making the final agency decision as provided by RCW 34.05.464.

(3) WAC 388-14A-6110 and 388-14A-6115 describe how to determine what kind of order is entered. Whether the ALJ enters an initial order or a final order does not depend on the date the hearing is held or the date the order is entered.

(4) WAC 388-14A-6120 describes what you can do if you disagree with an initial order or final order.

(5) WAC 388-14A-6125 describes when DCS may take enforcement action on an initial order or final order.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.220(1), 74.08.090, 74.20A.056, 74.20A.-310, 26.26.315, 26.26.320, 26.26.330, 26.26.335, 74.20A.055, 2002 c 302, and 2002 c 199. 03-17-013, § 388-14A-6105, filed 8/12/03, effective 9/12/03.]

WAC 388-14A-6110 When must an ALJ enter an initial order in a DCS hearing proceeding? An administrative law judge (ALJ) must enter an initial order in a division of child support (DCS) hearing proceeding if:

(1) The case involves the disclosure of a party's address under WAC 388-14A-2114 through 388-14A-2140;

(2) A custodial parent (CP) or noncustodial parent (NCP) files a hearing request before November 15, 2002;

(3) A CP or NCP files a petition for modification with DCS or the office of administrative hearings (OAH) before November 15, 2002; or

(4) DCS petitions for modification of an administrative order, and either the NCP or the CP is served with the notice of hearing before November 15, 2002.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.220(1), 74.08.090, 74.20A.056, 74.20A.-310, 26.26.315, 26.26.320, 26.26.330, 26.26.335, 74.20A.055, 2002 c 302, and 2002 c 199. 03-17-013, § 388-14A-6110, filed 8/12/03, effective 9/12/03.]

WAC 388-14A-6115 When must an ALJ enter a final order in a DCS hearing proceeding? Except for cases regarding address disclosure under WAC 388-14A-2114 through 388-14A-2140, an administrative law judge (ALJ) must enter a final order in a DCS hearing proceeding if:

(1) A custodial parent (CP) or noncustodial parent (NCP) files a hearing request on or after November 15, 2002;

(2) An NCP or CP files a petition for modification with DCS or the office of administrative hearings (OAH) on or after November 15, 2002;

[Title 388 WAC—p. 232]

(3) DCS petitions for modification of an administrative order, and neither the NCP nor the CP is served before November 15, 2002.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.220(1), 74.08.090, 74.20A.056, 74.20A.-310, 26.26.315, 26.26.320, 26.26.330, 26.26.335, 74.20A.055, 2002 c 302, and 2002 c 199. 03-17-013, § 388-14A-6115, filed 8/12/03, effective 9/12/03.]

WAC 388-14A-6120 What can I do if I do not agree with an initial order or final order entered by an administrative law judge? (1) Except for the DCS representative, any party to an initial order entered by an administrative law judge (ALJ) has the right to request review pursuant to chapter 388-02 WAC.

(2) No party may request administrative review of a final order entered by an ALJ.

(3) Any party to an initial order or a final order may petition to vacate an order of dismissal or default, pursuant to WAC 388-14A-3700 and 388-14A-6150.

(4) Any party to an initial order or final order may request correction of a clerical error in the order, pursuant to WAC 388-02-0540 through 388-02-0555.

(5) Any party to a final order may request reconsideration of the order, pursuant to WAC 388-02-0605 through 388-02-0635.

(6) Except for the DCS representative, any party to a final order may petition for judicial review, pursuant to RCW 34.05.510 through 34.05.598. You do not need to request reconsideration of the order before you petition for judicial review.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 34.05.220(1), 74.08.090, 74.20A.056, 74.20A.-310, 26.26.315, 26.26.320, 26.26.330, 26.26.335, 74.20A.055, 2002 c 302, and 2002 c 199. 03-17-013, § 388-14A-6120, filed 8/12/03, effective 9/12/03.]

WAC 388-14A-6125 When does an initial order or final order entered by an ALJ become enforceable? (1) If no party requests review within twenty-one days of the date OAH mailed an initial order, the DSHS division of child support (DCS) may take enforcement action on the twenty-second day after OAH mailed the order.

(2) DCS may take enforcement action on a final order immediately upon entry of the order.

(a) Even if a party files a request for reconsideration, a request to correct a clerical error, a petition to vacate, or a petition for judicial review, DCS does not stop enforcement of the order.

(b) To stop DCS from enforcing a final order, you must obtain a court order staying (stopping) enforcement of the order.

WAC 388-14A-6150 What can I do if there was a default order entered against me in an administrative hearing? (1) Any party against whom the administrative law judge (ALJ) has entered an initial decision and order on default may petition the DSHS board of appeals for vacation of the default order, subject to the provisions, including time limits, of civil rule 60.

(2) Specific rules on administrative support establishment notices are in WAC 388-14A-3700.

(3) Upon receipt of a request to vacate a default order, the department must ask the office of administrative hearings (OAH) to:

(a) Schedule a hearing to determine whether or not the petitioner has good cause for vacating the default order; and

(b) Give any other parties to the hearing notice of the time and date of the hearing. The notice is sent to the party's last known address.

(4) In a hearing under this section, the ALJ must first determine if the petitioner has good cause for vacating the default order by applying civil rule 60 to determine whether the petition has good cause, in making this determination, the ALJ must consider the following factors:

(a) Whether there is substantial evidence to support a prima facie defense to the notice which was the subject of the hearing;

(b) Whether the petitioner's failure to appear at the hearing was due to mistake, inadvertence, surprise or excusable neglect;

(c) Whether the petition to vacate has been brought in a timely manner; and

(d) Whether vacating the initial decision would result in a substantial hardship to the parent who did appear for hearing.

(5) If the ALJ finds good cause to vacate the default order, the ALJ:

(a) Must conduct a hearing on the merits of the petitioner's objection to the notice that was the basis for the hearing at which the petitioner failed to appear; and

(b) May stay any further collection to the extent provided for under the rules governing the notice the party originally objected to.

(6) If the parent who did not appear at the hearing is unsuccessful in the motion to vacate the default order, the ALJ may treat the petition as a petition to modify the support order.

WAC 388-14A-6200 What remedies are available to contest the division of child support's seizure of my bank account? (1) If the division of child support (DCS) takes collection action against a bank account, safe deposit box, or other property held by a bank, credit union or savings and loan (collectively, "the account"), the noncustodial parent (NCP) or the joint owner of record of the account may contest the action in a hearing.

(2) The effective date of a hearing request or objection is the date DCS receives the request.

(3) The NCP or the joint owner must file the objection within twenty days of the date DCS mailed a copy of the order to withhold and deliver to the NCP's last known address.

(4) The NCP or joint owner of record must state in the objection the facts supporting the allegation by the NCP or the joint owner that the account, or a portion of the account is exempt from satisfaction of the NCP's child support obligation.

(2005 Ed.)

(5) If either the NCP or the joint owner of record objects to the collection action, DCS schedules a hearing solely for the purpose of determining whether or not one of the following exemptions applies to the account attached by the order to withhold and deliver:

(a) Pursuant to RCW 26.16.200 and 74.20A.120, the property or funds in the community bank account, joint bank account, or safe deposit box, or a portion of the property or funds which can be identified as the earnings of the NCP's spouse who does not owe a support obligation to the NCP's child or children, are exempt from satisfaction of the child support obligation of the NCP.

(b) The funds in a bank account, or a portion of those funds can be identified as TANF, GA-U, GA-X, SSI benefits, or other kinds of funds which are legally exempt from collection action; or

(c) The funds or property attached by the order to withhold and deliver which can be identified as being solely owned by the joint owner of record of the bank account or safe deposit box who does not owe a child support obligation to the child or children of the NCP, are exempt from satisfaction of the NCP's child support obligation.

(1) If either the noncustodial parent (NCP) or the joint owner of record objects to a division of child support (DCS) collection action against a bank account, DCS schedules a hearing solely for the purpose of determining whether or not one of the following exemptions applies to the funds in the bank account, or to the other property attached by the order to withhold and deliver:

(a) Pursuant to RCW 26.16.200 and 74.20A.120, the property or funds in the community bank account, joint bank account, or safe deposit box, or a portion of the property or funds which can be identified as the earnings of the NCP's spouse who does not owe a support obligation to the NCP's child or children, are exempt from satisfaction of the child support obligation of the NCP.

(b) The funds in the bank account, or a portion of those funds can be identified as TANF, GA-U, GA-X, SSI benefits, or other kinds of funds which are legally exempt from collection action; or

(c) The funds or property attached by the order to withhold and deliver can be identified as being solely owned by the joint owner of record of the bank account or safe deposit box who does not owe a child support obligation to the child or children of the NCP and are exempt from satisfaction of the NCP's child support obligation.

(2) The person challenging the collection action has the burden of tracing the funds and proving the property or funds in the bank account, or property in a safe deposit box, are exempt from satisfaction of the NCP's child support obligation.

(3) The administrative law judge (ALJ) is limited to the determination of whether the funds in the bank account, or the other property attached by the order to withhold and deliver is exempt from satisfaction of the NCP's child support obligation.

WAC 388-14A-6210 What happens to the seized money once an objection is filed? The division of child support (DCS) holds money or property withheld as a result of collection action taken against a bank account or safe deposit box and delivered to DCS at the time of an objection, pending the final administrative order or during any appeal to the courts.

WAC 388-14A-6215 What happens if the judge decides the seized money was exempt? If the final decision of the department or courts on appeal is that the division of child support (DCS) has caused money or property that is exempt from satisfaction of the NCP's child support obligation to be withheld by the bank or delivered to the department, DCS must:

- (1) Promptly release the order to withhold and deliver; or
- (2) Refund the proportionate share of the funds having been identified as being exempt. The department is not liable for any interest accrued on any money withheld under RCW 74.20A.080.

WAC 388-14A-6220 What remedies are available to contest the division of child support's seizure of my DOC inmate account? (1) In hearings held under this chapter to contest a notice and finding of financial responsibility or a notice and finding of parental responsibility or other notice or petition, the administrative law judge (ALJ) must determine:

- (a) The noncustodial parent's obligation to provide support under RCW 74.20A.057;
- (b) The net monthly income of the noncustodial parent (NCP) and any custodial parent (CP);
- (c) The NCP's share of the basic support obligation and any adjustments to that share, according to his or her circumstances;

(f) The NCP's accrued debt and order payments toward the debt; and

(g) The NCP's total current and future support obligation as a sum certain and order payments in that amount.

(2) The ALJ must allow the division of child support (DCS) to orally amend the notice at the hearing to conform to the evidence. The ALJ may grant a continuance, when necessary, to allow the NCP or the CP additional time to present rebutting evidence or argument as to the amendment.

(3) The ALJ may not require DCS to produce or obtain information, documents, or witnesses to assist the NCP or CP in proof of defenses to liability. However, this rule does not apply to relevant, nonconfidential information or documents that DCS has in its possession.

WAC 388-14A-6400 The division of child support's grievance and dispute resolution method is called a conference board. (1) The division of child support (DCS) provides conference boards for the resolution of complaints and problems regarding DCS cases, and for granting exceptional or extraordinary relief. A conference board is an informal review of case actions and of the circumstances of the parties and children related to a child support case.

(a) The term conference board can mean either of the following, depending on the context:

- (i) The process itself, including the review and any meeting convened; or
- (ii) The DCS staff who make up the panel which convenes the hearing and makes factual and legal determinations.

(b) A conference board chair is an attorney employed by DCS in the conference board unit. In accordance with section WAC 388-14A-6415, the conference board chair reviews a case, and:

- (i) Issues a decision without a hearing, or
- (ii) Sets a hearing to take statements from interested parties before reaching a decision.

(2) A person who disagrees with any DCS action related to establishing, enforcing or modifying a support order may ask for a conference board.

(3) DCS uses the conference board process to:

- (a) Help resolve complaints and problems over agency actions;
- (b) Determine when hardship in the paying parent's household, as defined in RCW 74.20A.160, justifies the release of collection action or the refund of a support payment;
- (c) Set a repayment rate on a support debt; and
- (d) Determine when it is appropriate to write off support debts owed to the department based on:
 - (i) Hardship to the paying parent or that parent's household;
 - (ii) Settlement by compromise of disputed claims;
 - (iii) Probable costs of collection in excess of the support debt; or

(iv) An error or legal defect that reduces the possibility of collection.

(4) A conference board is not a formal hearing under the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW.

(5) A conference board does not replace any formal hearing right created by chapters 388-14A WAC, or by chapters 26.23, 74.20 or 74.20A RCW.

(6) This section and WAC 388-14A-6405 through 388-14A-6415 govern the conference board process in DCS cases.

WAC 388-14A-6405 How to apply for a conference board. (1) A person may request a conference board, orally or in writing, at any division of child support (DCS) office.

(2) Oral requests for conference boards are governed by WAC 388-14A-6100.

(3) DCS may start conference board proceedings in appropriate circumstances.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 26.23.035, 34.05.220, 74.20A.310, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-6405, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-386.]

WAC 388-14A-6410 Explanation of the conference board process. (1) An applicant for a conference board must make reasonable efforts to resolve the dispute with division of child support (DCS) staff before the conference board can act in the case.

(2) A conference board chair reviews each application to determine appropriate action:

(a) If there are questions of both law and fact or if the dispute involves only facts, the chair may schedule a conference board hearing to gather evidence;

(b) If the factual dispute would not provide a basis on which the conference board could grant relief, even if all facts were resolved in favor of the applicant, the chair may issue a decision without a hearing; or

(c) If the dispute can be resolved as a matter of law without relying upon disputed facts, the conference board chair may issue a decision without scheduling a hearing.

(3) If the conference board chair schedules a hearing, the conference board is made up of the conference board chair and staff from the DCS field office which handles the child support case, if needed.

(a) At the hearing, the conference board makes determinations of relevant disputed facts. Decisions on factual issues are made by a majority of the conference board.

(b) Decisions on issues of law are made by the conference board chair alone.

(c) The DCS worker regularly assigned to a case may not be part of a conference board dealing with that case.

(4) The conference board chair prepares a decision, if necessary, and provides that decision to the parties to the conference board, and to the DCS staff responsible for the case.

(5) The director of DCS, or a person designated by the director, may review conference board decisions, and may alter, amend, vacate or remand decisions that are inconsistent with Washington law or DCS policy, or are grossly unfair.

WAC 388-14A-6500 Can I use equitable estoppel as a defense in a hearing with the division of child support?

(1) Equitable estoppel is available in adjudicative proceedings conducted under this chapter.

(2) When a party raises, or the facts indicate, a claim that equitable estoppel applies to a party to the proceeding, the administrative law judge (ALJ) must:

(a) Consider equitable estoppel according to the precedents set by reported Washington state appellate case law, where not contrary to public policy; and

(b) Enter findings of fact and conclusions of law sufficient to determine if the elements of equitable estoppel are met and apply.

(3) The party asserting, or benefitting from, equitable estoppel must prove each element of that defense by clear, cogent and convincing evidence.

(4) The ALJ must consider on the record whether a continuance is necessary to allow the parties to prepare to argue equitable estoppel when:

(a) A party raises equitable estoppel; or

(b) The facts presented require consideration of equitable estoppel.

(5) When the ALJ orders a continuance under subsection (4) of this section, the ALJ enters an initial decision and order for current support if:

(a) Current support is an issue in the proceeding; and

(b) The claim for current support is unaffected by the equitable estoppel defense.

(6) The defense of equitable estoppel is not available to a party when the:

(a) Party raises the defense against the department's claim for reimbursement of public assistance; and

(b) Act or representation forming the basis for an estoppel claim:

(i) Was made by a current or former public assistance recipient;

(ii) Was made on or after the effective date of the assignment of support rights; and

(iii) Purported to waive, satisfy, or discharge a support obligation assigned to the department.

PART G - INTERSTATE ISSUES

WAC 388-14A-7100 An order from another state may be registered in Washington for enforcement or modification. (1) A support enforcement agency, or a party to a child support order or an income-withholding order for support issued by a tribunal of another state, may register the order in this state for enforcement pursuant to chapter 26.21 RCW.

(a) The order may be registered with the superior court pursuant to RCW 26.21.490 or it may be registered with the administrative tribunal according to subsection (2) of this section, at the option of the division of child support (DCS). Either method of registration is valid.

(b) A support order or income-withholding order issued in another state is registered when the order is filed with the registering tribunal of this state.

(c) DCS may enforce a registered order issued in another state in the same manner and is subject to the same procedures as an order issued by a tribunal of this state.

(2) DCS must give notice to the nonregistering party when it administratively registers a support order or income-withholding order issued in another state.

(a) The notice must inform the nonregistering party:

(i) That a registered order is enforceable as of the date of registration in the same manner as an order issued by a tribunal of this state;

(ii) That if a party wants a hearing to contest the validity or enforcement of the registered order, the party must request a hearing within twenty days after the date of receipt by certified or registered mail or personal service of the notice given to a nonregistering party within the state and within sixty days after the date of receipt by certified or registered mail or personal service of the notice on a nonregistering party outside of the state;

(iii) That failure to contest the validity or enforcement of the registered order in a timely manner will result in confirmation of the order and enforcement of the order and the alleged arrearages and precludes further contest of that order with respect to any matter that could have been asserted; and

(iv) Of the amount of any alleged arrearages.

(b) The notice must be:

(i) Served by certified or registered mail or by any means of personal service authorized by the laws of the state of Washington; and

(ii) Accompanied by a copy of the registered order and any documents and relevant information accompanying the order submitted by the registering party.

(c) The effective date of a request for hearing to contest the validity or enforcement of the registered order is the date DCS receives the request.

(3) A hearing under this section is for the limited purpose of determining if the nonregistering party can prove one or more of the defenses listed in RCW 26.21.540(1).

(a) If the contesting party presents evidence establishing a full or partial defense under RCW 26.21.540(1), the presiding officer may:

(i) Stay enforcement of the registered order;

(ii) Continue the proceeding to allow the parties to gather additional relevant evidence; or

(iii) Issue other appropriate orders.

(b) DCS may enforce an uncontested portion of the registered order by all remedies available under the law of this state.

(c) If the contesting party does not establish a defense under RCW 26.21.540(1) to the validity or enforcement of the order, the presiding officer must issue an order confirming the registered order.

(d) The custodial parent (CP) or payee of the order may participate as a party to any hearing under this section.

(4) Confirmation of a registered order precludes further contest of the order with respect to any matter that could have been asserted at the time of registration. Confirmation may occur:

(a) By operation of law upon failure to contest registration; or

(b) By order of the administrative law judge (ALJ).

(5) A party or support enforcement agency seeking to modify, or to modify and enforce, a child support order issued in another state may register the order in this state according to RCW 26.21.560 through 26.21.580.

(a) The order must be registered as provided in subsection (1)(a) if the order has not yet been registered.

(b) A petition for modification may be filed at the same time as a request for registration, or later. The petition must specify the grounds for modification.

(c) DCS may enforce a child support order of another state registered for purposes of modification, as if a tribunal of this state had issued the order, but the registered order may be modified only if the requirements of RCW 26.21.580 are met.

(6) Interpretation of the registered order is governed by RCW 26.21.510.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 26.23.035, 34.05.220, 74.20A.310, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-7100, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-260 and 388-14-495.]

WAC 388-14A-7200 DCS can serve notices in other states under the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act.

(1) Except as specified in WAC 388-14A-3105, where grounds for personal jurisdiction exist under RCW 26.21.075 or other Washington law, the division of child support (DCS) may serve the following legal actions in another state by certified mail, return receipt requested or by personal service, under chapter 26.21 RCW:

(a) A notice and finding of financial responsibility under WAC 388-14A-3115; and

(b) A notice and finding of parental responsibility under WAC 388-14A-3120;

(c) A notice of paternity test costs under WAC 388-14A-8300; or

(d) An affidavit of birth costs under WAC 388-14A-3555.

(2) A notice and finding of financial responsibility, a notice of paternity test costs, or an affidavit of birth costs becomes final and subject to immediate wage withholding and enforcement without further notice under chapters 26.18, 26.23, and 74.20A RCW unless the noncustodial parent (NCP), within sixty days of service in another state:

(a) Contacts DCS and signs an agreed settlement or consent order; or

(b) Files a written request for a hearing under:

(i) WAC 388-14A-3115 for a notice and finding of financial responsibility;

(ii) WAC 388-14A-3555 for an affidavit of birth costs; or

(iii) WAC 388-14A-8300 for a notice of paternity test costs.

(3) The effective date of a hearing request is the date DCS receives the hearing request.

(4) A notice and finding of parental responsibility becomes final and subject to immediate wage withholding and enforcement without further notice under chapters 26.18, 26.23, and 74.20A RCW unless the NCP, within sixty days of service in another state:

(a) Contacts DCS and signs an agreed settlement or consent order;

(b) Files a written request for a hearing under WAC 388-14A-3120 with DCS; or

(c) Files a written request for paternity testing under WAC 388-14A-8300 to determine if he is the natural father of the dependent child named in the notice and cooperates in the testing. A request for a hearing or paternity testing is filed on the date the request is received by DCS.

(5) If the results of paternity tests requested under subsection (4) of this section do not exclude the NCP as the natural father of the dependent child, the notice and finding of parental responsibility becomes final and subject to immediate wage withholding without further notice under chapters 26.18, 26.23, and 74.20A RCW unless the NCP, within sixty days of service of the paternity test costs in another state:

(a) Contacts DCS and signs an agreed settlement or consent order; or

(b) Files a written request for a hearing under WAC 388-14A-3120.

(6) Administrative law judges and parties must conduct administrative hearings on notices served in another state under this section under the special rules of evidence and procedure in chapter 26.21 RCW and according to chapter 34.05 RCW.

PART H - MISCELLANEOUS

WAC 388-14A-8100 Are there special rules for setting child support for children in foster care? (1) Child support obligations for children in foster care are set under chapter 26.19 RCW, just like any other support obligation.

(2) The division of child support does not establish or enforce support obligations for children in foster care who have been certified as eligible for DDD services.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-8100, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-8105 Does the cost of care affect how much child support I pay when my child is in foster care? (1) Child support obligations for children in foster care are set according to chapter 26.19 RCW, without regard to how much the department is expending in foster care funds.

(2) The administrative law judge or review judge may not limit the noncustodial parent's support obligation to the amount the department expends each month for foster care.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-8105, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-8110 What happens to the money if current support is higher than the cost of care? (1) When the division of child support (DCS) collects child support from the parent(s) of a child in foster care, DCS sends the amounts collected to the division of child and family services (DCFS), which administers foster care funds.

(2) DCFS and its Office of accounting services (OAS) apply child support payments collected by DCS.

(3) DCFS and/or OAS deposits in a trust account for the child any child support payments which they don't use to reimburse foster care expenses.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-8110, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01.]

WAC 388-14A-8120 Are there special rules for collection in foster care cases? (1) Whenever the department provides residential care ("foster care") for a dependent child or children, the noncustodial parent (NCP) or parents (NCPs) satisfy their obligation to support the child or children by paying to the department the amount specified in a court order or administrative order, if a support order exists.

(2) The division of child support (DCS) takes action under the provisions of chapters 74.20 and 74.20A RCW and this chapter to enforce and collect support obligations owed for children receiving foster care services.

(3) If, during a month when a child is in foster care, the NCP is the "head of household" with other dependent children in the home, DCS does not collect and retain a support payment if:

(a) The household's income is below the need standard for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) (see WAC 388-478-0015); or

(b) Collection of support would reduce the household's income below the need standard.

(4) The NCP's support obligation for the child or children in foster care continues to accrue during any month DCS is prevented from collecting and retaining support payments under this section.

(5) If the department has collected support payments from the head of household during the months which qualify under section (3), the NCP may request a conference board in accordance with WAC 388-14A-6400.

(6) The NCP must prove at the conference board that the income of the household was below or was reduced below the need standard during the months DCS collected payments.

(7) If the conference board determines that DCS has collected support payments from the head of household that the department is not entitled to retain according to this section, DCS must promptly refund, without interest, any support payments, or the portion of a payment which reduced the income of the household below the need standard.

(8) This section does not apply to payments collected prior to August 23, 1983.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-8120, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-395.]

WAC 388-14A-8200 All Washington employers must report new hires to the Washington state support registry. (1) RCW 26.23.040 requires all employers doing business in the state of Washington to comply with the employer reporting requirements regarding new hires.

(2) The minimum information that an employer must report is the employee's name, date of birth, social security number and date of hire.

(3) An employer who submits a copy of the employee's completed W-4 form complies with the filing requirements of RCW 26.23.040(3).

(4) An employer may choose to voluntarily report the other statutory elements.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 26.23.040, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-8200, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-14-490.]

WAC 388-14A-8300 Who pays for genetic testing when paternity is an issue? (1) As provided in WAC 388-14A-3120(14), the noncustodial parent (NCP) and/or the mother of the child may request genetic testing, also called paternity tests, after the service of a notice and finding of parental responsibility.

(2) After receiving a request for paternity tests, the division of child support (DCS) must:

(a) Arrange and pay for the genetic testing, except as provided in subsection (6) of this section, with a laboratory under contract with the department; and

(b) Notify the NCP and the mother of the time and place to appear to give blood samples.

(3) After DCS receives the test results, DCS must:

(a) Mail a notice of the test results to the:

(i) NCP's last known address by certified mail, return receipt requested; and

(ii) Mother's and/or custodial parent's last known address by first class mail.

(b) Notify the NCP:

(i) Of the costs of the tests;

(ii) That an administrative order entered as a result of the notice and finding of parental responsibility will include the cost of the tests; and

(iii) That DCS may take collection action to collect the genetic testing costs twenty days after the date the NCP receives notice in Washington, or within the time specified in WAC 388-14A-7200, of the test results if the NCP fails to:

(A) Request either a hearing on the issue of reimbursement to DCS for genetic testing costs under WAC 388-14A-3120 or the initiation of a parentage action in superior court; or

(B) Negotiate an agreed settlement.

(iv) If the notice was served in another state, DCS may take collection action according to WAC 388-14A-7200.

(4) When the genetic tests do not exclude the NCP from being the father, the NCP must reimburse the department for the costs of the tests.

(5) When the paternity tests exclude the NCP from being the father, DCS must:

(a) File a copy of the results with the state center for health statistics;

[Title 388 WAC—p. 238]

(b) Withdraw the notice and finding of parental responsibility; and

(c) Request the dismissal of any pending action based on the notice and finding of parental responsibility.

(6) RCW 74.20A.056 does not require DCS to arrange or pay for genetic testing when:

(a) Such tests were previously conducted; or

(b) A court order establishing paternity has been entered.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.20A.055, 74.20A.056, 01-03-089, § 388-14A-8300, filed 1/17/01, effective 2/17/01. Formerly WAC 388-11-048 and 388-11-220.]

WAC 388-14A-8400 Does the division of child support have the right to approve my child support order before the court enters it? (1) If the department is providing or has provided cash assistance to the family, parties to a court order must give the division of child support (DCS) twenty calendar days prior notice of the entry of any final order and five days prior notice of the entry of any temporary order in any proceeding involving child support or maintenance, because the department has a financial interest based on an assignment of support rights under RCW 74.20.330 or the state has a subrogated interest under RCW 74.20A.030.

(2) Either party may serve notice on DCS, by personal service on, or mailing by any form of mail requiring a return receipt to, the office of the attorney general.

(3) If you don't give sufficient notice before entering the support order, DCS may ask the prosecuting attorney or attorney general to vacate the terms of the support order.

(4) DCS or the department are not entitled to terms for a party's failure to serve the department within the time requirements for this section, unless the department proves that the party knew that the department had an assignment of support rights or a subrogated interest and that the failure to serve the department was intentional.

WAC 388-14A-8500 Can the division of child support issue subpoenas? (1) The division of child support (DCS) issues subpoenas requiring the production of documents or records, or appearance of witnesses, under RCW 34.05.588 and 74.04.290.

(2) Compliance with DCS subpoenas is enforced under RCW 34.05.588 and 74.20A.350.

WAC 388-15-009 What is child abuse or neglect?

Child abuse or neglect means the injury, sexual abuse, sexual exploitation, negligent treatment, or maltreatment of a child under circumstances which indicate that the child's health, welfare, and safety is harmed. An abused child is a child who has been subjected to child abuse or neglect as defined in this section.

(1) Physical abuse means the nonaccidental infliction of physical injury or physical mistreatment on a child. Physical abuse includes, but is not limited to, such actions as:

- (a) Throwing, kicking, burning, or cutting a child;
- (b) Striking a child with a closed fist;
- (c) Shaking a child under age three;
- (d) Interfering with a child's breathing;
- (e) Threatening a child with a deadly weapon;
- (f) Doing any other act that is likely to cause and which does cause bodily harm greater than transient pain or minor temporary marks or which is injurious to the child's health, welfare and safety.

(2) Physical discipline of a child, including the reasonable use of corporal punishment, is not considered abuse when it is reasonable and moderate and is inflicted by a parent or guardian for the purposes of restraining or correcting the child. The age, size, and condition of the child, and the location of any inflicted injury shall be considered in determining whether the bodily harm is reasonable or moderate. Other factors may include the developmental level of the child and the nature of the child's misconduct. A parent's belief that it is necessary to punish a child does not justify or permit the use of excessive, immoderate or unreasonable force against the child.

(3) Sexual abuse means committing or allowing to be committed any sexual offense against a child as defined in the criminal code. The intentional touching, either directly or through the clothing, of the sexual or other intimate parts of a child or allowing, permitting, compelling, encouraging, aiding, or otherwise causing a child to engage in touching the sexual or other intimate parts of another for the purpose of gratifying the sexual desire of the person touching the child, the child, or a third party. A parent or guardian of a child, a person authorized by the parent or guardian to provide child-care for the child, or a person providing medically recognized services for the child, may touch a child in the sexual or other intimate parts for the purposes of providing hygiene, child care, and medical treatment or diagnosis.

(4) Sexual exploitation includes, but is not limited to, such actions as allowing, permitting, compelling, encouraging, aiding, or otherwise causing a child to engage in:

- (a) Prostitution;
- (b) Sexually explicit, obscene or pornographic activity to be photographed, filmed, or electronically reproduced or transmitted; or

(c) Sexually explicit, obscene or pornographic activity as part of a live performance, or for the benefit or sexual gratification of another person.

(5) Negligent treatment or maltreatment means an act or a failure to act on the part of a child's parent, legal custodian, guardian, or caregiver that shows a serious disregard of the consequences to the child of such magnitude that it creates a clear and present danger to the child's health, welfare, and safety. A child does not have to suffer actual damage or physical or emotional harm to be in circumstances which create a clear and present danger to the child's health, welfare, and safety. Negligent treatment or maltreatment includes, but is not limited, to:

(a) Failure to provide adequate food, shelter, clothing, supervision, or health care necessary for a child's health, welfare, and safety. Poverty and/or homelessness do not constitute negligent treatment or maltreatment in and of themselves;

(b) Actions, failures to act, or omissions that result in injury to or which create a substantial risk of injury to the physical, emotional, and/or cognitive development of a child; or

(c) The cumulative effects of consistent inaction or behavior by a parent or guardian in providing for the physical, emotional and developmental needs of a child's, or the effects of chronic failure on the part of a parent or guardian to perform basic parental functions, obligations, and duties, when the result is to cause injury or create a substantial risk of injury to the physical, emotional, and/or cognitive development of a child.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031, 74.04.050, and chapter 26.44 RCW. 02-15-098 and 02-17-045, § 388-15-009, filed 7/16/02 and 8/14/02, effective 2/10/03.]

WAC 388-15-011 What is child abandonment? (1) A Parent or guardian abandons a child when the parent or guardian is responsible for the care, education, or support of a child and:

(a) Deserts the child in any manner whatever with the intent to abandon the child;

(b) Leaves a child without the means or ability to obtain one or more of the basic necessities of life such as food, water, shelter, clothing, hygiene, and medically necessary health care; or

(c) Forgoes for an extended period of time parental rights, functions, duties and obligations despite an ability to exercise such rights, duties, and obligations.

(2) Abandonment of a child by a parent may be established by conduct on the part of a parent or guardian that demonstrates a substantial lack of regard for the rights, duties, and obligations of the parent or guardian or for the health, welfare, and safety of the child. Criminal activity or incarceration of a parent or guardian does not constitute abandonment in and of themselves, but a pattern of criminal activity or repeated or long-term incarceration may constitute abandonment of a child.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031, 74.04.050, and chapter 26.44 RCW. 02-15-098 and 02-17-045, § 388-15-011, filed 7/16/02 and 8/14/02, effective 2/10/03.]

(2) CPS must provide an in-person response to alleged victims and must attempt an in-person response to the alleged perpetrator of child abuse and neglect in referrals assessed at moderate to high risk.

(3) CPS may refer reports assessed at low to moderately low risk to an alternative response system.

(4) CPS may interview a child, outside the presence of the parent, without prior parental notification or consent (RCW 26.44.030(10)).

(6) CPS may photograph the alleged child victim to document the physical condition of the child (RCW 26.44.050).

(7) CPS must establish in procedure, timelines for the completion of investigations and standards for written findings.

WAC 388-25-0018 What is the agency's goal as to the maximum number of children who remain in foster care in excess of twenty-four months? The placement goal for the foster care program is to limit the number of all children who remain in care in excess of twenty-four months to no more than thirty-five percent of the foster care population.

(1) Children whom the CA social worker determines, after assessment, will not be helped in out-of-home care.

(2) Youths ages twelve through seventeen years of age in conflict with their parents and who have not received family reconciliation services, except families receiving adoption support that have already received extensive counseling services.

(3) Youths ages twelve through seventeen years of age whose family has received family reconciliation services and parents are unwilling to have the youths at home solely due to misbehavior.

(4) Youths for whom the primary placement issue is community protection, including sexual predators covered by the sexually aggressive youth (SAY) statute, RCW 74.13.-075.

(5) Youths who are unwilling to live in the home of parents who are willing to have them at home, when this is the only presenting problem.

(6) Youths who have a mental illness and are a danger to themselves or others as defined by a mental health professional (see chapter 71.34 RCW).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0020, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

(4) A juvenile court has made a determination of dependency for a child and has issued a disposition order under RCW 13.34.130 that removes the child from the child's home.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0025, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0030 When may the department serve a child through a behavior rehabilitation services program? (1) The department may serve a child through the behavior rehabilitation services (BRS) program only when the CA social worker has assessed the child's and family's needs and determined that rehabilitative services are necessary and that this is the most appropriate placement for the child.

(2) The department may only provide financial support for a child's BRS placement when the CA social worker has determined this level of care is necessary, the placement is in a licensed or certified home or facility, the provider meets the department's qualifications, and the department has contracted with the provider for that service.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0030, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0035 What is the department's authority to remove a child from a behavior rehabilitation services placement? WAC 388-25-0040 How long may a child served by the department remain in out-of-home placement before a court hearing is held? Within seventy-two hours after a child enters care, a shelter care hearing must be held. Saturdays, Sundays and holidays are excluded in the seventy-two-hour requirement. A court order must be obtained to keep a child in shelter care for longer than thirty days.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0040, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

ment resources, including social supports in the family home, have been considered and eliminated; and

(3) A child's parent may sign a consent for voluntary placement of a child in foster care (if the child is Native American refer to the Indian Child Welfare Act):

WAC 388-25-0055 How long may a voluntary placement last with the department? A voluntary placement must last no longer than one hundred eighty days. By the end of one hundred eighty days, the child must return to the child's parent or guardian unless the juvenile court has made a judicial determination that:

(1) Return to the parent or guardian is contrary to the welfare of the child; and

(2) Continued placement in foster care is in the best interest of the child.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0055, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0060 May the department grant an exception to the length of stay in voluntary placement? (1) The DCFS regional administrator or the regional administrator's designee may grant exceptions to the one hundred eighty-day limit on voluntary placements only:

(a) If the department conducts an administrative review fulfilling the requirements of title 42, United States Code (USC), chapter 675, section 475, and the review chairperson recommends continuation of voluntary placement; and

(b) If a specific date within six months is scheduled for the child to return home; or

(c) The child is seventeen years of age or older.

(2) Exceptions which cause the child to remain in care for longer than twelve months require a court review hearing that meets the dispositional and permanency plan hearing requirements of 42 USC 675, section 475.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0060, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0065 What are the department's placement procedures for an infant residing in foster care with the infant's teen parent? (1) When a teen parent and infant reside in the same facility, the infant's "home" is considered to be the infant's parent's home. Maintenance payments for the teen parent must be increased to provide for the maintenance of the infant. A legal authorization-to-be-placed is not required in order to include an amount sufficient for the infant's maintenance or to issue medical coupons for the infant.

(2) For protection of the infant, a dependency order placing the child in temporary custody of the department may be appropriate. Even if dependency is established, a legal authorization-to-be placed must be obtained to keep the infant in out-of-home care should the teen parent placement setting change so as not to include the infant.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0065, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0070 When does the department authorize foster care payments? The CA social worker authorizes foster care payments when:

(1) The CA social worker documents the need for the type and level of foster care; and

(2) The social worker has documentation showing the department's authority for the placement of the child in foster care as required by WAC 388-25-0025.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0070, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0075 To whom does the department make payment for foster care? (1) The department makes foster care payments only to persons and agencies the department has appropriately licensed and approved, or, if not subject to licensing, the department has certified as meeting the department's licensing requirements, or:

(a) If in another state, persons or agencies meeting the requirements of that state; or

(b) If in a tribal program, persons or agencies meeting the requirements of that tribal program.

(2) The department makes payment for out-of-state foster care placements only after approval from the two state offices involved (see WAC 388-25-0440).

(3) The department may make foster care payments to licensed or certified foster parents and to persons granted dependency guardianship, if the dependency guardians are licensed or certified as foster parents (see RCW 13.34.234).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0075, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0080 Are dependency guardians who are licensed foster parents able to receive payment from more than one source? (1) When the child is eligible for foster care payments and Social Security Act, Title XVI, Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments, or Social Security Act, Title II, Survivor's Benefits, Veterans' Administration (VA) benefits, or other sources of income, the dependency guardian may choose one payment source or the other, but not more than one.

(2) If the dependency guardian chooses to receive foster care payments rather than SSI payments or another source in behalf of the child, the department places SSI benefits or the other cited benefit in an account the department may use to meet the cost of care or special needs of the child in accordance with RCW 74.13.060.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0080, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0085 What happens if the dependency guardian receives payments from more than one source? If the dependency guardian has received payment from SSI or another source as well as foster care, an overpayment has occurred. The department must recover the foster care payments made to the dependency guardian for those months for which the dependency guardian also received SSI or other benefits, as well as foster care payments, in behalf of the child.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0085, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0090 What are the department's expectations for foster care providers to whom the department makes reimbursement for services? (1) Foster care providers are responsible for:

(a) Protecting and nurturing children in a safe, healthy environment that provides positive support and supervision for the child in care;

(b) Taking the child to a physician or nurse practitioner to complete an EPSDT (early and periodic screening, diagnosis and treatment) examination. EPSDT exams must be scheduled within one month of initial placement and annually thereafter.

(c) Reporting to the social worker the fact that an EPSDT examination took place and if the examination showed that further treatment is needed.

(d) Observing and sharing information about the child's behavior, school and medical status, response to parental visits, and the child's growth and development with persons designated by the assigned CA social worker (see chapter 388-148 WAC).

(h) Providing assistance to the social worker, when working with the biological parents is part of the service plan, by assisting in family visitation and modeling effective parenting behavior for the family.

(2) Therapeutic foster care and rehabilitative service providers are responsible for additional therapeutic services as defined in their service agreements or contracts with the department.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0090, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

(2) The department has final responsibility for determining initial and ongoing eligibility for financial support.

(3) Payment for children served through the behavior rehabilitation services program is limited to those children who are ages six to eighteen.

(4) The department maintains control and oversight of placements and payments through written agreements with the child placing agencies, quarterly reports, and planning meetings with the agency or facility.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0100, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

(2) The department pays for each night a child resides in foster care.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0105, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0110 What is the effective date for termination of foster care payments? (1) The department ends payment on the day before the child actually leaves the foster home or facility. The department does not pay for the last day that a child is in a foster care home or facility.

(2) The department terminates family foster care payments for children in family foster care effective the date:

(a) The child no longer needs foster care; or

(b) The child no longer resides in foster care except as provided in WAC 388-25-0180; or

(c) The child reaches the age of eighteen. If the child continues to attend, but has not finished, high school or an equivalent educational program at the age of eighteen and has a need for continued family foster care services, the department may continue payments until the date the child completes the high school program or equivalent educational or vocational program. The department must not extend payments for a youth in care beyond age twenty.

(3) The department must terminate foster care payments for children in the behavior rehabilitative services program effective the date:

(a) The child no longer needs rehabilitative services; or

(b) The child is no longer served through contracted rehabilitative services program except as provided in WAC 388-25-0030; or

(c) The child reaches the age of eighteen and continues to attend, but has not finished, high school or an equivalent educational program and has a need for continued rehabilita-

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0110, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0115 What are the department's general standards for family foster care reimbursement? (1) The standards of payment explained in WAC 388-25-0120 through 388-25-0215 are the basis for the reimbursement rates the department provides for care of children placed in licensed foster care under the department's direct supervision and those children under the supervision of child placing agencies.

(2) The CA social worker must determine the payment plan for all types of family foster care through a review of the needs and resources of each child and the activities of the foster parent which meet those needs.

(3) The CA social worker must discuss any plan above the basic foster care rate with the foster parent so that the foster parent knows:

- (a) The basis for payment;
- (b) Any increased expectations of the foster parent for service delivery or participation in the case plan for the child; and
- (c) The amount included for each item of the child's care.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0115, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0120 What is the department's reimbursement schedule for regular family foster care? (1) The foster care basic rate reimburses the foster parent for costs incurred in the care of the child for room and board, clothing, and personal incidentals. The amount of reimbursement varies according to the age of the child.

(2) The department's children's administration may approve exceptions to the basic rates.

(3) To determine the payment rates, the department considers the child's birth date to be the first day of the month in which the child's birthday occurs.

(4) The standard reimbursement rate allowed is limited to the scheduled rate in existence for the time period(s) in which the child was placed in the foster home.

(5) The department's foster care reimbursement rates are as follows:

Effective Date*

July 2000

| | | | |
|----------|----------|----------|------------|
| Age | 0-5 | 6-11 | 12 & Older |
| Totals | $351.31 | $426.81 | $499.95 |

*Schedule will be updated to comply with mandated changes.

Totals include room and board, clothing allowance, and personal incidentals.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0120, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0125 When may the department authorize a clothing allowance for a child in out-of-home care? When the department or a contracted child placing agency places a child in foster care or, at other times, the social worker may authorize a clothing allowance to supplement a child's clothing supply, when necessary. This allowance may not exceed two hundred dollars unless authorized by the DCFS regional administrator or the regional administrator's designee. The allowance must be based on the needs of the child and be provided within available funds. Clothing purchased becomes the property of the child and will be sent with the child if placement changes.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0125, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0130 What are the standards for use and reimbursement of receiving home care? The department or a child placing agency uses receiving homes to place a child in a licensed family foster home on a temporary, emergent, or interim basis to provide sufficient time for the development of a plan. This planning includes the involvement of the child, the child's parent(s), and the child's extended family whenever possible.

(1) A DCFS regional administrator must designate family foster homes which are to receive child placements twenty-four hours per day. These homes provide care for children on a temporary, emergent, or interim basis as regular or specialized receiving homes.

(2) If the regional administrator designates a receiving home to be available on a twenty-four-hour basis, the regional administrator must specify this designation in a written agreement with the foster parent. Regular foster homes may also agree to accept children on an emergent basis.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0130, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0135 What are the types of receiving homes and what children are served in them? There are two types of receiving homes: Regular and specialized. Each type of home provides the following services:

(1) Regular receiving homes for children age birth through age seventeen; and

(2) Specialized receiving homes for children who require more intensive supervision than normally provided to children in foster care. The child may require more intensive supervision due to behavioral problems, developmental disability, emotional disturbance, erratic and unpredictable behavior or medical condition (not on personal care or medically intensive DDD program).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0135, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0140 Who decides on the number of receiving homes needed in an area? Each DCFS regional administrator must decide on the number of receiving homes needed for the regional administrators' respective geographical areas.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0140, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0145 How long may a child stay in a receiving home? (1) The department limits a child's maximum length of stay in a receiving home:

(a) Maximum length of stay for regular receiving homes is thirty consecutive days per placement;

(b) Maximum length of stay for specialized receiving homes is fifteen-consecutive days per placement.

(2) The DCFS regional administrator or the administrator's designee may approve extensions of a child's stay in a licensed family foster home paid at a receiving care rate beyond the limits contained in subsection (1) of this section.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0145, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0150 What are the rates for reimbursement to receiving home providers? The current reimbursement rates, effective July 1, 2000, to receiving homes are:

| Type of Home | Monthly Retention Fee - Per Bed | Daily Rate per Child in Care |
|-------------------------------|------------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| Regular receiving (all ages) | $51.12 | $19.06 |
| Special receiving, ages 12-17 | $102.99 | $26.08 |

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0150, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0155 How are rates authorized for reimbursement to receiving home providers? (1) The DCFS regional administrator or the administrator's designee may authorize payments in excess of the standard for individual child-specific situations. The department may, within available funds, purchase clothing and personal incidentals for the child in receiving home care as needed.

(2) The department does not pay the receiving home rate if the child is expected to stay in this placement for longer than thirty days.

(3) The department may make reimbursement for assessment and interim care through the behavior rehabilitative services program.

(4) The department may, at the direction of the DCFS regional administrator or designee, use qualified, contracted behavior rehabilitative services to provide assessment or interim care for children and youth requiring that level of care as determined by the CA social worker. Unless the department and the provider make an alternate agreement, the department must pay for contracted rehabilitative services at the facility's contracted daily rate for interim or assessment care.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0155, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0160 What are the reimbursement standards for payments above the basic foster care rate?

(1) In addition to the basic rate for regular family foster care specified in this chapter, the department may reimburse an additional amount for the specialized care of a child with special needs.

(2) For the child to be eligible for payment above the basic rate, the department's social worker must assess the child's behaviors, intellectual functioning, and/or physical disabilities and determine, with the child's foster parent or prospective foster parent, what services the foster parent will provide to meet the child's special needs.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0160, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

(2005 Ed.)

WAC 388-25-0170 What other services and reimbursements may be provided for the support of children placed in foster care by the department? (1) The department may provide additional support services and reimbursements to meet specific needs of the child in care or of the family foster home provider. The department must approve all services and reimbursement amounts in advance of the service being provided. Services are subject to the availability of funds.

(2) Additional services may include the following:

(a) Receiving home contracted and noncontracted respite - This service for receiving homes includes child care, relief care, extra supervision for special activities, as well as basic respite care. Respite is subject to the availability of respite homes. Respite contracted but not available will be reimbursed to the regular foster parent.

(b) Receiving home transportation - This service reimburses receiving home parents for selected transportation costs, such as demands for training or special appointments for a child in care. The department makes direct payment to the receiving home parent.

(c) Receiving home contracted support services - These services are intended to enhance the capacity of regular and specialized receiving homes by increasing the skills of the provider to provide a stable emergency placement. The services include consultation for obtaining resources, training, case conferences, and visits to a child's parents' home by the receiving home provider.

(d) Receiving home ancillary support services - These services are reimbursements for activities or items enabling receiving homes to provide extra services to youth in care. Examples of such supports include craft items, recreational materials, and tickets to events.

(e) Hourly or daily foster care respite - Respite care by the hour or day for receiving and regular foster homes. The department may reimburse foster parents for relief supervision or additional supervision for special activities. The department defines "day" as either an eight-hour period or a block of time, up to twenty-four hours, paid as an eight-hour day. "Light" is defined as care provision that is not significantly different from that required by a child in the general population. However, the child may require some additional attention or assistance. The appropriate rate is determined after assessing the child's care requirement as either "light" or "heavy." "Heavy" is defined as care that requires the caregiver to provide intensive attention or total assistance. Regular intervention is needed to meet the needs of the child. Children having areas of need that are "light" in one area and "heavy" in another are assessed as "moderate."

(f) Hourly or daily agency foster care respite - Respite care by the hour or day for receiving and ongoing foster homes. Care may be child specific or related to all the children in the foster home. The department reimburses agencies for purchase of relief supervision and additional supervision for special activities.

(g) Foster care clothing and personal incidentals - The monthly rate that the department may reimburse to defray the cost of clothing and personal items for children in selected circumstances when the department is not paying for the child's board and room. The department makes reimbursement to the foster home or facility.

(h) Foster care personal incidentals - An amount to reimburse foster parents for purchase of personal items needed by a child in receiving care.

(i) Foster care medical services - Reimbursement arranged and made for medical services not covered by the department's regular health insurance program (e.g., orthodontia or corrective surgery) for a child in foster care placement.

(j) Foster care physical examination/report - This medical service is used after the decision to place the child has been made and if the child is ineligible for an EPSDT examination or does not have private medical insurance. The service includes arranging and making payment for a physical examination and/or report necessary for a child in or needing foster care placement.

(k) Foster care psychological evaluation and report - The department may arrange for this service and make payment to a psychologist, psychiatrist, or other appropriate person for an evaluation of a child, parent, or foster parent. The department authorizes this service to assist in preventing a foster care placement or making an appropriate placement to implement a permanent plan.

(l) Foster care psychological treatment and report - The department arranges this service and makes payment to a psychologist, a psychiatrist, or other appropriate person for treatment of a child and/or parent(s) necessary to assist in preventing out-of-home placement, making an appropriate out-of-home placement, or implementing a permanent plan. This service includes a written report of the treatment goals, progress and outcomes.

(m) Foster care transportation - Reimbursement for the cost of transportation by car and associated expenses incurred by or on behalf of a child in foster care, receiving family reconciliation services (FRS), adoption services, or for return of a runaway. The department makes reimbursement directly to a vendor or to a foster parent.

(n) Foster care business account transportation - Reimbursement for the cost of air and rail transportation and associated expenses incurred by or on behalf of a child in foster care, receiving family reconciliation services (FRS), adoption services, or for return of a runaway. The department makes reimbursement directly to a vendor and charges expenses to the business transportation account (BTA).

(o) Parent-child visitation - Transportation and visitation services for children in out-of-home care. Services include:

- (i) Transportation to and from scheduled visits;
- (ii) Monitoring and supervision of family visits; and
- (iii) Reports regarding the nature and progress of visits and the parent/child interaction.

(3) The rates for the specialized services described in this section are contained in the following table. The rates are effective July 1, 2000.

| Specialized Services and Reimbursement Rates | | |
|--|-------------------|----------|
| Receiving Care Service | Rating* | Per Hour |

(2) The department will not make the payment when the only need for foster care arises from the need for an education. The department will only pay the cost of foster care when one of the conditions of WAC 388-25-0030 applies.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0175, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0180 Under what circumstances may the department provide reimbursement for foster care if the child is temporarily absent from the foster home or facility? (1) When a child is temporarily absent from a foster home or a facility to which the department is paying the cost of placement, the department may pay for the actual number of days absent, if the number of consecutive days of absence does not go over fifteen days within a thirty-day period. The care provider must notify the DCFS social worker of the absence and whether the absence is planned or unplanned.

(2) The following requirements apply to planned absences:

(a) The care provider must notify the DCFS social worker at least three days in advance of any planned absence. The notification must include the following information:

(c) When there is a planned temporary absence of a child from a foster family home supervised by DCFS, the assigned social worker will participate in the plan.

(3) The following requirements apply to unplanned absence of children from out-of-home care:

(a) The foster care provider must notify the supervising DCFS social worker by the next working day or within eight hours following the child's unplanned absence. Notification may be by a telephone call to the DCFS social worker or the worker's supervisor. The written notification must provide the following information:

- (i) Child's name, age, and home address;

(c) The foster care provider must notify the DCFS social worker or local office of the date of the child's return.

(4) In addition to the preceding requirements, the department places the following limitations on the payments for temporary absences of children from foster care:

WAC 388-25-0185 May the department consider foster care payments to the foster family in determining eligibility for public assistance? When the department or a child placing agency places a child in foster care with a family receiving public assistance under 42 U.S.C. 601, et seq., the department must not consider payment received by the family for the foster child in determining the family's eligibility for public assistance. The department makes payments, including special or exceptional payments, for the child's board, clothing and personal incidentals.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0185, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

(2005 Ed.)

WAC 388-25-0190 What are the department's standards for making foster care payment to a relative providing care to the child served by department? (1) A relative caregiver, licensed or certified as a family foster home under chapter 74.15 RCW and eligible for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) in behalf of the child, may select either foster care or TANF payments in behalf of the child, but not both.

(2) A relative caretaker who is not related to the specified degree defined in RCW 74.15.020 by blood, marriage, or legal adoption may receive foster care payments in behalf of the child if licensed as a foster family home under chapter 74.15 RCW.

(3) A relative caretaker who is not licensed or certified for foster care may apply for TANF.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0190, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0195 How does the department make reimbursement for foster care for a child served by the department who moves out-of-state with the foster family? (1) A child may join a foster family in a move out-of-state only if this move supports achieving a permanency goal as outlined in the child's case plan.

(2) The department and the foster parent must follow CA requirements when a foster child and the licensed foster family moves out-of-state. This may include obtaining permission of the court before the move.

(3) When the foster family moves to another state, the department must arrange with the other state or local social service agency to license and supervise the home and the placement (see chapter 26.34 RCW). The department does not need to make such arrangements for supervision when the family leaves this state during a vacation.

(a) Before the foster family moves from Washington to the new state, the social worker or the foster parent may request a foster home license application from the new state.

(b) If the department and the foster parent are unable to obtain an application for license before the foster family leaves Washington, the foster parent must, upon arrival in the new state of residence, contact the local foster home licensing agency in the new state to apply for a license in that state.

(4) When the foster family moves to another state with a child in the department's custody, the child's DCFS social worker must submit necessary interstate compact on the placement of children (ICPC) application forms to the department's ICPC program manager. The social worker must do this as soon as the foster family has a new residence or address in the new state. The ICPC request must ask that the new state license the family as a foster home and provide ongoing supervision of the child in care.

(5) The department continues payments at the department's current rates until the other state fully licenses the home. After receiving a copy of the foster family home license from the other state, the DCFS supervising social worker authorizes payment at the receiving state's rates (see WAC 388-25-0195).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0195, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

[Title 388 WAC—p. 265]

WAC 388-25-0200 What payment procedures must the department follow for children placed across state borders? (1) When the department places a child into a new placement with a family residing and licensed in another state, the DCFS social worker must obtain the payment rates from that state. Following receipt of the other state's rates, the department will pay that state's rates in accordance with ICPC procedures when:

- (a) Those rates are higher than Washington's rates; and
- (b) The other state identifies its rates to the department.

(2) When the child welfare department in another state places a child, who is a resident of the state of Washington, in foster care the department makes foster care payments at the rate requested by that state.

(3) The CA ICPC program manager must approve out-of-state placement before the department makes payment for foster care.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0200, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0205 How does the department treat the earnings of a child in foster care? The department does not include the earnings of a child in out-of-home care when considering if a child is eligible for a particular funding source nor when determining a child's possible participation in the cost of care.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0205, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0210 How does the department treat resources and unearned income of a child in foster care?

(1) Unearned income includes Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Retirement, Survivors and Disability Insurance (RSDI), veteran's benefits, railroad retirement benefits, inheritances, or any other payments for which the child is eligible, unless specifically exempted by the terms and conditions of the receipt of the income. The department must use income not exempted to cover the child's cost of care, except for resources held in trust for an American Indian child.

(2) Any person, agency or court that receives payments on behalf of a child in out-of-home care must send the payments to the department's division of child support.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0210, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

PART C: PARENTAL SUPPORT OBLIGATION

WAC 388-25-0215 What is the parents' obligation to support their child in foster care? Parents of children in foster care must provide financial support for their child in accordance with rules contained in chapter 388-14A WAC.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0215, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0220 Who has authority to recommend or negotiate amounts for parental participation in the cost of foster care? (1) The department's division of child support determines the amount of parental financial support, except when stated in a superior court order. Chapter 74.20A RCW and chapter 388-14A WAC provide the authority and procedures for the division of child support to collect financial support from the parent to pay for a child in foster care.

(2) Only the division of child support may recommend to the court, on behalf of the department, to establish, raise, lower, release, or forgive support payments for a child placed in foster care. No other agency or staff may make agreements with parent(s) or their representatives regarding this matter.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0220, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0225 What cases must the department refer to the division of child support (DCS)? (1) The DCFS office must refer to the division of child support every foster care placement in which DCFS participates in payment for care, except:

(a) Cases, if any, in which the division of child support has determined it would not be cost effective to pursue collection, including placements of seventy-two hours or less; or

(b) Cases exempt by law from collection action; or

(2) The children's administration must refer to DCS cases in which the department determines that sufficient good cause exists to not pursue collection. The following constitute good cause for requesting that DCS not pursue collection action on foster care cases referred to DCS:

(a) The department's division of developmental disabilities (DDD) has determined that the child is developmentally disabled. DCS still must establish paternity.

(b) The parent or other legally obligated person, or the parent or other person's child, spouse, or spouse's child was the victim of the offense for which the child was committed to the custody of the juvenile rehabilitation administration (JRA) and the child is being placed directly into foster care from a JRA facility until this placement episode closes.

(c) Adoption proceedings for the child are pending in court or the custodial parent is being helped by a private or public agency to decide if the child will be placed for adoption.

(d) The child was conceived as a result of incest or rape and establishing paternity would not be in the child's best interest.

(e) The juvenile or Tribal court in the dependency proceeding finds that the parents will be unable to comply with an agreed reunification plan with the child due to the financial hardship caused by paying child support. The social worker also may determine that financial hardship caused by paying child support will delay or prevent family reunification.

(f) The custodial parent and/or the child may be placed in danger as a result of the presence of or potential for domestic abuse perpetrated by the other parent or responsible person.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0225, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0230 Are adoption support cases exempt from referral to the division of child support (DCS) for collection? Adoption support cases may be referred to DCS. Each case will be reviewed for determination of good cause exemption from collection.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0230, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0235 To whom must parents' send child support payments for their child in foster care? The parents must make all payments for the benefit of the child and/or the costs for a child in out-of-home care to the division of child support, unless a court order directs payment through a clerk of the court. A clerk of the court must send payments, under a court order, to the division of child support.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0235, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0240 Under what circumstances must child care judgment and limited power of attorney for parental support payments be assigned to the department? (1) The department must advise any person or agency having custody of the child that court ordered child support payments are to be received by the department under RCW 74.20A.030 and 74.20A.250.

(2) The person or agency having custody must acknowledge this transferred right to the department by execution of an assignment of judgment and limited power of attorney, which must remain in effect as long as the child receives foster care assistance.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0240, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

PART D: VETERANS' BENEFITS

WAC 388-25-0245 Who receives veterans' benefits for children in foster care? By agreement with the regional office of the veterans' administration, the department may receive benefits on behalf of children who have been placed by court order under the department's supervision or custody.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0245, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

PART E: ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS

WAC 388-25-0250 What limitations exist on administrative hearings regarding foster care payments? The foster care provider, the licensed or certified child placement or care agency, and the parents are not entitled to request an administrative hearing to dispute established rates. Chapters 34.05 and 43.20A RCW, chapters 388-01 and 388-148 WAC, and this chapter provide specific rights to administrative hearings.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0250, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0255 What standards must the department apply to contracted and noncontracted service providers and vendors when the department has identified an overpayment to the provider or vendor? (1) RCW 43.20B.675 provides that all vendors have the right to request a hearing if they have a bona fide overpayment dispute. The department must offer a prehearing conference to all clients and vendors that request an administrative hearing.

(2) Contracted and noncontracted service providers may seek dispute resolution through these rules, under the Administrative Procedure Act and RCW 43.20B.675, with respect to overpayments. However, the following limitations apply:

(a) The right of vendors to seek an administrative hearing to contest alleged overpayments applies only to overpayments for goods or services provided on or after July 1, 1998.

(b) These procedures do not create a right to a hearing where no dispute right previously existed except as provided in RCW 43.20B.675.

(c) These rules limit disputes for foster family and child day care providers to alleged overpayments. Homes and facilities licensed under chapter 74.15 RCW may appeal adverse licensing actions under the provisions of chapter 388-148 or 388-155 WAC, as applicable.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0255, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0260 Do vendor overpayment rules in this chapter also apply to adoptive parents? Adoptive parents who receive assistance through the adoption support program are not vendors within the meaning of the law and do not fall within the scope of this chapter.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0260, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0265 Are there time limitations on identifying and recovering an overpayment? There is no time limit on identifying and initiating recovery of overpayments.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0265, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0270 May overpayments be waived or forgiven? Children's administration employees do not have authority to forgive or waive overpayments nor to offset overpayments from future payments. All such authority rests with the department's office of financial recovery (OFR). Designated CA staff may mediate a disputed payment with the vendor, but final approval for any negotiated proposed settlement rests with OFR.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0270, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0275 Do other governmental organizations have the right to an adjudicative hearing? Governmental organizations, including Indian Tribes, with an inter-local agreement with the department do not have the right to an adjudicative hearing through the office of administrative hearings (OAH). The disputes process described in the agreement between the entity and the department governs the resolution process.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0275, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0280 What steps must a provider or vendor take when requesting an administrative hearing in regards to an overpayment? A provider or vendor must follow the procedure indicated on the department's Vendor Overpayment Notice, DSHS 18-398A(X), dated 07/1998.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0280, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0285 When is payment due on an overpayment? When a vendor files a timely and complete request for an administrative hearing, payment on the overpayment is not due on the amount contested until the office of administrative hearings or its designee makes a final decision about the vendor's liability and any amount due.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0285, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0290 Which is the deciding authority if another WAC rule or the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act conflict with the information in this chapter? The Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.05 RCW, chapter 388-02 WAC, and this chapter govern the proceeding. The provisions in this chapter govern if a conflict exists in chapter 388-02 WAC. Chapter 34.05 RCW is the overall governing authority.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0290, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0295 Who establishes guidelines to identify overpayments and to mediate overpayment disputes? (1) Each DCFS regional administrator, division of licensed resources (DLR) regional manager, or CA division director, as applicable, must establish procedures to provide for consistency in the handling of provider or vendor disputes in accordance with the children's administration prehearing procedures and this chapter.

(2) Staff at the following organizational levels will handle disputes:

(i) Prehearing conferences;

(ii) mediation activities; and

(iii) Administrative hearings.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0295, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

[Title 388 WAC—p. 268]

WAC 388-25-0300 What is the foster parent liability fund? (1) The foster parent liability fund authorized under RCW 74.14B.080 allows for insurance coverage for foster parents licensed under chapter 74.15 RCW. The coverage includes personal injury and property damage caused by foster parents or foster children that occurred while the children were in foster care.

(2) Such insurance covers acts of ordinary negligence but does not cover illegal conduct or bad faith acts taken by foster parents in providing foster care. Monies paid from liability insurance for any claim are limited to the amount by which the claim exceeds the amount available to the claimant from any valid and collectible liability insurance.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0300, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0415 What are the department's expectations for child placing agencies (CPA) to which the department makes reimbursement for services or administrative costs? (1) The department requires that the child placing agency (CPA) be licensed or certified under chapter 74.15 RCW and have a contract with the department for the provision of child placement and related services.

(2) The CPA must document the services provided in a format described by the department in the contract.

(3) When the department agrees to place a child with a CPA, the licensed or certified agency must maintain the license of the foster family home and provide support services to the foster parents. The department will only place and pay for services with an agency with which the department has a contract. The agency must provide payment to the foster family in accordance with this chapter.

(4) The department requires that private agencies bringing children from other countries for adoption remain financially responsible for the child's placement costs if the adoption is not finalized, disrupts prior to finalization, or until the child reaches age eighteen.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0415, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0420 What steps must the department take when a child whose case management responsibility remains with the department is placed in a home certified by a CPA? (1) The DCFS social worker follows regionally-designated procedures for accessing services and sharing responsibility for utilizing child placing agency foster homes.

(2) The CPA and the DCFS social worker must sign a DSHS Private Child Placing Agency Agreement/Child in Foster Care, DSHS 15-190(X). The agreement designates which agency is responsible for case management services, support activities, and specific parts of the service plan while the child is placed in the CPA foster home. The agency representative and the department social worker must review and revise the agreement by mutual agreement at the request of either party.

(3) The CPA must provide the assigned DCFS social worker with quarterly progress reports for each child placed in homes certified by the CPA.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0420, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0425 What activities must a child placing agency provide in order to receive payment from the department? The CPA must undertake the following activities to receive payment from the department:

(1) Accept referrals of children and families from the department and negotiate a child-specific written service agreement with the department;

(2) Provide child and family case management and support activities as agreed;

(3) Document the case management and support activities as described in the contract between the department and the CPA;

(4) Provide adequate quarterly progress reports to the assigned social worker for each child whose placement or other services the department financially supports.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0425, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

[Title 388 WAC—p. 272]

WAC 388-25-0430 Under what conditions and how much will the department reimburse to child placing agencies licensed or certified under chapter 74.15 RCW to provide care to children? (1) The CPA representative must discuss with the department social worker for the child the roles of the agency and the department in the placement, permanency planning, and supervision of the child. The agency representative and the department social worker must also discuss services the department or the agency will provide to the child's parents and extended family.

(2) The CPA must maintain the documentation required by contract to demonstrate all services provided to children in care and for whom the department makes payment.

(3) The department will pay a monthly administrative fee to a CPA if the agency, in addition to supervision of the child, provides services to the child or the child's family.

(4) If the department wants to borrow a CPA-certified home for placement of a child, the department pays the agency for the use of the CPA's foster home with approval of the agency. The department pays the borrowed home fee described in the contract between the department and the agency.

(5) The department will pay a set monthly fee to a child placing agency for a borrowed home if the agency provides supervision services only to the child and no services to the child's family. The department pays this fee only to enable the agency to maintain the foster care license and to provide any related licensing training and support services. This activity includes maintenance of a foster care license for foster parent dependency guardianships in the agency-certified home. The following conditions also apply:

(a) The department may pay for a maximum of two borrowed beds in one foster home.

(b) If one CPA borrows a bed from another CPA, the department will pay only one service fee to one agency for the child. The two private agencies and the department will mutually identify and agree upon the agency the department will pay.

(6) The department may enter into contracts with CPAs to provide intensive treatment and supervision services to children with behavioral, emotional, medical, or developmental disabilities. The department will assess the needs of the child, assign a service level, and pay the rate provided in the contract.

(7) Before making payment for care of a child, the department must determine initial and ongoing eligibility for financial support, approve the placement, and approve the case plan for care of the child and services to the family. The department will document this approval through written agreements, documentary reports, and supervisory conferences with the CPA.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0430, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0435 What steps may the department take if a child placing agency does not meet the requirements of this chapter? (1) In addition to any sanctions included in the department's contract with the CPA, the DCFS social worker must stop payment of the agency administrative fees in accordance with department procedures if the department does not receive the child's report in the time-frame stipulated in WAC 388-25-0425.

(2) The DCFS social worker must inform the regional licenser and contracts coordinator when there are continuing problems with reports.

PART K: INTERSTATE PLACEMENTS

WAC 388-25-0440 What are the department's obligations regarding children placed by the department between states? The department must comply with the interstate compact on the placement of children (ICPC) in the interstate placement of children (see chapter 26.34 RCW).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0440, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

PART L: RELATIVE PLACEMENT

WAC 388-25-0445 Under what circumstances does the department choose a relative as the placement for a child in need of out-of-home care? (1) When the department determines that a child needs to be placed outside the home, the department must search for appropriate relatives to care for the child before considering nonrelative placements. See RCW 74.15.020 for the definition of "relative."

(2) The department reviews and determines the following when selecting a relative placement:

- (a) The child would be comfortable living with the relative;
- (b) The relative has a potential relationship with the child;
- (c) The relative is capable of caring for the child and is willing to cooperate with the permanency plan for the child;
- (d) The relative is able to provide a safe home for the child;
- (e) Each child has his or her own bed or crib if the child remains in the home beyond thirty days.

(3) The department may consider nonrelated family members as potential resources, if these family members become licensed to provide foster care (see RCW 74.15.030).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0445, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0450 Under what circumstances may a relative not be considered as a placement option for a child? The department may exclude relatives who have criminal histories as included in the Adoption and Safe Families Act (ASFA) regulations.

(1) If the department finds that, based on a criminal records check, a court of competent jurisdiction has determined that the relative or a member of the household has been convicted of a felony involving:

- (a) Child abuse or neglect;
- (b) Spousal abuse;
- (c) A crime against a child or children (including child pornography); or
- (d) Crimes involving violence, including rape, sexual assault, or homicide, but not including other physical assault or battery.

(2005 Ed.)

(2) The department may not approve a relative placement if the department finds the relative, or a member of the household, has, within the last five years, been convicted of a felony involving:

- (a) Physical assault;
- (b) Battery; or
- (c) A drug related offense.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0450, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-25-0455 What sources of financial support are available to a relative caring for a child that the department has placed in the relative's home? (1) For relatives needing financial support to care for the child, the social worker may assist the family to apply for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) through the department's local community services office (CSO).

(2) Relatives who are licensed as foster parents may choose to receive foster care payments. The relative must not receive TANF benefits in behalf of the child in care while at the same time receiving foster care payments (see RCW 74.15.030).

(3) A relative who is not a licensed foster parent at the time of placement may apply to become a foster parent as described in chapter 388-148 WAC.

(4) The relative caring for the child in out-of-home placement may apply to be the representative payee for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) or Social Security Administration benefits for the related child living with the relative. However, if the child is a dependent of the state of Washington with custody assigned to the department by the court, the department will usually remain the payee in behalf of the child until the dependency is dismissed.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0455, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

FAMILY SUPPORTS AND RELATIONSHIPS

WAC 388-25-0460 How does the department treat relatives of specified degree with legally free children? (1) The department acknowledges a continuing relationship between relatives of specified degree and children who are legally free where the relatives choose to continue a relationship with the child and the continuing relationship is in the best interest of the child (see RCW 74.15.020 for the definition of relative of specified degree).

(2) Relatives of specified degree remain legal relatives when a child becomes legally free if those relatives wish to maintain a relationship with the child and the assigned social worker determines the continuing relationship is in the best interest of the child.

(3) Department staff must treat relatives of specified degree as the department treats all relatives under the rules of ICPC and the foster care and foster family home licensing programs.

The rights of the affected relatives of specified degree do not extend beyond adoption of the child except through an open adoption agreement (see RCW 26.33.295).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-25-0460, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]
